

Elevators Found Helpful on Farms

Perform Most of Heavy Lifting, Transport Jobs
On today's electrified farms, elevators perform most of the heavy lifting and short transportation jobs.

This photo shows how baled hay can be raised with an inclined plane elevator.
Farm elevators are either portable or stationary. In general, motors for portable elevators range in size from one-half to one horsepower.

DN-289 Efficient

Eye-spotted injury on fruit from aphid-bud moth.
The development of a new and efficient dinitro fungicide and insecticide for orchard use has been announced by the manufacturer, Dow chemical company.

DN-289 has shown high efficiency as an insecticide for use in the dormant period against a variety of insects such as the rosy apple aphid, the currant aphid, the black cherry aphid, the mealy plum aphid, eye spotted bud moth, the cherry case-bearer, the pear psylla and oyster shell scale on apple and lilac.

Ladino Clover Produces Better if Bee-Visited

Ladino clover on which bees were allowed to work freely produced 40 times as much seed as that from which bees were excluded, according to an experiment conducted by Dr. H. A. Scullen.

MIRROR Of Your MIND 'Decisiveness' May Mask Fear

By Lawrence Gould

Can "decisiveness" mask secret fear?

Answer: Yes—the fear of being or appearing "indecisive," says Melitta Schimideberg in the Psychoanalytic Review. It is not "weak-minded" to hear both sides of a question and take time to weigh them before coming to a conclusion, but some people who are basically sufferers from ambivalence and do not want to admit it will compel themselves to make "snap judgments" and will stick to these through thick and thin rather than face the painful truth that at heart they're uncertain about everything and everybody.

Can you tell if you have a "mother complex"?

Answer: You have a mass of "associations" with your mother (which is all a "complex" is) if she brought you up, and if not, with anyone who took her place. And only the nature of these associations decides whether or how far this "complex" has kept you from growing up emotionally. If you still depend upon your mother

Is there any harmless drug for alcoholics?

Answer: Not yet, anyhow, warns Dr. Edwin G. Zabriskie, eminent neurologist and chairman of a newly organized committee for the study of medical treatment of the "problem drinker." The committee is seeking funds to investigate a drug known commercially as "antabus" on which favorable reports have been received from Denmark, but does not yet feel sure enough of its effects or its possible toxicity to advise releasing it for general use. In any case, "Medical treatment must be followed by psychotherapy aimed at the social rebuilding of the patient."

LOOKING AT RELIGION

By DON MOORE

SUNDAY IS OBSERVED IN THE UNITED STATES AS A STRICTLY RELIGIOUS DAY MORE THAN IN ANY COUNTRY IN THE WORLD.

IN SOME COUNTRIES POLITICAL ELECTIONS ARE THE THEME.

THE CARDINAL WAS SO NAMED BECAUSE HIS BRILLIANT RED PLUMAGE IS THE COLOR OF THE CATHOLIC CARDINALS' RED HAT!

DOMINICA (DOMINICAN REPUBLIC) WAS NAMED BY COLUMBUS BECAUSE HE DISCOVERED IT ON THE LORD'S DAY. DIES DOMINICA

KEEPING HEALTHY Emotions Will Affect Circulation

By Dr. James W. Barton

When I wake in the morning, I find my heart rate usually about 48, sometimes 54. After lying awake and thinking over the plans for the day, I find my heart rate to be 68, sometimes 72.
When I return home from boxing bouts, notwithstanding the fact that I did some boxing when young and have examined every heavyweight boxer except Gene Tunney, I find my heart rate up to 80.

HEALTH NOTES

Any illness involves a certain amount of nervousness or mental disturbance. The patient wonders what is wrong, what the outcome may be. About one-half of all patients who consult their physicians have no real physical or organic disease, but have symptoms which are the same or very similar to those present in organic disease.

Isolationism Exists

THAT ISOLATIONISM is not dead, at least in the United States senate was clearly indicated when Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) in a three-hour speech on the senate floor called for repeal of the Marshall plan; urged the senate to refuse to approve further appropriations for it; refused to adhere to any bi-partisan foreign policy; praised the action of Senators Lodge, Borah, H. Johnson and other isolationists of the 1920 era in keeping this country out of the League of Nations; declares this country is "hated around the world" because of our material possessions and our humanitarian attempts to relieve suffering and our outpouring of money to stay other Democratic governments; declared that World War II was not the result of our failure to join the League of Nations, but that it was "deliberately planned"; castigated our foreign policy and charged that "secret diplomacy is the rule and not the exception"; charged that this nation "our own country and our own leaders have been a party to conspiracy which has permitted Russia to gain the place she holds today in world affairs."

He charged that this country has directly violated the Atlantic charter; that the signing of the Atlantic pact is what Russia wants and will enable Russia to win the cold war without firing a shot; and the Hoosier senator predicted that the very countries we are helping today will "automatically become ingrates, hating us because we helped them."

Not in recent months has a more bitter speech been delivered on the floor of the United States senate. Some newspapers such as the Chicago Tribune gave the senator's speech banner headlines. Paradoxically, the senator's home state metropolitan newspapers in Indianapolis gave his address scant attention.

Rural Renters Menaced

There is every indication that the folks who rent property in the smaller towns and rural communities are due for substantial rent increases under the new rent control law recently passed by congress lifting the bulk of responsibility to local officials in the cities and towns and the governors of the several states. This is another indication of the passing of that party and personal responsibility which we wrote last week.

Results will be certain abolition of rent control in rural areas, particularly in the South, and the southern solons could go along on this premise, since relatively few renters in the South are voters. But in northern states and the larger cities there likely will be no decontrol because it would be political suicide for local officials to lift controls.

So with rent controls in the North and no rent control in the South, just one more artificial barrier is created between the two sections of the nation.

Martin Policy Sound

This reporter recently had a long talk with Congressman Joe Martin of Massachusetts. Although he has moved out of the speaker's office which he occupied during the 80th congress, by virtue of his job as minority leader, he still rates a pretentious private office in the Capitol.

It's to be reached down a narrow corridor which slants off from the Hall of Statues. First on his program is a campaign to sell the American people on the record of the Republican party in both the 80th and the 81st congress. And his coal black eyes snap when he talks about it, for he believes if the people once "know the facts", the results will be different in the next election.

The canny New Englander has a down-to-earth philosophy with which few can disagree at least while he's talking, using frequent gestures with a paper knife to punctuate his remarks. And apropos the position of Senator Jenner on our foreign policy, here's Joe Martin's position on foreign policy: "The United States has made its course, and we should all stick by it regardless of party."

Futile Fiddling

Freshman Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) in his maiden speech took occasion to castigate his colleagues for fiddling away so much time without accomplishing some legislation. Said the Minnesotan: "What the people want is for the senate to function. Sometimes I think we become so lazy... we feel so secure in our six-year term, we forget that the people want things done."

Use Easter Eggs for Place Cards (See Recipes Below)

Easter Plans

ONE OF THE TRADITIONAL highlights of Easter will probably be the coloring of Easter eggs. Though some adults think that coloring eggs is strictly child's play and should be left to youngsters, a large percentage of grownups doesn't agree. As a matter of fact, many people welcome Easter as a time when their artistic skill can be brought into full swing.

You may make the eggs as elaborate or as simple as you like. Perhaps a few brightly colored eggs in a gay basket as a setting for the Easter breakfast table are all you'll want. On the other hand, you may want to try out your skill in making faces or penciling names on colored eggs.

With certified Easter egg colors that come with a handy writer, you'll be able to create eggs as simple or professional as you like. Eggs will be effective and appropriate place cards at the Easter dinner.

Two appropriate creations certain to appeal are the perky bunny and a coy little chick. Stiff white cardboard is used for the base and for the stand-up collars that hold the eggs.

Use yellow dye for the chicken. Rest the egg on a collar with a perky bow tied under the "chin." Paint on eyelashes and attach a paper beak at the right place. Stand a feather up the back, and you'll have a chicken everyone will love! The rabbit is prettiest when dyed light blue or pink. Use little white reinforcements (the kind the youngsters get for notebook paper) for the eyes and mouth. Bits of white string tucked under the "mouth" make whiskers and long, tapering pieces of crepe paper make the ears. Turn the collar down in front to make a pointed collar and the bunny is complete.

EASTER DINNER might be built around lamb with appropriate sauce and spring vegetables.

'Roast Leg of Lamb Have leg of lamb boned and rolled by the butcher. Wipe with a damp cloth. Mix together the following: one-third cup fat or salad oil, one minced clove of garlic, two teaspoons marjoram, three-fourths teaspoon powdered mustard, one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon paprika. Rub the mixture over the meat before roasting.

For boned, rolled leg of lamb, set the oven slow (325°) and roast without water or other liquid, 45 minutes to the pound if the meat weighs between four and five pounds. For a heavier leg of lamb, roast 42 minutes per pound at the same temperature.

HAVE YOU EVER tried sweet potatoes with lamb? They're a delicious combination. Here are two recipes from which you may take your choice.

Sweet Potato Puffs (Serves 6) 3 large sweet potatoes

LYNN SAYS: Here's What to Do With Easter Eggs Eggs decorated for Easter may be used in many different ways to add nourishment as well as interest to meals. They should be hard-cooked before decorating, of course! Mix the whites of four hard-cooked eggs with two cups of white sauce and pour this over toast. Press the yolks through a sieve to decorate the tops of the creamed whites.

Jesus Is King

Lesson for May 1, 1949

IT IS A SIN to tell the truth out of season. So declares a famous Protestant creed. It is not always good nor wise to tell everybody everything you know. Keeping your mouth shut may be one of the best things you ever do. Jesus himself knew how to keep a secret till time to tell it. He never uttered an untruth about himself, but for a long time he did not openly declare his conviction, in spite of being pestered to say Yes or No about it.

The question was: Are you the Messiah? This was the same as asking, Are you the King? Jesus would not say Yes, because the mere word would be taken to mean "revolutionist" or "traitor." But he would not say No, because he was a King; indeed of all men he had the best right to the title.

Royal Entrance

BUT WHEN the time came, Jesus did declare himself king in a spectacular way. We know the story as the "Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem," the story of Palm Sunday, now so fresh in our minds. Jesus lived in a nation of people who were familiar with the meaning of symbols, both in word and action.

When Jesus rode into the ancient capital where his forefathers reigned, astride a mule colt, the people knew, and he knew they would know, that this was not just somebody riding a mule on a Sunday morning. In the history of the Hebrews, mules were the steeds of kings.

King Solomon was crowned riding on a mule. There was a famous prophecy (Zech. 9:9) that when Jerusalem's great king should come, he would be riding on just such a royal steed. So when Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the people threw their palm branches and shouted their welcome, not to the teacher and prophet, but to the King.

Tears in Triumph

IT WAS NOT altogether a victorious occasion. Jesus knew too well how cheap and easy "demonstrations" can be. In his mind's eye he could see a cross standing outside Jerusalem, and in his inner ear he could hear this same dusty-throated mob, now shouting "Hosanna!", yelling instead "Crucify him!" Tears stood in Jesus' eyes. But they were not tears for himself; he never wasted energy in self-pity. They were tears for that blind city, tears for its coming destruction — the city that did not know the way to peace.

Master of the Temple

BOLDER THAN JESUS' triumphal entry was what he did inside the city. It was one thing to claim royal rights over the nation; but at the temple Jesus' claims reached far higher. It should be remembered that in the eyes of all Jews at that time the Temple was absolutely sacred. It represented the dwelling-place of the invisible God. Now the priests at that time were more profane and politicians than priests. They carried on what today we call a "racket" in the sale of animals for sacrifice and in changing the ordinary money of all countries into the local Jewish shekel (in which coin alone could temple offerings be paid).

The racket was notorious; every decent Jew hated the priestly profiteers. But no one had ever done anything about it, for that would mean assuming an authority over the temple that no man dared to assume.

But Jesus took it on himself. His direct and even violent action in smashing the racketeering ring was a mark of something more than ordinary self-confidence. He laid claim to being no less than the Master of God's Temple. He was acting in the name of God and with the authority of God.

Master of Man

WHEN THE CHRISTIAN church calls Jesus "Lord" and "King" today, we are making no claim for him which he did not make for himself. What we mean by these titles is that Jesus Christ, for us and for all men, is the authority above all others.
