

WHOLESALE DEATH LIST

From Head-End Collision of Crowded Passenger Trains

120 BADLY INJURED

of Life on the Heavy Train Due to the Fact that Coach Ploughed In and Other Cars were to it by the Heavy Pull.

Tenn. Special.—Running in a supposedly high maintenance and having every safeguard known railroading, two trains here railway carrying of passengers, came to a frightful head-end collision, Tenn., Saturday, sending to death and injuring of whom will probably appalling loss of life and the living resulted, appearing disregarding of orders of two trains to meet at a regular meeting point. The failure to see either the signals cannot be set up by of the westbound train to enter piece of defense. Accident happened in broad daylight according to the best obtainable, he had the little train in front of monster of iron and steel New Market and soon after an eastbound passenger train making for New Market with instructions to westbound train which car-leaders from the East for Chattanooga and other titles.

OF THE WRECK.

Alibi exists that the illness may have been asleep from his eyes before train reached. But nothing is known that the orders were not the trains were on time and more than 35 miles on the impact as they rounded and came suddenly upon each other. Both engines and major portions of both trains crushed, and why the orders regarded or misinterpreted will never be known, as the of the two trains were their bodies remaining for under the wreckage of the locomotives, which, but a few before, had leaped forward such of their strong hands, throttle.

Unidentified Baby, found Sunday.

Two Unidentified Bodies found Sunday.
A force of 150 men toiled all day long at the scene of the wreck. Before 2 o'clock Sunday morning the track was clear for through trains, but it required many hours to clear the debris. Engineers Parrott and Kane were found beneath their engines, but their bodies were not crushed badly. Small fragments of bodies were found in many places, but it is thought that they belong to bodies already found and brought to this city. One little baby was found by the wreckers.

LOSS OF LIFE EXPLAINED.

The cause of the terrible loss of life in the heavy east-bound train was explained. It seems that the second coach ploughed its way into a bank in which other cars were jammed, and pushed on by the weight of heavy Pullmans were crushed like egg shells.

Physicians at the hospital state that of the long list of injured which they have in their care it is probable that not more than four will die. The complete list of injured, as given out by the railroad officials show a total of 152, but this includes all persons who were only slightly hurt or scratched.

Americans Not Served.

In a number of the leading stores of Edinburgh and Glasgow there is a notice: "Americans not served here." Yankee shoppers used to cause the proprietors and their assistants to turn their shops topsy-turvy until they looked like a rummage sale (bazaar counter not in it), and then would elevate their noses and "guess we'll try somewhere else." Hence the notice.

Cholera at Port Arthur?

St. Petersburg, By Cable.—Although no confirmation has been received at this hour at either the War Office or the Admiralty of the report from Tsingtau, that cholera had broken out at Port Arthur, it is admitted that it is possibly true, owing to the terribly unsanitary conditions around the fortress, arising from the number of decaying corpses there. But until confirmation is received, the Tsingtau telegram will not be given out to the press, in order to avoid causing needless alarm among the relatives of the brave defenders. The announcement, none the less, has caused the deepest concern.

Citizens Resist Outrages.

Macon, Ga., Special.—A special to The Telegraph from Talbotton says: "A mass meeting was held at the court house here today which was attended by prominent citizens from every portion of the county to take the necessary steps to apprehend and prosecute the parties who shot the two negroes. Resolutions were passed favorable to law and order, and the Governor was requested to offer a reward for the arrest of the guilty parties."

SOUTH CAROLINA CROP BULLETIN

The Picking of Cotton Progressing Quite Satisfactorily.

The week ending 8 a. m., September 26, had a mean temperature of 71 degrees which is two degrees below the normal. The deficiency was greatest in the interior and was nearly normal along the coast. The first two days were warm but the 22nd, 23rd and 24th were considerably below normal. The extremes were a minimum of 44 degrees on the 24th at Greenville and a maximum of 95 at Kingstree on the 21st and 22nd.

The precipitation occurred generally on the 21st and 22nd and was light except on the coast from Charleston southward where it was moderately heavy.

The week has been favorable for farmwork and all kinds were pushed as fast as possible.

Cotton is opening fast throughout the State and picking is general but in many parts of the State pickers are scarce. The crop will not be as good as was expected earlier in the season. Rust is still doing some damage on light soils. Not much of the top crop of cotton will mature on account of the cool, dry weather. Sea Island cotton is in good condition and being picked.

Corn is reported to be in good condition generally. Fodder is about all pulled and the harvesting of the crop has begun in Darlington county with good yield. Harvesting of corn will be begun in other sections next week. Late corn was slightly damaged by the cool, dry weather.

Rice is being harvested and threshed but the yield is not as good as expected.

The weather has been favorable for haying and large amounts of hay and pea vines have been housed in good condition.

Potatoes are generally good. Gardens and fall crops are doing fairly well but are badly in need of rain in some sections. No small grain has been sown yet.—A. R. TEEPLE, Temporarily in charge.

Lynched for Attempted Assault.

Greenwood, Special.—James Calvert, a negro about 25 years old, was lynched by Laurens county citizens shortly after midnight Friday night after being brought just across the river into Greenwood county. The crime for which Stuart was lynched was the usual one, in attempting a criminal assault upon the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. Doc Hughes, a well known white farmer who lives in the "fork" between Saluda and Reedy rivers.

The first news of the lynching was brought here Saturday morning by a gentleman who was making the trip from Greenville to Greenwood by private conveyance through the country. He reported that just after crossing Smith's bridge over Saluda river he came upon the dead body of a negro lying on the side of the road. The negro's hands were tied behind his back and he was lying with his face upturned and with his knees bent under him, a position indicating to the gentleman that he had been shot while in a kneeling posture. When the body was examined at the coroner's inquest it was found that only one bullet wound had been inflicted upon the negro. This was a pistol ball which entered the body under the left arm.

The body was turned over to the negro's father.

From reliable reports it appears that the dead negro, James Stuart, had been living with Mr. Hughes about two years, his release from the Laurens county chain-gang having been secured by Mr. Hughes; the negro had ever since been making his home on his place.

Archbishop at Mt. Vernon.

Washington, Special.—The Archbishop of Canterbury went to Mount Vernon today as the guest of General Crozier, chief of ordinance, to visit the home and tomb of Washington. The party also included Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador; Secretary of the Navy Morton, J. Pierpont Morgan and about twenty others.

Seizure of Contraband.

Greenville, Special.—Deputy Revenue Collector Gus Aiken, accompanied by State Constables Cooley and Bell, returned Monday afternoon from Saluda, where they found and destroyed an illicit steam distillery of 150 gallons capacity. Fifteen hundred gallons of beer were also seized. A negro named Dandy was found on the premises, as was a pair of mules and a wagon. He was arrested and brought here and placed in the county jail, and team confiscated. Two other negroes were seen at the distillery, but managed to make their escape.

Noah Broomfield Killed.

Greenville, Special.—Noah Broomfield, a negro shoemaker, was shot and instantly killed Saturday evening at 6 o'clock by Robert Holmes, a negro painter, in front of the former's shoe shop on Laurens street, in the heart of the city. The man was killed with a double-barrelled shot gun. It is alleged that Broomfield cursed a female member of the Holmes family, resulting in Holmes shooting the shoemaker.

IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Many Newey Items Gathered From all Sections.

Nobody Claimed Checks.

The State Treasurer has finished writing off of the books all old checks for which warrants have been issued and which have never been presented at the banks. The banks of the State have had this money on deposit for years and at the last session of the legislature it was decided to write all of these old claims off and turn the money back into the general fund. The work has been going on for the past two months and the books have now been balanced up to date with a total of $150,89 written off. Following are the items:

Carolina National bank, check No. 754, payable to W. McB. Sloan, and dated March 21, 1884, for $3.95 (interest on consols $4-100 dollars and interest on deficit $3.31.)

Carolina National bank, check No. 4226, payable to Mrs. C. A. Adis, and dated Oct. 24, 1888, for $3.00 (pension.)

National Loan and Exchange bank, check No. 153, payable to W. B. Lowrance, and dated Dec. 29, 1887, for $3.93 (consol interest.)

National Loan and Exchange bank, check No. 370, payable to M. A. Mitchell, and dated Oct. 16, 1888, for $3.00 (pension warrant.)

South Carolina Loan and Trust Co., Charleston, check No. 69, payable to B. O. Johnson, and dated Sept. 11, 1888, for $15.00 (pension warrants, three.)

First National Bank of Charleston, check No. 803, payable to D. O'Neill & Son, and dated July 14, 1882, for $1.59 (consol interest.)

First National Bank of Charleston, check No. 1931, payable to J. E. B. Sloan, Exor. Hall, dated July 16, 1886, for $32.25 (consol interest.)

First National Bank of Charleston, check No. 2000, payable to A. H. Bell, trustee, and dated Nov. 23, 1886, for $13.49 (consol interest.)

First National Bank of Charleston, check No. 3032, payable to Mrs. Sarah E. Carr, and dated June 25, 1890, for $11.50 (consol interest.)

People's National Bank of Charleston, check No. 2348, payable to Miss Ann R. Robertson, and dated Dec. 23, 1890, for $19.50 (interest on consols.)

People's National Bank of Charleston, check No. 4228, payable to Bank of Charleston, N. B. A., and dated Dec. 28, 1893, for $4.70 (interest on consols.)

Bank of Charleston, N. B. A., check No. 1614, payable to M. I. Orr, and dated June 28, 1891, for $2.77 (consol interest.)

Bank of Charleston, N. B. A., check No. 26663, payable to H. E. Young, and dated July 6, 1889, for $39.15 (consol interest.)

Bank of Charleston, N. B. A., check No. 3431, payable to L. Strompsell, Exor., and dated Aug. 11, 1891, for $6.39 (consol interest.)

The above, amounting to $152.89, has been carried to the general fund and is subject to your warrant.

Palmetto Bank and Trust Co., check No. 1123, payable to Walker, Evans & Cogswell Co., and dated Aug. 19, 1897, for $3.25 (dispensary warrant.)

This item has been carried back to credit of dispensary fund.

Daring Safe Robbery.

Kingstree, Special.—About 3 o'clock Thursday morning the most daring robbery in the history of Kingstree was successfully accomplished, when the back door of the postoffice was battered in and by means of high explosives the large safe for postal deposits was blown open and rifled of everything of value except a few books and papers. The value of the stolen articles approximates $5,000, which includes a registered package containing $4,000 for the Bank of Kingstree. This package, shipped from Charleston, arrived here at night, and the bank then being closed, was left in the postoffice. The loss is fully covered by insurance in transit.

A FURIOUS ASSAULT

Japanese Still Pegging Away At the Russian Stronghold

GREAT LOSSES AT PORT ARTHUR

Russian Mines Blow Up Whole Battalions, But the Japanese Persevere in the Determination to Finish the Work.

Paris, By Cable.—The Martin's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs as follows:

"Telegrams of which the general staff have as yet no knowledge reached the Emperor at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. I can affirm that they concern Port Arthur, regarding which place the greatest anxiety prevails at court. The Japanese are now engaged in a general assault, which is more furious than its predecessors, attacking the town on three sides simultaneously and employing their whole forces, being determined to finish the business. Russians mines blew up whole battalions. General Puck especially distinguished himself, directing the fire from the wall which the Japanese reached after indescribable massacre.

"The whole of Admiral Togo's and Vice Admiral Kamimura's squadrons are aiding the struggle, which, it is feared here, will be final. The beleaguered forces are fighting as in a furnace. A perfect storm of shell is falling on the town, port and fortress from the whole hill and roadstead. General Stoessel is going from fort to fort, encouraging the defenders in their desperate efforts.

"In St. Petersburg the facts concerning the tragic event, which perhaps will terminate by a glorious fall of Port Arthur, are wholly unknown. At court hope has not yet been entirely abandoned.

Russians Use Balloons.

Mukden, By Cable.—The Russians are using war balloons southeast of Mukden, for the purpose of observing the movements of the Japanese in that direction. The line of outposts established by the Japanese is so effective that not even the Chinese have been able to penetrate it. It is impossible, therefore, to say definitely how Marquis Oyama has disposed his forces. It is believed that General Kusuzuki's army stretches from Bentshan to Bentshanputze, and the armies of Generals Oku and Nodzu from Yentai along the high road and railroad to Shapetu, sixteen miles south of Mukden, while a fourth army is moving from Dzianchan across the Da Mountains. All these roads converge at Mukden. Of the four armies, those of Oku and Nodzu are nearest Mukden, and their progress will have to be slackened in order to permit Kuroki and the flanking columns time to come up. Meanwhile, Oku and Nodzu have command of the railroad. Supplies of grain and ammunition are carried from Yentai over heavy roads exposed to capture by enterprising Cossack raiders. There has been an improvement in the weather, which has been of great help to the Japanese.

Imperial Tombs Endangered.

St. Petersburg, By Cable.—A brief telegram was received from Lieutenant General Sakharoff, announcing the advance of the Japanese from Bentshanputze on the village near Fu Pass, east of Mukden and the site of the imperial tombs, which is likely to revive the fears expected at Peking that an engagement may be fought at the burial place of the Manchurian dynasty. No mention is made of resistance to the advance, but it is not believed this indicates that the Russians do not intend to further oppose the march of the Japanese on Mukden. It probably signifies that the Japanese force is using the small road to Fu Pass, between the highways leading to Mukden and Fushun, with the intention of isolating the Russian columns guarding Fushun.

The Japanese are still trying to turn General Kuropatkin's left flank, but there is no indication of their moving west of the Hun river.

Sinmintin is still held by the Cossacks.

The Russians should take something for those sneezful names—a few towns, for instance, says the Atlanta Journal.
