cronce, July 81.—City Atrusy George G. Thompson to a addressed the following let to the city council, in view e recent action of Governor ns in defying arrest for ch of the peace here:

Florence, S. C., July 31, 1896. To the City Courcil:

On last Friday, J. Gary Evans, who holds the official position of governor of the State of South Carolina, and Joseph H. Earle, a judge of the circuit court of this State, each in his personal and private capacity, and exercising the right hele by every citizen of this State. by every citizen of this State, was addressing in public within this city, a large number of citizens, each endeavoring acof this county. During the pro-gress of this meeting these two political contestants became enthe votes of the people ged in a personal combat. Hundreds of men were prescht; some drew pistols, others made ready for their use, excitement ran high. One stray shot by any excited spectator would in all probability have cipitated a riot and many lives might have been sacrific ed. The peace of the city war jeopardized and its laws violat-

was communicated with by mayor and advised him the mayor and advised him that these parties could and should be arrested, without re gard to their official positions. Warrants were accordingly is sued, charging them with fighting and breach of the peace. Joseph H. Earle rendered ready obedience, but J. Gary Evans resisted, and defied the law sisted and defied the law. He told the chief of police to mayor "with the contempt it deserves," and that he considered it an insult." He inform ed the mayor that he could not be arrested; that the only way to reach him was by impeach ment. He threatened to use the power of his office to pro tect him from the consequences of the broken law. He threat ened to "take charge of the mayor and the town,', or words to this effect. We are left to conjecture as to precisely what J. Gary Evans meant by "tak ing charge of the town." As erpreted at the time by sev eral of his constables, who were with him at the time of the at tempted arrest it was an unworthy and unlawful threat to resort to the metropolitan po rest. If such could by any pos- place, died last Sunday. lice. J. Gary Evans was not arrested. He left the city, and shou press that the town authorities apologized for the attempted affront to "his excellency." I never advised that the governor could be arrested, but then advised, and still reiterate that J. Gary Evans could and should have been arrested, and that without regard to his offi-cial position and without regard to consequences, even if it re quired every man in the city to accomplish it, and even if it entailed the severe penalty of me tropolitan police.

Is his novel position, that he is above the law, sound from point of law or reason? From the standpoint of reason such a position, in the expressive language of The News and Courier is "simply monstrous," and if this precedent is sllowed to coming from the person claim stand, hereafter any humble cing the exemption, can only be accounted for on the theory of and dragged before our tributotal ignorance of the first printials, can justly complain that ciples of republican government our boast is false, and throw in bia on last Monday. or such a diseased imagination our teeth the accusation that as approximates the condition our friends, the doctors, would law. call "dementia of egotism."

Such an exemption could only arise under the common law or by statute, including the Constitution. The common law can hardly be appealed to, for no such office is known to it, for City Attorney. it is a creation of the Constitu-tion. It could arise from the common law on the theory of "kingly prerogative," inherited from the severeigns of England, and it seems that our governor rests his case on this theory for he informed the mayor than he could no more be arrested prerogation of a severeigns of a seems that our government the mayor that could no more be arrested than the "king (severeign) of lingland," or words to that effect, forgetting at the moment of this ridiculous assumption of the ridge of the ridge
