COLUMBIA FEMALE COLLEGE.

The agitation of the removal of this old and honored institution creates intense interest in the Conference; it is discussed on the streets, around the church door and everywhere; and doubtless the discussion in the session of the Conference this morning at 10 o'clock will be spicy and exhaustive. It is a grave question, but one which might have been avoided. It was, in our judgment, a mistake to have ever attempted to auction a college to the highest bidder. The education of the young is too sacred to be brought into such an unenviable position, and the manly, Christian spirit of every follower of Christ, in the way that John Wesley taught, ought to repudiate the method by which the removal of the college is sought to be accomplished. Where would such a precedent lead to? What institution of learning would be safe if such a precedent were established? Really every incentive to the upbuilding of great institutions of learning would be nipped in the bud, because there would be no pledge or assurance of permanency.

But, as we understand the question, the effort to remove the college from Columbia is entirely without ground, and the bids are too insignificant to be considered for one moment by men who take a business view of the transaction. The present building occupied by the college could not be erected today for fifty thousand dollars; to force the property on the market it would not command more than twenty thousand dollars; the building is mortgaged for about fifteen thousand dollars; therefore it is probable that the sale of the property would do but little more than liquidate the debt. Then it follows that the Conference is called upon to sacrifice property really worth fifty thousand dollars for educational purposes for thirty-nine thousand dollars and throw into the bargain a most desirable lot in the center of the city of Columbia! That would be a bad trade—so it appears to us, to say nothing of the advantages of Columbia over the towns that are competing for the college.

There is, however, a moral side to the question. Columbia contributed the larger part of the money that went into the present structure. The money was contributed over half a century ago in good faith "for the maintenance of a Female College in Columbia." The charter of the institution so declares. Are there no moral obligations involved on the part of the Conference? Can that body now break, with impunity, the compact made between the fathers and the city? It does not seem so to us. But many contributions were made to the Twentieth Century Fund for Columbia Female College. Do not those contributions strengthen, if that be possible, the moral obligation already set forth?

It is a grave question, and in view of all that is involved the Conference ought to think very seriously before it acts. The matter, in our judgment, ought never to have been agitated.

Bishop Duncan is an excellent presiding officer, even if he does sometimes by his cutting remarks knock out some of the brethren. It is always done in a pleasant way and no one takes offense. The Bishop is very much of a dictator and very positive in his rulings. It is necessary to hold down and keep in control as large a body as the Conference; if he did not he would soon lose control of the body.

Both Re-elected.

At a meeting of the County Board of Commissioners held on Saturday, Mr. Jno. A. Suber was re-elected keeper of the County Home, and Dr. J. H. McCullough was re-elected county physician.

Bread and Bread Making.

Prof. Wiley, of the Agricultural Department at Washington, in an article on "Bread and Bread Making," says, "the nutritive value of wheat flour depends largely upon the character of milling." The most scientifically milled flour is "Clifton," made at Bransford Mills, Owensboro, Ky. Insist on your grocer sending it to you. Call at E. R. Hipp's, Hayes & McCarty's and L. W. Cozby's.

CHURCH EXTENSION ANNIVERSARY.

Address Last Night By Rev. P. H. Whisonant, Secretary of the General Board.

The anniversary exercises of the Church Extension Board were held last night. Devotional services were conducted by Dr. G. W. Walker.

After a few remarks by the secretary of the Board, Rev. J. W. Elkin, in which he urged upon the preachers the necessity of taking full collections for the church extension fund the REV. P. H. WHISONANT, D. D., was introduced.

Dr. Whisonant is from Louisville, Ky., and is secretary of the General Board of Church Extension. He earnestly outlined the work of the Board and presented the demands upon the Board for funds and impressed the importance and the necessity of the preachers taking full collections for this fund. He stated that his Board now had calls from three thousand churches for aid from this fund. That there were also enough calls from foreign lands to exhaust all the money at the command of the Board. He, too, urged upon the preachers the importance of the necessity of taking collections for this work.

THE FIGHT FOR THE COLLEGE.

Representatives from Greenwood and Laurens Very Active. The Contest Warming Up.

Large delegations have been in the city during the week from Greenwood and Laurens working for their respective cities to secure the location of the Columbia Female College in case it is decided to move the college from Columbia. The contest last night was very warm, but of course all in a very friendly spirit. There were caucuses and meetings galore. Another delegation arrived from Greenwood last night.

There was talk last night that the whole discussion might be cut short this morning by a motion to postpone the whole matter to the next session of Conference.

The Bachelor Maids.

A meeting of the Bachelor Maids will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Miss Nellye McFall.

Another False Alarm.

Another false alarm of fire was sent in yesterday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. The store of D. A. Livingston, on Main street, was supposed to be on fire, but it proved to be only a stove flue burning out. No damage.

The Carnival Company.

The Charleston Post has the following to say of the Carnival Company, which will be in Newberry for a week, beginning December 29th: "The Layton Company comes to Charleston highly recommended. The company carries fifteen shows and five free street attractions. Some of the shows are said to be the most wonderful known to the world of sensational specialty."

Towels Without Cost.

Every forty-eight pound sack in which "Clifton" flour is packed will make two good towels, the regular towel goods being used in the manufacture of the sacks. Ask your grocer to send you a forty-eight pound sack. At E. R. Hipp's, Hayes & McCarty's and L. W. Cozby's.

The Junior Union.

Primary and Junior Union, No. 1, will meet this afternoon, owing to Conference convening in A. R. P. church, beginning promptly at 3.30 o'clock.

WHY WE SELL

WATERMAN PEN!

Because we believe the Waterman Ideal Fountain Pen to be the best pen made. If we were not thoroughly convinced that this is true, we would keep in stock other pens, as the manufacturers of other pens offer us better inducements than the S. E. Waterman Company. Let us fit your hand to a Waterman Ideal Pen.

It is just as important that a pen fit your hand, as to have a shoe fit your foot. You take no risk when you buy a Waterman Pen. If you are not satisfied, bring it back and get another, and if you can't be satisfied we will refund your money.

MAYES' BOOK STORE.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get this reliable remedy at W. E. Pelham & Son.
