

B.M.D. Livingston Dead at 77 Years

Berry M. D. Livingston, 77, died early Wednesday morning at his home in Prosperity. He had been in ill health for several years. Born and reared in the Bachman Chapel section of the county, he was a son of the late George Solomon and Catherine Kinard Livingston. For the past 40 years he had made his home in Prosperity. Mr. Livingston had served on the Board of Registration for the past 31 years and was chairman of the board at the time of his death. He was a member of the Church Council.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from Bachman Chapel Lutheran Church with the Rev. J. L. Ballentine, Dr. J. B. Harman and the Rev. M. T. Cullum conducting the services. Interment followed in the church cemetery.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Alma Kibler Livingston, he is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Jesse W. Kibler of Spartanburg, Mrs. W. B. Boinest, Mrs. J. I. Ruff, Mrs. J. C. Counts, all of Prosperity. Mrs. R. H. Ruff of Newberry; and one son, B. Earl Livingston of Laurens; one sister, Mrs. Henry Kibler of Ellmore and eight grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Deleal Boinest, J. W. Jr., Everett and Alvin Kibler, William Richardson and Harvey Halfacre. The honorary escort were members of Bachman Chapel Church Council, Dr. V. A. Long, T. E. Keitt, Frank Hardy, Ray Dawkins, P. N. Andrews, Walt Richardson, C. T. Sumner, Murray Counts, Leroy Pugh and E. S. Blease.

Junior Livestock At Fair Grounds

Twenty-five fat hogs and a dozen fat steers will be shown by their 4-H Club and FFA owners at the Newberry Fair Grounds on Thursday, April 21. The show, sponsored by the Newberry Chamber of Commerce cooperating with the County Agent's Office, will begin at 10:00 a.m. Prizes, offered through the Chamber of Commerce, will include five free trips to summer camp. The owners of the best two steers and the best three hogs will each be given a free trip to the regular 4-H Club summer camp, which will be held at Camp Bob Cooper in Clarendon County during the week of August 1.

Immediately after the completion of the show the hogs will be sold at auction. The steers will be moved to Columbia where they will be entered in the Columbia Fat Stock show on Friday, April 22.

Anyone, white or colored, who has finished hogs ready for slaughter is invited and the hogs are expected to bring a good price. County Agent, suggests that W. A. Ridgeway, Assistant you plan to see this show in order that you can see for yourself the type and finish of the hogs that packers are willing to pay the highest prices for.

Community Hall Formally Opened

Newberry's Community Hall was formally opened Friday, April 8th, at 8:30 p.m. Before that time, in the afternoon and evening, Newberrians had come to see and admire the beautifully restored and decorated building.

Civic Leaguers held Open House from 4 to 6:30 Friday afternoon and the Governing Board played host Friday night. The receiving line at the night Open House was composed of members of the Governing Board of the Hall.

At 8:30, sounds of laughter and talking ceased for the formal opening exercises, which were broadcast over local station WKDK. Dr. James C. Kinard, with his usual poise, acted as master of ceremonies. Appearing on the program were Mrs. J. H. Sumner, Chairman of the Governing Board, and Mrs. E. G. Able, Chairman of the Hall Furnishing Committee.

Both women told of the work involved in renovating the old building; Mrs. Sumner devoted most of her talk to thank-yous for all those who had helped in any way. Sen. Marin Abrams spoke of the delegation's part in this undertaking.

Mrs. Mower Singley, Prosperity, soloist, sang "Bless This House," a number which could hardly have been more appropriate for the occasion. She was accompanied on the Hall's grand piano by Mrs. J. E. Wiseman.

Dr. Kinard and Mayor A. P. Salley both praised the work of the Civic League in helping to provide Newberry with such a lovely Community Hall.

After speaking of Mrs. Sumner, President of the League, and her many activities in civic work, Mayor Salley presented Mrs. Sumner with a girandole, a gift to her from the City of Newberry. Presented in gratitude for her years of unselfish labor in behalf of civic improvement, the set consists of three candelabra, made of brass on ivory base, with carving on front representing Faith and Charity, as typified in the life of Mrs. Sumner.

Vets Can Enlist Reserves Locally

M-Sgt. Claude Blankenship, recruiter of the local U.S. Army and Air Force Station, announced today that Veterans of both the Army and Air Force can now enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps in Newberry instead of going to Columbia.

Colonel Keisler, Instructor of the Newberry National Guards, has been appointed Recruiting Officer for Reservists and will execute the oath of office.

Anyone desiring to enlist in the ERC can have his enlistment papers filled out at the local Recruiting Office, 1221 Nance street.

The advantages of joining the ERC are: Time served in the Enlisted Reserve Corps will be given full credit on longevity pay; opportunity to be called to active duty, with your consent, for short periods of training; you can accrue retirement benefits when assigned to certain type units in the reserves.

Rogers Circus Is Coming to Town

While you are still asleep on Sunday, April 17, 65 big trucks and semi-trailers will come thundering into town loaded with circus equipment, acres of tents, wild and domestic animals such as lions, tigers, pumas, bears, elephants, monkeys, horses, dogs, ponies, baboons, and others together with such outstanding performers as Frankie Lou Woods and her Hollywood Ariel Ballet.

Capitain Eddie Kuhn and his cage of wild man-eating beasts, the Newman family and their school of highly trained horses, that bunch of Funny Men Clowns, clowns galore and Capitain Jimmy O'dell and his performing elephants, together with 22 other breath-taking acts of good clean circus performance.

Rogers Bros. Circus is being sponsored by your local Shrine Club for two performances, one day only at 2 and 8 p.m. List to the circus band and callous. See the ariel performers, wire walkers, comedy acrobats, performing monkeys and dogs as well as horses and ponies. All this and more you will see at Rogers Bros. 2-Ring Circus on Monday, April 18, at 2 and 8 p.m.

Claude Greneker Schools of County Dies In New York

Claude P. Greneker, native of this county, died at his home in Central Park West, New York City, Thursday, April 7, at the age of 68. Mr. Greneker was a son of the late T. F. Greneker who, with T. F. Slider, founded The Rising Sun here several years before the Civil War. He was buried here Sunday, following services in New York.

Besides his widow, Lillian, he is survived by the following nieces and nephews: T. E. Davis of Newberry; Mrs. Sarah Wallace of Whitmire; Peter Davis and Frank Davis of New York City; and Mrs. Elizabeth Gaston of Greenville.

The following article concerning Mr. Greneker is taken from the New York Daily News and is written by John Chapman:

The funeral services for C. P. Greneker, who died Thursday evening at the age of 68, will be held at noon today at the Campbell chapel, 81st St. and Madison Ave.

Greneker (pronounced Grenny) had been the publicity advertising boss of the Shubert theatre empire for 40 years, so many people of the theatre will be there. So will many from journalism—the theatre's handmaiden—but not all who remember him with complete affection, for there is not a drama editor in the country who did not know and like Claude Greneker.

A Calm Publicist
When this reporter shifted to the theatrical beat in 1929, Greneker's office became a daily port of call, not alone for the news which came from it but also because of the quiet, friendly man who was in it. He was never flustered and he never barked like a Hollywood executive, but he could juggle three telephones and conduct a cross the desk conversation simultaneously, and make each of his phone callers and the visitor think he was the only one Greneker was listening to.

Greneker's devotion to Lee Shubert was second only to his devotion to his brilliant artist wife, Lillian, C. P. and Lillian had their lives together in Westchester county, building a home they loved, selling it and building another, only to sell it and start again. They had their lives together at the first nights, and Greneker missed the opening of "South Pacific" only by an hour or so.

The Hours Were Tough
Greneker's working hours with Shubert often ran from 10 A.M. to 4 A.M., for Lee, or Mr. Shubert, as his press aide always called him, was and is a night prowler, liking to cruise the cafes at the end of a big day's work. They were quiet prowlers, almost totalitarians, even on the hunt for stage talent.

Greneker had had heart trouble for about three years and had quit prowling with Mr. Lee. But he didn't quit working. About 6 o'clock the evening he died a publicity assistant reported to him by phone at his apartment, as usual, with a summary of a day's work done. Greneker was going to the "South Pacific" opening the next morning at 10 in the morning. He instructed the assistant. He didn't know he was going away.
