

The Herald and News

E. H. AULL, Editor.

The President has signed the bill providing for a new department, known as the department of commerce. It is very well understood that the portfolio will be tendered to the President's Secretary, Mr. Geo. B. Cortelyou. If it were possible, it would not be a bad move to make Mr. Roosevelt the head of the new department of commerce, and to let Secretary Cortelyou succeed his chief. But there is no way to save the country from Roosevelt for a while yet.

This is the last week of the present session of the Legislature. At least, after Saturday night the pay stops, and there is hardly any doubt that the making of laws will stop at the same time. Many good measures have passed, and some of the best have failed. We had hoped to see this Legislature have three important laws to its credit: prohibiting child labor in the mills, providing for building roads by taxation, and requiring the attendance of children upon the schools. Of these three, only the one prohibiting child labor got through. But this in itself is a great stride forward, and we abide in the hope that the two others will come soon.

We confess that we do not see what good Tillman can accomplish by such addresses as the one he delivered before the New York Press Club at a banquet on Friday night. Some of the things he said are only too true. But why not "let the dead bury its dead"? No good can come to the people of this State from having their representative in the United States Senate continually refer to the fact that in order to vote South Carolina from negro rule "we were compelled by the exigencies of the situation to use the shot gun and the tissue ballots, and we used both." A repetition of the fact certainly will not be in keeping with another such state of affairs. But the man who delivered the address is Tillman, Senior Senator from South Carolina, and there is no surprise.

It is reported from Washington that President Roosevelt will insist upon a vote by the Senate on the Crum nomination. It is very probable that had not Roosevelt himself pressed the matter, no vote would have been taken in committee. But now that the committee has rendered an adverse report on the nomination, the President wants the matter to go before the Senate and indicate that if it does not he will recommend Crum for the recess period.

The President's friends are simply wasting time when they attempt to provide for their chief a means of graceful retreat. If the President had not pressed the matter it is very likely that he would have been free to appoint some one else, and at the same time to save himself some humiliation. But Roosevelt is not built that way.

Pipe Organ For Lutherans.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer held on Sunday morning it was reported that subscriptions for a pipe organ amounted to $1,200, with $400 more in sight and about half the members of the congregation yet to be seen. This practically assures the church of a pipe organ, and a committee was appointed to make a further canvass and to begin arrangements for securing and installing the organ. One of the conditions on which amounts are subscribed is that the organ shall not cost less than $2,000.

St. Valentine's Ball.

The Newberry German Club gave its regular St. Valentine's ball in the Armory on Friday evening. The German was one of the most pleasant of the season, and while it was not as largely attended as some recently, it was very thoroughly enjoyed by those who were present. Music was furnished by Pinkney's band of Columbia.

The couples in attendance were: Miss Elizabeth Daggett, of Virginia, with Mr. H. W. Dominick.

Miss Bessie Simmons with Mr. T. H. Pope.

Miss Maud Pant with Mr. H. T. Renwick.

Miss Thora Schumpert with Mr. W. F. Eberhardt.

Miss Myrtle Schumpert with Mr. E. H. Dominick.

Miss Bessie Schumpert with Mr. W. R. Seabrook.

Miss Julia Paisley with Mr. C. J. Moore.

Miss Rosa Moore with Mr. Ralph Foster, of Lancaster.

Miss Bessie Gilder with Mr. D. L. Boozler.

Miss Sue Dunlap, of Kentucky, with Mr. Robert Mayes.

Miss Julia Harrison, of North Carolina, with Mr. Johnstone Coppock.

Miss Lizzie Glenn with Mr. L. G. Eskridge.

Miss Linda Welch with Mr. C. P. Pelham.

Other gentlemen present: Messrs. P. F. Gilder, T. K. Johnstone, Lewis, of North Carolina, J. K. Aull, Tench Boozler, W. A. Jamieson, Jr., J. Y. McFall, S. H. McLean, W. C. Schenck, C. L. Suber, P. E. Scott, W. C. Tyree, A. M. Wray, C. E. Fant.

Crapones: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schumpert, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Schumpert, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. M. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Pifer, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Aull, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Pool, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Gilder.

TILLMAN EXPOUNDS NEGRO QUESTION.

Repeats His Well Known Views at New York Banquet - No Solution of Race Problem.

New York, Feb. 14. - Senator Tillman of South Carolina spoke tonight at the banquet of the New York Press club. He said in part:

"I cannot understand why I should have been the only representative of the august body of which I am a member. Now I have no message which I have come to deliver to you. In my experience I have found that the better acquainted the gentlemen of the press become with me the better they like me. But I ask no favors of you. I come from a State where the people do their own thinking and their own voting.

"I think this is an occasion on which I ought to get even with the press. You have 365 days in the year in which to make and unmake public men but you don't make and unmake them in the State of South Carolina."

Referring to the negro question, he said that President Roosevelt had raised a subject that will not easily down. It had brought forth a number of comments from prominent men of the North and had raised a storm in the South. After mentioning a number of these comments and the men who made them he said:

"You have had this subject Roosevelt, Hamann, Ireland and finally Smooted, and now it seems to me it is about time that we had some one who knows something about it, say something. What are my qualifications?"

HIS PERSONAL HISTORY.

First, he said, he had been nursed by a negro mammy. Then although he had not served in the Confederate army, he had tried to join it, and had been prevented only by an accident that deprived him of his eye. Lastly he had been upon the ground and seen the ravages of the war.

"I know something of what this race question has cost this country. Many of you who write so flippantly about it, know nothing about it," he continued, "and if you write about so grave a subject when you know nothing of it you are no less than criminals."

"Mr. Roosevelt was very wise in saying it will take the best thought of both sections of this country to solve the problem."

After an impassioned recital of the perils of the white population of the South threatened by the increase of the power of the negroes in the past few years he said:

"We were compelled by the exigencies of the situation to use the shot-gun and the tissue ballots, and we used both. Why? Because in the State of South Carolina there were 30,000 more negro voters than there were white voters."

He said that they in South Carolina had established their free schools and that ever since there have been more negro children in these free schools than white children.

"Do you think it was our purpose to raise these negro children to a condition of enlightenment in order that they may govern us?" he asked.

"By the Holy God, no!" he cried. "Three months ago," he continued, "the President wrote a letter in which he said that when a negro showed himself qualified to fill public office he was unwilling to shut the door of hope in his face."

Commenting on this Senator Tillman said that if the present condition of education continued and the negro is to gain control of the State of South Carolina and the white becomes subordinate, the deplorable result would be that in a hundred years, the population would be half mulatto. He had no practical solution of the problem, he said unless it be that the North take its share of the blacks, "if you love them so well."

GROWS IMPASSIONED.

His address grew more impassioned as he continued. At first only applause greeted his utterances, but toward the end an occasional hiss was heard; and finally he was interrupted by a voice crying, "What about your nephew?"

Senator Tillman was at the moment defending the summary measure adopted in the South for the punishment of negroes guilty of crime, especially against women. After the excitement caused by the interruption had subsided Mr. Tillman said there was much more he could say and would like to say but that he regarded it as highly inappropriate to refer in public to family affairs.

Before concluding his address he took occasion to assert that if the policy of raising the negro into power in the South is carried too far, the result will be blessed, and its flow will be upon the heads of those who have tried to force the white population into subjection to the black.

This was not a threat, he said, but simply a statement of what he knew from his acquaintance with the conditions in the South, would be the inevitable result.

W. J. Bryan also spoke.

Lard Expensive and Injurious.

Lard is not only expensive but injurious to the health when used in liberal quantities. To make the so-called cheap patent flours white enough, the life is all ground out of the flour; then it is necessary to load it up with lard in order to make it work. This accounts largely for your heavy biscuits and rolls and your bad digestion. It takes less than one-half the lard to work "Clifton" than it does the cheap patent, so you not only save more than the difference in price but get a more healthful and nutritious food product. Health and economy dictate the use of "Clifton." For sale by Hays & McCarty and Edward R. Hipp.

To Examine State's Institutions.

Hon. Arthur Kibler has been appointed on the committee from the House to make an examination of the various educational institutions of the State and to make a report of their condition to the General Assembly. The other member of the committee from the House is Hon. T. H. Rainford. This is a very high compliment paid Mr. Kibler by Speaker Smith, and a deserved one.

PROFIT

The matter of feed is of tremendous importance to the farmer. Wrong feeding is loss. Right feeding is profit.

The up-to-date farmer knows what to feed his cows to get the most milk, his pigs to get the most pork, his hens to get the most eggs. Science.

But how about the children? Are they fed according to science, a bone food if bones are soft and undeveloped, a flesh and muscle food if they are thin and weak and a blood food if there is anemia?

Scott's Emulsion is a mixed food; the Cod Liver Oil in it makes flesh, blood and muscle, the Lime and Soda make bone and brain. It is the standard scientific food for delicate children.
