ENOUGH GLOBY TO GO VROUND

Gen. MacArthur, referring to the capture of Aguinalds, says: "All credit for the achievement belongto General Fousto , but any critici-m of the methods he employed should be directed to me, as General Function merely was carrying out or ders given by me". Now supprise Sampson had said something like that about the battle of Santingo and Schley; we should have had no seat dal and no court of inquiry, Samp son would have been made vice al. miral, Schley been promoted in his grade, and both would have been people. - Charleston Post.

It seems that the men who parties pated in the capture of Aguinaldo thought there was sufficient glory in the achievement for each to get his share. But was there not more glory in the destruction of a whole fleet of first class modern armored cruisers then in the capture, by treachery, of an individual? But look at the way in which the men who did these things are looked upon by the American people today.

Since the battle of Santiago the heroes of that battle and their friends have been engaged in a degrading controversy as to who won the bat tle, and at last it has become neces sary to settle the dispute by a court of inquiry. This controversy has served to bring the whole American navy into disrepute among the nations of earth, and has withered the laurels that crowned the brows of both Sampson and Schley.

the American people, Gen. Funston evening playing upon the campus. and the men with him in the daring expedition which accomplished the capture of the Filipino leader, are still heroes.

There was no jealously displayed by them, there were no low disputes and wranglings as to whom belonged the credit and the honor for the capture. They considered that they had accomplished something which had enough glory in it for each who participated to get his full share.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrho "Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long beyeic trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Al-bany, Bradford County, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhea and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamber's Colie, Cholera and Diarrhoa Remedy, I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt say ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by W. E. Pelham.
