

BY THE WAY...

By DORIS ARMFIELD

Washington, Nov. 20 - Most of you will know...

It was so good to be back in the City of Friendly Folks...

I was sorry I couldn't get back down there before all the leaves fell from the trees...

Every now and then I go on a rampage about something and one of my pet peeves is to see beautiful trees unnecessarily chopped down...

We are fully aware that this protest will be held irrelevant, and immaterial, but as we said, for the sake of the record some one should speak for those trees...

Also from the Arlington Sun, a columnist, Jay Oliver, relates this story...

Several years ago the young son of a Washington couple accompanied his parents to Arlington Cemetery...

The political situation in Washington has somewhat cooled off and it is heard on the subject except for occasional guesses as to who will be in the next Presidential cabinet...

FEWER PEOPLE would be in debt if they didn't spend what their friends THINK they make.

City Hall Rooms Get New Look

The office of the Chief of Police, the Recorder's room and the city jail are undergoing paint jobs and are slated for some changes which will make them more modern. The rooms are being painted white with mahogany trim. New type lighting is being installed throughout.

The Recorder's room and the Chief's office will undergo considerable changes in structure and will be equipped with some furniture more in keeping with the times. New bedding will be purchased for the jail cells which should be good news to the inmates and to who visit there on occasion. The Chief will be given a new safe for the safekeeping of valuables, and the place will be given a new look from stem to stern.

"I've been here 17 years," said Patrolman Hitt, "and this is the first paint job I remember."

Church Honors New Members

A delightful Thanksgiving supper was given at Aveleigh Presbyterian church Monday evening in honor of the new members who came into the church during the month of November. The table in the assembly room, where covers were laid for over thirty guests, was beautifully decorated carrying out the Thanksgiving motif.

Rev. N. E. Truesdale, pastor of the church presided and extended greetings in behalf of the congregation. The new members were welcomed by J. D. French, chairman of the Session; William T. Hunter, chairman of the Board of Deacons; L. D. Nichols, Supt. of the Sunday School and Mrs. M. W. Workman, president of the Women's Department of the church, who explained the work and responsibilities of their departments.

Circle No. three, with Mrs. Tyrus Senn, chairman, and Circle No. four, with Mrs. E. B. Purcell, chairman, sponsored the supper, which was under the general supervision of Mrs. J. B. Burgess.

Rev. Truesdale said that he felt certain the unusually large number who were received into the church during the month of November was the direct result of the recent Evangelism Program and Evangelistic services at Aveleigh.
