LOCAL

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE TIMES REDUCED TO $1 PER ANNUM!

We have done this because the Times circulates chiefly among the farmers, and as the price of everything which they produce has fallen, we have determined to put our paper at so low a figure that there can be no excuse for a single family in the County to be without it.

Everybody can now hear the news of each week for the paltry sum of $1.00 for the year, and advertisers will have the advantage of a large circulation.

James S. Heyward, Esq., of the Kingstree Star spent Christmas in Orangeburg.

There was thunder and lightning on Thursday night of last week.

A colored prisoner died in Jail on Christmas Eve.

The Baptist Church is about to get a stove.

Wm. Anorum, colored, was run over by the train near Mr. Duker's on Christmas Eve, and his arm had to be amputated.

Adam B. Felder, Esq., of Lower St. Matthews got his hand badly mangled in his gin last Friday.

Judge Hudson opens Court here on Monday, and we understand that the docket is full.

Willie Robinson has on hand Landreth garden seeds of every variety cheaper than ever before.

For 75 cents you can get the Times for six months. Who now can't afford to read the news?

The New Board of County Commissioners, Capt. N. N. Hayden, L. S. Connor and Ephraim Cummings were installed on last Saturday. Capt. Hayden was elected Chairman and Dr. T. R. Malone Clerk.

Rev. O. A. Darby, the new Methodist Pastor has arrived, and will commence work in his new field by preaching to-morrow.

Peter Cannon is selling breach-loading guns at exceedingly low prices. He does not intend for his wares to rest too long on the shelves.

The Orangeburg favorite cigar. The best ever offered in the market. Go at once and try them at Dr. J. G. Wannamaker's.

Robert Wiles Esq., is making headway in his carriage establishment. Mr. Wiles is an old and trusty workman and deserves success in his new enterprise.

We had the pleasure of a trip over Four Holes during the week, and if the holes in the last bridge are not speedily repaired we propose to change the name to forty holes.

We understand that the bridge over Half Way Swamp needs two turn outs for conveyances and that the attention of the County Commissioners should be directed to the improvement.

The exercises of "Mellichamp's School" will be resumed on Monday. Board can be obtained by application to the principal at from $9 to $12 per month. He has room for two more boys or young men in his family.

The Clerk of Court is still confined to his bed.

See advertisement of trees in this issue. Mr. Jourdin is thorough in the fruit and gardening business.

Monday is Salesday and Court day, and being the first of the year we expect a crowd in town.

We print President Cooke's letter on our first page. It is fair, and coming from the source it does will have weight throughout the country. We invite for it a careful perusal.

The County Commissioners have been in session all the week upon the examination of old claims. The bidding under the debt extinguishing law will commence on Monday.

We have been favored with the circular of Capt. J. B. Patrick's Military School at Greenville. Capt. Patrick has a state reputation as a teacher, and his school is always flourishing.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes says, "To guard is nobler than to heal." Dr. Harter's Elixir of Wild Cherry guards those who inhabit bottom lands and marshy districts against all malarial attacks. For sale by Reeves & Sheridan, and also by A. C. Duker.

Our worthy County Auditor, Col. D. R. Barton has moved in town. This will be an advantage to the Colonel in convenience for business, and a benefit to our town in the acquisition of another good citizen.

W. J. DeTreville Jr., son of our esteemed townsmen Col. DeTreville has been elected to a professorship in the State Agricultural College at this place. Mr. DeTreville is a young man of superior talent, and we feel assured will make an efficient instructor.

Mr. Florence Glover, a quiet and respectable citizen of St. Matthews, living near Lewisville, shot and killed himself with a pistol on Friday of last week.

Heart disease and a consequent weariness of life is said to have been the cause of the suicide.

A little son of our worthy Master W. M. Hutson, Esq., while playing with some of his school fellows got his arm dislocated some time ago and the services of Dr. Sailey were finally required to set it right. Let this be a warning to boys against rough play.

Persons who have weak lungs, should call on Dr. J. G. Wannamaker, and procure one of Torrey's Lung Protectors. They are the very thing for persons who have a great deal of riding to do. Don't fail to procure something that will prolong your life.

Dr. J. B. Willson, of Ben Lomond, Ark. says: "I have been in the practice of medicine for 25 years; I contracted a severe and troublesome cough, which lasted for 18 years; for which I used many preparations, with no relief; at last I tried Dr. Harter's Lung Balm which entirely cured me."

For sale by Reeves & Sheridan, and also for sale by A. C. Duker.

August Fischer holds a public auction every Salesday and Saturday, and we would advise purchasers to attend if they want to get bargains and save money. This is one of the most enterprising houses in our town, and friend Jones is always in place to serve customers. Read the advertisement in another column, and then go around and be convinced.

The annual festival of the Congregational Sabbath school took place last Sunday afternoon at the colored Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. L. Johnston pastor.

Addresses were made by Rev.'s T. H. Legare, Goosley, Lawrence, and Capt. J. A. Hamilton. The audience was large and the exercises were generally interesting.

See advertisement of W. M. Sain in another column. We call special attention to his stock of staple and fancy groceries, wines, liquors and cigars which cannot be excelled. His mountain dew comes direct from the distillery in North Carolina. He has on hand a fine stock of horses and mules; and his omnibus line and livery stables contribute in no small degree to the public convenience.

We understand that in consequence of the attendance of James L. Sheridan, Esq., on the medical lectures in Charleston, Dr. Sherod A. Reeves, will carry on the business entirely on his own account, and we wish him all the success to which his experience as an apothecary entitles him. Mr. Sheridan we hope will soon return from the "City by the Sea" thoroughly doctor'd, and find some where a lucrative opening awaiting him.

As will be seen by his card in another column Maj. A. B. Knowlton who left us some time back to seek his fortune elsewhere has returned to old Orangeburg and determined to establish himself permanently as a counsellor at law. As a lawyer it is well known that Maj. Knowlton has few equals, and we trust that he will never find cause to regret his purpose.

On Sunday afternoon services were held in the Lutheran Church entirely in German, for the benefit of our German citizens. We know the power of association, and how pleasant it must have been for these adopted citizens singing and following the service in their own native tongue to be thus forcibly reminded of their Fatherland and the scenes and circumstances of the homes of their earlier days.

While we are returning thanks for Christmas and New Year presents, we cannot forget the beautiful sleeve buttons and mustache cap presented to us by the young people. Such testimonials of regard are appreciated more than words can express. The letter of presentation, signed by the School Committee, and couched in language so feeling and yet bearing such indications of sincerity will be kept as a pleasant memento, and the names of the juvenile donors will ever be cherished in the fondest remembrance.

What a consolation it is to feel in the midst of the bustle and confusion of life that there is some one who thinks of the printers and editors.

On Wednesday we were made glad by the reception of a basket of the richest and nicest fruit and iced cakes that ever falls to the lot of the Press.

We always thought that a good soldier would be good at everything else, and this is verified by Mr. T. W. Albergotti who has proved himself to be as faithful in baking, and feeding the multitude, as he was in defending the rights of his country in the recent war.

We wish him a happy New Year!

On Christmas Eve we heard of several Christmas trees in the community for the young ones.

In the town there was one at the Episcopal Church which made the juveniles glad.

At Jamison's we heard of two, one at the Methodist Church an account of which we sought, but failed to obtain, and another at the Baptist Church.

The latter was under the direction of R. H. Riley Esq., the efficient superintendent of the school.

The Christmas message was made by Rev. T. W. Mellichamp whose subject was "The Great Gift to the World."

The Christmas tree was brilliantly illuminated and dazzled with presents that gladdened the hearts of the children. The whole affair passed off pleasantly and superintendent Riley should feel gratified.
