

New Type Sharpener Usable in Fields Will Sharpen Mower Blade While on Bar

A new type of hay mower blade sharpener which makes it possible to sharpen the ordinary mower section right in the field without even removing it from the cutter bar, thus saving time and labor and making it possible to cut more hay faster, has been placed on the market by the New England Carbide Tool Company, Inc.

The black tip of this new type mower blade sharpener is made of carboloy cemented carbide, hardest metal commercially available. Mower blades can be sharpened quickly and easily in the with this sharpener.

The sharpener consists of a steel shank one-half inch square and about 5" long, chrome plated against rust and having rounded edges so that the tool can be carried safely in the pocket. The tip which does the actual sharpening is made of ultra-hard carboloy cemented carbide metal, which is attached securely to the steel shank.

To sharpen mower blades with this "carbide tipped" tool, the edges of the blade to be sharpened are uncovered. The sharpener is held in the hand, palm down. The carboloy tip is placed on the mower blade at about a thirty-degree angle, and drawn from back to front on the blade three or four times. This produces an extremely sharp edge. Any small burr which many develop on the blade may be removed by drawing the carbide tip across the ottom of the blade.

Horses Are Dangerous

out speaking to him.

As a rule, farmers do not consider horses as especially dangerous animals, yet they account more accidents of a serious nature than any other farm animal. According to the National Safety Council, approximately three times as many accidents occur with horses as with any other farm animal Farmers should always be cautious around these animals, the NSC continued. One phase of this precaution is a thorough check in the spring of all equipment to be ed on or by horses, particularly

Only strong harness should be used and these should be inspected regularly and kept in good repair. Dry leather has low tensile strength it should be cleaned with mild soap and warm water and treated oil. Attention to equipment such as neck-yokes, tongues, singletrees, double-trees and eveners is also very necessary.

The NSC suggests that many serious farm accidents can be prevented by following these simple rules: Never approach a horse without speaking to him. When cleaning a all, making no sudden movement. Enter the stall on the left side of the horse. When driving or leading horses, never wrap the lines around

Male Youngsters Drink More Milk Than Girls

ults of a recent study should be of interest to dairy farmers. The study revealed that teen-age boys drink more milk than teengirls. Eating habits of school boys and girls, 15 years of age and over, in both city and rural high schools were studied for three

It was found that 39 per cent of boys and only 22 per cent of the girls drank a quart a day.

treadmill, are not yours. Yours is one problem; that of Rena Janzen. Sweep all the others out of your mind, concentrate upon your own. Fix your thoughts upon that little country home with the flowers and open spaces about it, and it will begin to take shape and move toward you as steadily as tomorrow's dawn. Out of just such sordid, crowded, noisy, squalid, odorous environments as the one you describe have come thousands-yes, millions, of our men and women who now occupy suburban homes, who have flowers, a car, fresh suitable clothing, pleasant plentiful mealsin a word, happy, busy, useful lives. Some have risen to actual wealth and power, but you will be satisfied with less than that, and you can win it.

In 10 or 15 years many of these neighbors you pity will be busy in important work: Secretaries, buyers, superintendents, politicians dress designers, movie and radio performers, living the kind of life you now consider unattainable.

What your father and mother and grandmother have, after their terrors in their own country, their suffering and privation, seems to them riches. Good food, light, amusements, education for their children, clinics and shops and movies accessible—these to them represent luxury.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 10. DEVCTIONAL READING: Mark 9:33

Range of Religion

Lesson for April 10, 1949

ONCE THERE WAS a farmer who owned a large farm. Its wide acreage was divided into pastures and fields and a garden and lots and chickenyards and so on. But whenever any one would ask the the farm, he would answer, "That's not my business farm;" or "-That's not the farm, that's a flock of sheep," or a rye field or whatever it might be. Of course such a farmer never lived, or if he did, he should have his head examined.

What Does Religion Cover?

who, when asked about this or that activity or aspect of life, answers, "That's not religion. I have no interest in it." Religion isn't a little fenced-off pasture for lambs, a tiny garden plot behind thick hedges.

Religion covers the whole farm, every bit of life from end to end. Jesus knew this very well. He never once refused to discuss anything on the ground

He cast light on everything that touched him. He called his followers the "light of the world." Not flashlights, shining in one narrow beam! Not flashlights, but lamps, set on a lampstand and "giving light to all who are in the house."

The Light Of God

A GOOD cross-section of Jesus' methods and ideas can be seen in Mark 10, into which one chapter Mark packs his whole account of a number of weeks which Jesus spent in the region called Perea. Observe the variety of situations which confronted Jesus. First there was a question about divorce. When they brought that question up to Jesus, he did not dodge it. He did not call it a personal matter in which he. as a teacher of religion, had no interest. He did not say it was strictly a matter for the civil courts. You may read what he did say in Mark 10. You will note that first of all he brings God into his answer.

Religion And Little Children we here, what are we doing all this mous story of the little children who were brought to Jesus-evidently quite small children, for Jesus lifted them into his arms. We do not hear Jesus saying, "Children are too small for me to take any interest in them. Wait till they are older. What good can religion do these tiny tots?" On the contrary, Jesus not only blessed them, but held them up as models for older people.

Is your church following Jesus here? Is your church interested in the little children as much as it is in the "paying" members?

Or are the little ones shoved off into some damp corner of the church basement? In your state or province, do the Christian people take an interest in the children? Do children in your section get as good attention as pure-bred cattle

As Wide As Life

THEN THERE WAS a question about eternal life. Of course Jesus answered that one, it was obviously a religious question. (Except that he gave it what some people even today would consider a not very religious answer!) Jesus went on to talk about morey and the effect it has on a man's prospect of eternal life. Jesus would be the very last person to imagine that a man's bank account has nothing to do with religion. Some people to this day don't like to hear a preacher mention money in his sermons. Well, such people might have been offended by Jesus, for he often preached about money and prop-

Then there was the question of ambition, the audacious request that James and John made of him. He had some strong remarks to make about that.

And finally at Jericho, not long before Palm Sunday, there was the blind beggar Bartimaeus. Jesus did not say to him, "Health is no affair of mine. I cure souls, not bodies.'
