

"Lunatically Anarchistic."
[New York Mirror.]

The utterances of Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, in the Senate Chamber yesterday morning, were the utterances of a madman. His speech reminds me of nothing so much as the ravings of "Anacharis" Cloatz in the Paris Convention of 1792, when the "orator of the human race" clamored for blood, more blood, with a thirst more intense even than that of Barrere, "the Anacoreon of the Guillotine." Cloatz was one of the maniacs of the Revolution, the most cheerful spot in whose history is that they went at last to the shambles to which they had sent so many others in pure hysteria of blood-letting. There's something in all the talking and writing done by the advocates of the silver idea that is frightfully similar to the language of the Terrorists in France. There is the same rabidness of dogma, the absence of reasonable consideration for differing opinions, the same disposition to denounce as a tyrant everyone who differs with them. The language heard in the Senate these days in behalf of the new ideas is all lunatically anarchistic. It ceases to be funny when Senators get to talking, in the highest deliberative body in the land, in the same strain as the fellows who hurled the bomb at the Haymarket in Chicago. This entire development of the silver question is a mark of the prevalence of neurotic degeneration in the people. It is part of the general weakening of nerve centres and the tendency of people to act upon unregulated impulse. The language is the language of the hashish eater and Malay who "runs amuck." Men like Tillman, who talk like drunken prophets and have the inspiration of mania, should be suppressed. They aim only at the creation of a sentiment of personal hate against individuals and they appeal to the very basest passions of the mob. They are ready to compare every public man who differs with them with the enemies of God in the Bible and thus to project into a question of politics and economics a fanaticism that was never yet content with any manifestation but slaughter. I believe in free speech, the freest kind of free speech, but I believe that license is not liberty and that talking madmen are more dangerous than mad dogs. The man who wants a Utopia and can suggest no way to get it save by first putting the country through the hell of a social revolution is an outlaw. The trend of the talk of Tillman and men like him is the same trend that the Frenchmen followed to the horror of the world for all time. There should be a way to stop such talk and such writing. The day has passed in which the lunatics could be laughed out of these follies. All thinking men must note the analogy between the Tillmans and the Cloatzes and analogies in men will produce analogies in results, unless the friends of honest, sane thought in this country stand by on the good ship "Order" to repel the boarders of Anarchy. Some people may think this an extremist paragraph, but they will not regard it if they will reflect upon the increasing revolutionary rabidity of the theorists and doctrinaires in the last five or six years. There is too much professed philanthropy in their utterance, and it all veils hatred of success and of the establishments and institutions and laws that provide for the repression of the individual in the interest of the general good.

Marvelous Results.
From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succedent La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory results." Trial bottles free at Dr. J. A. Boyd's Drug Store.

Proud of His Age.
[Detroit Free Press.]

The oldest white man in Sonoma county, California, William Blackman, died in Healdsburg last week, at the age of 100 years and three months. He was especially anxious that it should be known that he did not die of old age. Pneumonia cut his life short, and there is little doubt he would have lived some years longer in the natural course of events. He was very active and healthy up to the time he took cold. He smoked and drank intoxicants in his early life, but abandoned both habits half a century before his death.

Paint—Civilized or Uncivilized.
[New York Sun.]

Jim Cash-Cash, one of the richest and most influential of the civilized Umatilla Indians of Oregon, brought suit in the Pendleton court for a divorce from his wife on the ground that she paints her face. Whether this means that Mr. Cash-Cash complains of a return to savage customs or an adoption of questionable civilized ways, is not indicated in the complaint. He simply alleges that she "hideously and grotesquely paints her face, thereby disgracing and humiliating him in the eyes of his family."

The Personal Side of Washington.
General A. W. Greely, of Arctic fame, begins, in the March Ladies' Home Journal, his articles on George Washington which are expected to create considerable discussion. General Greely has read over 200 of Washington's private letters, and he writes in a frank, unbiased way of the personal side of Washington. His first article will deal with the loves and courtships of Washington and his final marriage to the widow Custis. General Greely's articles are not likely to confirm the estimate of those who regard Washington in an ideal way, but they are truthful and admirably portray the man as he was—in reality.

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS
Edited by ALBERT SHAW.
THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as its name implies, gives in readable form the best that appears in the other great magazines all over the world, generally on the same date that they are published. With the recent extraordinary increase of worthy periodicals, these careful reviews, summaries, and quotations, giving the gist of periodical literature, are alone worth the subscription price.
Aside from these departments, the editorial and contributed features of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS are themselves equal in extent to a magazine. The Editor's "Progress of the World" is an invaluable chronicle of the happenings of the thirty days just past, with pictures on every page of the men and women who have made the history of the month.
The Literary World says: "We are deeply impressed from month to month with the value of the 'Review of Reviews,' which is a sort of Eiffel Tower for the survey of the whole field of periodical literature. And yet it has a mind and voice of its own, and speaks out with decision and sense on all public topics of the hour. It is a singular combination of the monthly magazine and the daily newspaper." It is daily in its freshness; it is monthly in its method. It is the world under a field glass.

Superior To All Sarsaparillas.

Down in Georgia, over fifty years ago, a marvelous medicine was discovered. It was what is now known as P. P. P., (Lippman's Great Remedy), and its fame and reputation has been growing with the years.

Rheumatism, Blood Poisoning, Pain in the side, wrists, shoulders, back and joints, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Syphilis, and all Blood and Skin Diseases, it has never been equalled. Pain is subjugated, Health Renewed, Appetite restored and sleepless nights banished by its wonderful influence.

P. P. P. is a wonderful tonic and strengthener. Weak women should always take P. P. P. It builds them up. It has the universal commendation of medical men throughout the country, because we publish the formula on every bottle, and one trial will convince the most skeptical that it is a genuine health restorer.

Read The Truth And Be Convinced.

A Wonderful Cure.
I was a matter to muscular rheumatism for thirty years; tried all medical and doctors with no permanent relief. I was advised to take P. P. P., and before I had finished two bottles my pain subsided so I was able to work. I feel better than I have for years, and am confident of a complete recovery.
J. S. DUPRIS, Newnan, Ga.

Testimony from the Mayor.
I suffered with Rheumatism for fifteen years, tried all the medical agencies, but to no purpose. My condition got me a bottle of P. P. P., and I feel like a new man.
W. H. WILDER, Mayor of Albany.

From Two Well-known Physicians.
We are having a big sale for your P. P. P., and we prescribe it in a great many cases, and find it an excellent thing. We handle about one dozen bottles a week.
DR. J. M. & M. T. RICHARDSON, Piedmont, S. C.

Hot Springs Surpassed.

JAMES M. NEWTON, Aberdeen, S. W. Va., Co.

Pimples, Scrofs and Eruptions Cured.
I had great pleasure in testifying to the great qualities of the popular medicine known as P. P. P. I suffered for years with eruptions, pimples, and disagreeable eruptions on my face. After taking three bottles in accordance with directions, I was entirely cured.
Capt. J. D. JOHNSTON, Savannah, Ga.
