I was in town Saturday morning, and several people said "where have you been? I said "where have you been? I thought you were in Newberry to stay, but I haven't seen you." Well, I AM in Newberry to stay, at least most of the time, but actually, in the work I am doing, it will be hard to say from one day to the next where I will be. In the home of Mr. Lominick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lominick on Boundary street. Vernon Fellers of Columbia, is now making his home with his sister Mrs. Richard Neel ger. were Sunday visitors in Newberry. the next where I will be. Someone told me they thought I was in Washington learning to operate one of the machines of the newspaper office, the to operate one of the machines at the newspaper office, the linotype or possibly "Gloria," the name we seem to have adopted for the offset lithography press. That is entirely wrong, and as I mentioned in my column recently, I will no longer be with the newspaper office, the linotype or possibly "Gloria," Mrs. Nelson Connelly and daughter, Donna, spent the past weekend at Lockhardt with her weekend at Lockhardt with her brother, Prof. Charles Carlisle, a member of the school faculty there.

teresting for several reasons; first, because the work is interesting; second, because I had nver been to Florence and was pleased to have a glimpse at the city, although I must say I was kept too busy to do much sightseeing. Another reason I enjoyed the trip, and know I will enjoy future hearings, is that it gives one the opportunity to meet the nicest people. The "judge" in this case was from Washington, and before the hearing was over we discovered that we had muteresting for several reasons; land and two children, we discovered that we had mu-tual friends. Two of the law-yers on the case were of a week.
