Actual Assets, June 1st, 1872, $3,613,153.50.

We call attention to the following facts:

1st. No company in the world has attained the same success in so short a period. Why? Because the Life Association invests its money in every locality where it operates, thereby putting capital where capital is needed, and making the facilities for insuring easier.

It is not an adventure gotten up for the benefit of stockholders, but a pure mutual company, managed entirely for the benefit of those who take policies in it. All the surplus or profits is returned to them annually in the shape of dividends. It

As it invests its funds at 10 per cent., while New York companies being compelled by law to invest in their own State, only earn 6 to 7 per cent. We claim that our dividends will be larger and consequently insurance cheaper than any New York company.
