We would have been very much pleased to have been able to have attended the State Sunday-school convention which is being held in the city of Greenwood. We know the occasion will be a grand one to all those who feel an interest in this noble work.

Dr. W. E. Pelham, chairman State executive committee, has spared no time in working up the convention to a high plane. He kindly gave me a copy of the programme which shows that every thing is very attractive and helpfully prepared, showing that addresses will be delivered by several of the most prominent and capable divines and laymen of our State. Very few people appreciate the fact that Dr. Pelham is one of the most noble and enthusiastic Sunday-school workers in our State. He spares no little of his time and means in this grand and noble work. The Holy One says, "If you love me, feed my lambs." This is the mission of the Sunday-school—which is a spiritual home for them. It is truly the object of the Sunday-school to lead the young children to Jesus, to labor for their conversion, to Christianize them. We would like to say more about the work of the Sunday-school, but we must pass on for this time by saying in conclusion, May God continue to bless, not only Dr. Pelham, but all other co-workers of the Sunday-school, and may the time speedily come when all the children of every nook and corner, both in towns and counties, will be gathered into the different Sunday-schools and made to realize their sinfulness and need of a Saviour.

Sad, but not unexpected, was the death of Mrs. Henry Conkle. From what we learn Mrs. Conkle had been in quite lingering health for more than a year, but only confined to her room for about three months with that dreadful disease consumption. Last Saturday about two o'clock the summons from God came and said, its enough, and that soul is now where yours and mine will soon be, in the presence of an unknown world. We have known the deceased all our life and it is a blessed consolation, not only for me to say, but for the bereaved husband and children to know, that she was a noble hearted Christian woman. On the morning before she died she called her husband and children to her bedside and told them to meet her in heaven. Oh what a consolation, to feel that you have a dear wife and mother in heaven. Yes, Christian friends, if we want to die right we must live right. Yes, dear children, we know how hard it is to give up a mother, we passed through this trial only about seven months ago. A mother's love is the tenderest love on earth, and a child that would disregard or forsake its mother is worse than an infidel. But still, amid all these sorrows, what a blessed hope and consolation to feel that you have a wife and mother in heaven. The deceased was a member of Colony Evangelical Lutheran Church, and her body was laid to rest in the graveyard of the dear old church on Sunday following her death. Rev. Mathias of St. Luke's conducting the burial services. She had lived 52 years and 14 days. May God comfort and strengthen the surviving broken hearted husband and children and help them to live a life like their mother's. We should make all of this, one stroke after another of sadness, continually beclouds our minds and fills our hearts with gloom.

Quite sad, indeed, was the intelligence of the sad fate of young Hoyt King, the son and step son of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. C. E. Armstrong. May God have mercy upon the heartbroken mother and step father. We can't realize their sorrows, although our sympathy is with them. Oh, what a lesson this should be to the boys. This boy left his happy home without a cause, and was not permitted even to repent of his wrongs. The Word of God teaches you to obey your parents in all things, and the very first command which God gives you is to honor your father and mother. Let Hoyt's fate be a lesson to you as long as you live. And now, young boys, let me entreat you to resolve from now on to stick to your bush, let the bush be hard or soft.

NO SPECIAL TERM OF COURT.

Newberry Bar Holds Meeting at Which Request for a Special Term is Withdrawn—Will Likely be Asked For in September.

Some time ago a petition signed by several members of the Newberry bar and asking for a special term of the civil court, was sent to the Governor. Acting on this petition, the chief justice issued an order granting a special term on April 21, and naming Hon. W. F. Stevenson, Speaker of the House of Representatives, as special judge.

At a meeting of the Newberry bar, held on Tuesday afternoon, it was decided best to withdraw the request and a resolution was unanimously adopted requesting that the order granting the special term be annulled. Several reasons were advanced in the full and free discussion that preceded. Among these may be mentioned the fact that this would be a very busy time for the farmers, and then a good many people who were very much interested could not attend without much inconvenience. In addition to this the opinion was held by some that the appointment of Mr. Stevenson as judge was in violation of that clause of the constitution which provides that the three departments of government shall be forever separate and distinct. The members had no objection to Mr. Stevenson personally, but he is also a member of the legislature and speaker of the house, and as there are some very important cases to come up for a hearing, among others some very important railroad cases, they were afraid that some question as to the legality of the trial might afterwards arise.

It is likely that a special term will be asked for to be held some time in September.

Game Called Off.

The game of baseball arranged for yesterday afternoon between the college and Furman University nines was postponed on account of the inclemency of the weather. The game will be arranged for a later date, probably week after next.

A Printer Greatly Surprised

I never was so much surprised in my life, as I was with the results of using Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says Henry T. Cook, pressman of the Asheville, (N. C.) Gazette. "I contracted a severe case of rheumatism early last winter by getting my feet wet. I tried several things for it without benefit. One day while looking over the Gazette I noticed that Pain Balm was positively guaranteed to cure rheumatism, so bought a bottom of it and before using two-thirds of it my rheumatism had taken its flight and I have not had a rheumatic pain since." Between the hours of eleven o'clock a. m. and closing time at night on Jan. 25th, 1901, A. F. Clark, druggist, Glade Springs, Va., sold twelve bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I never handed a medicine that sold better or gave better satisfaction to my customers." This Remedy has been in general use in Virginia for many years, and the people there are well acquainted with its excellent qualities. Many of them have testified to the remarkable cures which it has effected. When you need a good, reliable medicine for a cough or cold, or attack of the grip, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are certain to be more than pleased with the quick cure which it affords. Our Friends, the Druggists.

It is a pleasure to testify to the generally high character of druggists. But because of a few exceptions to the rule, it is necessary to caution the public to be on guard against imitations of Perry Davis' Painkiller. See that you get the right article, the soothing, helpful that was used in your family before you were born. Do not be taken into buying a substitute. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.
