VOICES RAISED IN PRAISE OF EVERY OTHER SOUTHERN STATE

At the Gathering of Delegates But If Pa metto State is Represented Her Dele-Are Unknow

Philadelphia, Jane 13 - Two important topics occupied the attention of the delegates to the Southern Industrial convention at this morning's session. "The relations of the Southern States to the productive wealth of the nation. was discussed by the govern ors of the various States or their representatives. The speakers set forth the resources of their States for the invest ment of capital and the inducements

Specially appointed delegates presented "The industrial and commercial advantages of cities of the South." The rived late yesterday afternoon and last able to support itself than any other Southern State. Alabama's industries, he said, were rapidly developing, Thousands of dollars are being expended in reopening the gold mines and the production of coal is increasing each year. The earth is richer in minerals and the undeveloped water powers of the State are sufficient to turn all the mills in New England.

Judge B. J. Brown, of Little Rock, said the resources of that State are equal to those of any other State in the over 100 square miles, he said, had never been properly developed.

"Our lumber and timber interests are unexcelled," continued the speaker, "we are third or fourth in the production of cotton. We have not the funds to erect cotton factories. We have what you want. Come with your money and develop it.

John P. Coffin, representing the gov ernor of Florida, said there are still thousands of acres of government property in the State ready for claimants under the homestead act. He spoke of the great advantages of the undeveloped portions of the State and extended an invitation to the North to send men and capital to build up the State of 'undeveloped.' We want you to. you are so inclined, to invest your money. If you don't care to do so we will try to work out our salvation

Congressman Adolph Meyer, of Louisiana, and C. E. Hooker, of Mississippi, spoke for the governors of their States; Gen. J. S. Carr represented North Carolina; Alexander Helper, of Baltimore, spoke for Maryland. Col. Jerome Hill, of Memphis, and Col. Harry Weissinger, of Louisville, made brief addresses. Mayor Riggins, of Waco, Texas, yielded his time to l'rof. H. P. Atwater, of Abilene, Texas, who exhibited samples of the natural products of the State and explained the value of each and the great benefits to investors who will develop these raw materials.

The discussion was ended by John Stewart Bryan, of Richmond, Va., after which a recess was taken.

At the afternoon session the topic. "The industrial and commercial advantages of the cities of the South" was taken up and discussed by the delegates.

Late in the afternoon the ladies accompanying the delegates visited Fairmont park in carriages and the delegates made a tour of inspection of the industrial establishments of the city. Horticultural hall was crowded tonight when Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister arose to address the convention on "American trade with the Orient," Minister Wu was given a flattering reception and his speech was frequently interrupted by rounds of applause. He said in part: "The world today is pervaded with a spirit of commercialism. The cry now everywhere is commercial expansion. This is very good. I am very glad to hear it. It is far better than territorial expansion. This latter expansion in many cases works hardships and does injustice. In making this comparison I do not mean to refer to any nation or to any individual; I am speaking in a general way. Trade and commerce is good for us all; it benefits you and it benefits us; it is a mutual advantage." "There are those who for some trade concession, make an excuse to seize. territory, and there are merchants, and these belong to the great numerous class who are sincere in their trade, who wish to give what they take, they earnestly deal in what they possess.

ket for your people. We consume many things that we do not make."

Continuing, Mr. Wu said China's in ports of American cotton were increas ing every year. He said it had been argued that China was economical and would not purchase many American manufactures especially those termeluxuries. Human nature, he said, i never satisfied and the Chinese will buy many things when they come to know the use of them. "Commerce, said Mr. Wu, "makes friends, coments friendship and maintains peace Therefore by extending your conmerce you will be indirectly maintain. ing the peace of the world."

Minister Wu was followed by Mr 8. M. Horner, president of the local Council of Women of New Orleans who delivered an interesting address on "Women's Work for the Industrial Therefore you Union. The zinc fields, comprising should give due and deliberate consideration as how to obtain the best results for the many that you have in your district.

You should endeavor to create an educational interest in the school: try t · make peace where there is strife and confusion; seek to infuse life and inspiration in the school if it has become dry and monotonous. By adopting this and striving to this end your school will flourish and prosper.

Now is the time to employ teachers for next session. Therefore arge upon all trustees in this county to elect their respective teachers for next year at the earliest possible convenience. The present teacher should be reelected, unless there are substantial reasons for a change. When you get a good teacher try to retain him, or her, for good teachers are of particular value, and a serted that with Georgia's variety of change might be a risky experiment. One particular reason why the present teacher should be retained belief. He briefly sketched the history | provided he or she, has given satisfacof the State and detailed the develop- tory and efficient service, is that the education of children if an orderly process, that the work of each year should "If I had to write one word over the be intelligently built upon the work of South," he said, "that word would preceeding year. Employ your teacher now, and if your district has money for its credit, it will be well for you to pay five, or ten dollars of his, expenses to attend the summer school in August. Now in regard to the appointment of trustees, the law places this duty exclusively to the discretion of the County Board. It has been, however, a custom to meet and recommend their trustees. I will appoint the trustees the first Tuesday in July, and any school wishing to recommend their trustees will do so before that time. The Board will give your recommendations careful and deliberate consideration, but is not bound to approve or accept all of them.

Very respectfully, EUG. S. WERTS, Co. Supt. Ed.

Dots from St. Philip's.

I once more take pleasure in writing to the Herald. I was not able to write last week.

A few weeks ago Josh Trump, of Newberry, paid us a pleasant visit. He said that Kalula should have electric lights and waterworks erected.

The people are busy gathering their wheat. Wheat crops are fine in this section. We have been having a great deal of rain and the grass has begun to move I think some of the farmers will have to put up a surrender flag.

There has been a great deal of sickness in our community. We are expecting several marriages the way our Kalula boys ars sailing around.

The boys are going to reorganize their debating society. We enjoyed a musical entertainment at the Kinard girls residence June 1. The music was grand. We also had some beautiful singing.

We are glad to see garden vegitables coming in. The cotton crops are looking fine in this section. My idea is that the people are putting too much of their fertile soil in cotton, for I believe it will bring five cents next fall.

Colony News.

We certainly have had plenty of rain since I last met with you in the news circle, though the clouds have disappeared now, and we are have some real leasant weather.

The farmers are beginning to get busy harvesting, and seem delighted with the grain prospect, especially the wheat.

As commencement comes on one of our preaching days, we will not have preaching at Colony until the first Sunday in July.

Some of us attended the commence ment exercises of the Prosperity graded school last Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Tuesday evening's program consisted of the exercises of the graduating class. On Wednesday evening Rev. Dr. Pell, of Columbia, made an address, which was elevating in its meaning, and clothed with such lanluage as to merit attention. Mrs. Katie Griffin, one of oldest ladies in this community, is seriously ill at present. If it be His will, we trust she will soon regain her lost strength. Good will to all. Violet. June 8, 1901.
