GOOD ROADS.

We are glad to note that our contemporary, the Observer, favors the use of the county chain gang on permanent roads. Instead of wasting time in repairing roads, the Herald and News has advocated such a course ever since there has been a chain gang and since then there was no county chain gang. We believe the best use to which the State convicts could be put was to build permanent roads.

The trouble with the county chain gang is that it is not large enough to do any great deal and is such a varying quantity that we can never count on certain results. It should be supplemented by a force from the penitentiary, but even if the chain gang should only build one mile of good road in one year, it would be worth more than having the force flounder away its time on repairing roads, which work has to be done over and over again.

As a matter of fact we think we should have good roads and the building of them should be let to contract and the State should pay out of the county treasury. We could get a better thing than to be obliged to depend on a chain gang which would not be understood as opposing or maintaining the work that can be done by the chain gang for many counties. Railroad for instance, there are already good roads, but from Columbia in several directions there are several miles of excellent road over which it is a comfort to drive and these roads were built by the county chain gang. This could be done elsewhere just as well.

The personal controversy between Mr. James A. Hoyt, Jr., of the State and Mr. Lewis Appelt of the Manning Times seems to have ended without bloodshed. Mr. Hoyt called Mr. Appelt all sorts of ugly names and in the same paper it was stated that he had tried to shoot him on the shore for a couple of weeks. It was not stated to what point. The proof he brought to prove the ugly things he said about Mr. Appelt may convince his own mind that he had made good his assertion, but to our mind it was far from satisfactory.

The controversy, as we remember, started about the McArthur Times and Mr. Hoyt's charges of plagiarism and some other things. The controversy was not about the right of Mr. Hoyt to write for the Manning Times, but about the right of Mr. Hoyt to write for the Manning Times. The Manning Times is a newspaper and Mr. Hoyt is a writer. It is not the business of the Manning Times to publish anything that Mr. Hoyt writes. It is the business of the Manning Times to publish what it chooses to publish.

It is very painful to be obliged to mention the name of a man who has been so long in the news. It is always painful to mention the name of a man who has been so long in the news. The familiar sound of our school bell is heard again. School opened last Monday morning with good attendance. Miss Bettie Werts is visiting Rev. Jas. D. Kinnard's family at Leesville. Miss Julia Matthews, of Ninety-Six, is visiting relatives in this section. Don't forget the barbecue at Mr. J. M. Schumpert's home on next Friday for the benefit of Mt. Pilgrim church. Go and help out a good cause. Some of our boys went to Saluda River a few nights ago on a fishing expedition. They report a nice time and of course a mess of fish.

A colored man who is running a farm on Mr. J. A. C. Kibler's place had a mule to die a few days ago. We have been blessed with good refreshing rains and crops look much improved. A good many peas are being planted and sown. Early corn will be much improved. Master Arthur Lee Wheeler, of the Utopia section, is visiting in the community. Miss Pessie Fagle, of Little Mountain, is visiting her sister, Mrs. B. L. Miller. Mrs. G. E. Latimer and children, of Chester, are visiting Mr. A. A. Nates' family. Some of our public roads haven't been worked since last fall and in places they are in a rough condition. We hope to see the roads worked now when the crops get laid by.

Prof. H. M. Henry spent Saturday and Sunday at his home. While on my way to Newberry Monday I noticed the crops along the road had made quite an improvement since the rain. The crops generally are clean. A Poor Millionaire. Lately starved in London because he could not digest his food. Early use of Dr. King's New Life Pills would have saved him. They strengthen the stomach, aid digestion, promote assimilation, improve appetite. Price 25c. Money back if not satisfied. Sold by all druggists.

A SPECTACULAR MEETING.

Of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Excellent Address by Miss Louella and Delegates. Election of Officers.

The meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the South Carolina Conference, M. E. Church South, which closed here yesterday morning, was one of the most pleasant and successful meetings in the history of the society, and this is the generally expressed opinion of all the delegates who attended. The members who compose this society are all hard workers, and are giving their time, their money and many of them their lives for the cause of foreign missions, the cause which they have so much at heart.

Friday morning was the time for the report of officers. We have not space to give all the reports, but we give a full synopsis of the report of Mrs. J. W. Lambert, Corresponding Secretary, as showing the work which this society is accomplishing.

In this first annual session of the Conference Woman's Missionary Society of the twentieth century, we come with a glad heart to greet you, my dear friends and co-workers. We have witnessed the close of a century of the most wonderful inventions and discoveries in the history of the world, and also the Missionary Century.

We are here before God in this beautiful new church to speak of the glorious honor of his majesty, and of thy wondrous works, and talk of thy power.

THE ORGANIZATION OF THE SOCIETY. The South Carolina Conference met in Newberry, 1878. Bishop W. M. Wightman presiding, and the sessions were held in the Baptist church, Monday afternoon, December 10, 1878. Dr. A. W. Wilson, now Bishop, met the ladies in the dear old Methodist church for the purpose of organizing a Woman's Missionary Society (Foreign was added afterwards). He opened the meeting and explained the work to be done by the Society. Forty names were secured. Some of the charter members are present at this meeting. They have passed through the gates into the City. Mrs. W. M. Wightman was requested to preside. Two of the officers, your president and corresponding secretary, have been continued in office up to this time.

With the cooperation and encouragement of our now sainted Bishop Wightman and the preachers of the Conference the number of societies organized the first year was marvelous. In 1879 there were 22 organized with 225 members and they contributed $1,500.11.

The first annual meeting was held in Charleston, S. C., April 24, 1880. This is said to have been the first public meeting ever held in this State presided over and conducted by women. For six years the South Carolina Conference Society was the banner in number of auxiliaries, numbers, and contributions, and by her good works conferences were provoked to greater zeal and larger contributions.

The sixth annual session convened in Newberry July 8-9, 1885. Through the cordial invitation of the City of Newberry it returns to the place of its birth to hold the twenty-second annual session, now a full grown organization. We come to render an account of the work of the year which closed with March, 1901, and here we will raise our "Ebenzer," for "hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

All has not been done for which we planned, and hoped to accomplish. Twenty societies have been organized. There has been some increase in the membership and contributions. As a number of small societies made no reports they have been discontinued. The Twentieth Century thank offerings of the Society amounted to $2,227.50. One hundred shares of stock were taken by societies and individuals in the Laura Haywood Home and School in Socooch, China. The balance has been given to Cuba and the Mary Keener Institute in the City of Mexico.

For many years we have given $1500 for new work. Owing to the pressure to raise the Twentieth Century Fund the whole amount was not paid. The Board urged the secretaries to increase their pledge so that the new missionaries could be sent out. Your secretaries pledged $2000 for you. We must not fail this year as money is to be used in sending out and supporting our own young ladies. The South Georgia Conference Society supports seven missionaries.

OUR MISSIONARIES. Miss Johnnie Sanders, of Union, has been in China nearly five years and now has charge of Clifton Boarding School in Shanghai. At the last letter from her there were 45 pupils in the school. Miss June Nicholson, of Edgefield, will go to China in September and Miss Della V. Wright, of Anderson, will sail for Brazil in a short time. Specials supported in the Conference Society are as follows: Palmetto day school, in Shanghai; Wang Daung day school, two Bible women and twenty scholarships. This has been the most successful year in the history of our Palmetto day school. There are sixty boys in the school, their ages ranging from 7 to 20 years. Our society gives $100 a year towards the support of this school. The day school at Wang Daung is in successful operation, did not close during the excitement and has 86 pupils. Supported by Bethel Society.

JUVENILE WORK. We report 100 societies, 2,692 members, contributed $1,307, and 848 subscribers to Little Worker. Seven juvenile and two young people's societies have been organized.

DISTRICT WORK. It is a law that annual meetings be held in every district. I have attended five of these meetings and know that they do good. OUR PERIODICALS. The circulation of the Woman's Missionary Advocate and the Little Worker ought to be much larger in our society. We would urge presidents and lady managers to change the agents when there is a falling off in subscribers. We must read missionary literature to understand the condition of the heathen and to know the work our missionaries are doing.

THE STUDENTS' LOAN FUND. In which your secretary is greatly interested amounts to $37.30. $3.00 received during the year. This is to assist any student to prepare for foreign mission work by attending the Seavitt Bible and Training school. Donations received with thanks. In conclusion, let us adopt Bishop Hendrix's thrilling appeal: "Let our cry be Forward to Christ; Christ is in the van; Christ is on the firing line; Christ is where the battle is being waged and where the battle is being won, and the great cry of the firing line is close up, close up, close up. Forward to Christ; close ranks there under him. With his scarred hand pointing to where we are to take our place in the great battle line; let us do our part on the great firing line until the great victory is won and the kingdoms of this world have become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ."

THE PUBLIC SERVICES. All the evening services have been largely attended by the people of the town. The Lutheran church has been crowded every night. Friday night Miss A. M. Barnes, of Summerville, the editor of the Little Worker made an address on the Forward Movement. Miss Jane Nicholson, who is to go to China as a missionary in September, also made a talk. Both these addresses were interesting and thoughtful and received the attention of the large audience. Saturday night Miss Emma Gary, of Elberton, Ga., who has been in China teaching for seven years, and is at home on leave of absence, made a talk on the political situation in China and on the needs of the people of that country. Miss Gary is an engaging talker, and her addresses are always listened to with interest and pleasure. Sunday morning the sermon to the Missionary Society was preached in the opera house by Rev. Dr. Tarbox, who has been for a long time a missionary in Brazil. Sunday afternoon a children's mass meeting was held in the opera house. This meeting was largely attended, especially by the children. The 113th Psalm was recited by little Miss Lucille Cavannah and the welcome given by little Miss Ernestine Wicker. Interesting talks were made by Miss Barnes, Miss Jane Nicholson, Miss Emma Gary, and Rev. Mr. Tarbox. ELECTION OF OFFICERS. The old officers were re-elected as follows: President—Mrs. M. D. Wightman, Charleston, S. C. Vice-Presidents—Mrs. E. S. Herbert, Orangeburg, S. C. and Mrs. W. L. Walt, Summerville, S. C. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. J. W. Lambert, Magnolia, S. C. Recording Secretary—Miss I. D. Martin, Columbia, S. C. Treasurer—Mrs. J. W. Greene, Greenwood, S. C. Conference Society Librarian—Mrs. R. W. Barber, Blackstock, S. C. The following are the District Secretaries: Charleston—Mrs. M. S. Pemberton, Charleston, S. C. Cokesbury—Mrs. M. C. Owens, Abbeville, S. C. Columbia—Mrs. Mark Toney, Johnston, S. C. Florence—Mrs. E. THE WAY OF A CANDIDATE.

While some of our citizens are going to the springs and the mountains, and others to the seashore, and while the world at large is devising ways and means for a livelihood, a gentleman in this city contents himself in allowing his thoughts in idle moments to wander to the "promising" candidate, and he wonders to his neighbors how he will do next campaign year—he, the promising one. The wondering gentleman tells an amusing story of how he was treated by numerous "seekers" in the late war between the Ins and Outs, and what he tells makes Tom, George and Harry and their horses laugh. It is a good story and worth relating, and should be recorded for reference in the next war. The author of the story is Mr. J. H. Hair, the well-known barber, under the title, "The Rising Senior, Class of '02, County Electoral College of Newberry; or the anticipations of the junior 'orator.'" Mr. Hair is of the opinion that the reason why some of the candidates failed to pass the "junior oratorical contest" is because they are too fresh, although a deflated one or two might think that the barber-orator is spitting hairs at this point. The story is not liable to contradiction, and will strike a great many of the never-expect-to-get-anything-politically-but-the-chance-to-vote plebeians being applicable to every place of business visited by these very promising candidates. Among other things it shows how easy it is for a candidate to open his mouth and talk through his straw. To cut a long story short and shave it down, Mr. Hair says that one after another the candidates would come in and say: "Why, Mr. Hair, I didn't know you were here. I'm so glad we have a white barber. Now that I know it I will certainly patronize you in the future." They continued to visit him throughout the campaign season. Since then many of them have forgotten, just as they have forgotten to run all the way across the street to shake hands with a busy man then in a hurry and glad of it.

Mr. Hair wants to know what in the world has become of all those candidates? Where on earth can they be? There was a large drove of them and they were a promising lot. A more promising set of men had he never before seen, nor since has he; but the future—some of which has gone and a little more come since then—has not fulfilled the promises of the past and their star must have set. Rise up, men, shake yourselves and your gory locks. They need trimming for the next race and the next Ananias declaration. ***
