

The Herald and News

E. H. AULL, Editor.

"More than anything the Laurens farmers need a fuller appreciation of the attractions of their own calling," says the Laurens Advertiser, and then it goes on to show how the farmer can be the most prosperous and independent of all persons. This is true and it is the same doctrine we tried very hard to implant in the campaign which we had in this county the past summer. The farmer should magnify his calling and endeavor to improve his condition, and instead of trying to get into position to move to town to have the advantage of church and school and society he should go to work and have all these things in the country, and he can possess them if he will. And we predict that during the present generation the slogan is going to be back to the farm, and instead of the young men flocking to the cities to wear their lives out in stores as clerks they are going to become independent farmers, and the rural districts are going to be the desirable places of residence. Many things are going to contribute to this. We now have daily mail facilities in almost every section, and we are going to have road improvement, and with good roads will come good schools and churches and society, for neighbors will be able to get from place to place and to church and the children to school. We will also have better schools and longer terms, and it will not be necessary to move to town to educate your children. When tilling the soil prospers, and the farmer farms instead of plants only, all business will prosper. Land is appreciating every year. We say hasten the glad time when the farmer becomes independent and is no longer the slave of the lien and under bondage to the credit system.

Mr. M. V. Richards has suggested that the banks of the State be requested to raise $25,000 for the purpose of having an exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition. The banks will scarcely take to the proposition favorably. And why should they be asked to contribute to this purpose any more so than any other class of property? The fact is, the State will scarcely have an exhibit. The money cannot be raised by private subscription, and it is not at all probable that the Legislature will make any appropriation. The House was very largely opposed to the appropriation at the last session, and we have seen no reason why it should reverse itself at the next session.

We extend our sympathy to Gov. and Mrs. McSweeney in the death of their little daughter Catharine Babcock. She was a sweet little babe, as we knew her for six months of her young life in the Governor's mansion. Life has its sorrows as well as its pleasures, its bitter as well as its sweet, but now all is well with the child. The Master says suffer the little ones to come unto him.

Of course we read the Daily Mail and read it regularly and enjoy reading it. It is a good paper published in a good town and from its advertising patronage is appreciated by the merchants of the city. It is a little off on its presidential candidate, however.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

The Holiday, Which Began At Sunset Monday, Observed By Those of the Faith In Newberry.

With the setting of the sun on Monday, there was ushered in, according to the Jewish calendar, the 5644th year of the existence of the world. The beginning of the year marks an important Jewish holiday season, beginning with the festival of Rosh Hashonah, or the religious New Year, and continuing to the close of Succoth, or the Feast of Tabernacles.

Rosh Hashonah is a season of gladness and the occasion for family reunions and the exchange of gifts and other social observances. "Leshone tofo tokosef," the Jews greet each other, "May you be inscribed for a happy year." The Orthodox Jews regard the day as one set apart by the Lord to commemorate the creation, and when he sits in judgment to mete out rewards or punishments for the ensuing year—to decide upon death and the manner of death. They, therefore, look upon it as a day for repentance.

The Orthodox Jews not only observe from sunset to sunset, but they continue the observance for two days, while the Reform Jews observe only the first day.

There are not many of the Hebrew faith in Newberry. Among those who belong to that division known as the Reform Jews are Joseph Mann and S. Goodstein, and Messrs. Mann and Goodstein closed their places of business only on Tuesday. Among the Orthodox number are L. Morris and T. Vigodsky, and they closed their stores both Tuesday and Wednesday. Besides these four named and their families there are few others in Newberry. There is no temple or synagogue here in which the quaint ceremony of blowing the shofar may be observed, but the few Jews in Newberry are still true in all the great essentials to the old faith, and every ceremony is observed by them which it is possible to observe without a temple and a spiritual leader. There will be several other festival days and days of fasting before the harvest festival, the Feast of the Tabernacles, which is a season of thanksgiving and which closes the season. The most important of these is Yom Kippur, the great Jewish holy day, a day of fasting and of repentance, a day for becoming reconciled with one's enemies, the great Day of Atonement, which occurs this year on Thursday, October 1.

BACHMAN CHAPEL LETTER

T. J. W. Writes Interestingly on Union Academy Subjects.

Union Academy, September 23. — Mr. L. L. Moore was thrown from his wagon while returning home from Newberry and received some very painful bruises.

The only child of Mr. and Mrs. Usten Werts, of Jolly Street, died Sunday at 3 o'clock, of throat trouble. It was a bright little girl about twenty months of age. The bereaved parents have the heart-felt sympathy of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hayes, of Newberry, spent last Sunday with Mr. L. L. Feagle and family.

Miss Hanna Griffin is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. R. E. Hunter.

Mr. B. M. D. Livingstone is with the Newberry dispensary while Dispenser Mayer is confined to his room with sickness.

One of Mr. E. L. Strauss' mules got its leg broken some time ago and died from the effects.

Mr. D. W. Buzhardt lost one of his mules last week.

We are glad to say Mr. M. M. Long is considerably improved.

The bulls and bears and speculators have figured up the last report on the cotton crop to be about twelve million bales. Now the farmer's report is seven million bales and five million lies.

Mr. J. K. Epps went up to Mr. S. A. Rikard's last Saturday and spent the night, returning home on Sunday with his mother, Mrs. H. R. Epps, who had been on a visit in that section for several weeks. Mrs. Epps is suffering with chills and fever since returning home.

I will say to the public generally and all those who may have any business with the Board of Supervisors of Registration, hereafter they can be found in the Master's office next door to the national bank every first Monday in each month. This change has been made for better convenience.

There have been some improvements going on for the past while in the way of building. Mr. B. M. D. Livingstone has built a new cotton house, Mr. J. D. Quattlebaum is putting up a wood shop, Mr. E. L. Strauss is erecting a tenant house and Mr. J. P. Kinard is putting up a barn and stables. This, with a number of other repairing which is going on all over the country, has caused a considerable demand for lumber and shingles.

In my last letter I said that the cotton crop was cut off at least 20 percent. Now we can safely say 25 without exaggeration. The pea crop is also going to be short.

Dr. R. C. Kibler, of Atlanta, is back at Prosperity in the cotton seed business. He wants it understood that he is representing that good old reliable firm, Moseley Bros., and will always pay the top of the market for seed. Prosperity is a good live seed and cotton market. If Newberry don't keep her eye open and ball shipping Prosperity will get the cake. The farmers are watching.

Letter to C. C. Davis, Newberry, S. C.

Dear Sir: If it took 10 gallons to paint your house last time with somebody else's paint, and takes 8 with Devco, we save you $8 or $10; for painting costs two or three times as much as paint.

Mr. Ezra Rathmell, Williamsport, Pa., always used 11 gallons of mixed paint for his house; Devco took 6.

But that isn't all; that's only first cost; how long will it wear?

The paint that goes furthest in covering wears best too.

All paint, true paint, and full-measure, are on one side; part paint, false paint, and short measure are on the other. What can you expect?

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co., P. S. — The Newberry Hardware Co. sell our paint.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The aches and pains will disappear if the advice of this Newberry citizen is followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Newberry women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. J. M. Wheeler residing at Prosperity S. C. says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for my kidneys which had bothered me for a long time and they did me a great amount of good. I had a terrible pain through my loins and down my limbs so severe at times that I could scarcely get about, and my rest was disturbed during the night on account of the too frequent action of the kidney secretions. I used any number of kidney remedies and had a physician attend me but nothing seemed to do me any good. My son-in-law who lives in Newberry seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and he who then spoke of so highly, went to W. E. Pelham & Son's drug store get a box and sent them to me, requiring me to try them. I did so and the result was very gratifying indeed. The use of two boxes regulated the action of the secretions from the kidneys and caused the backache to disappear. I am now and have already recommended this medicine to my friends and will continue to do so for the pills are worthy of all I could say in their favor."
