 SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1879.

Col. Aiken and the News and Courier.
 We print on the first page a few extracts from the valedictory remarks of Hon. D. Wyatt Aiken on the discontinuance of the Agricultural columns in the News and Courier. We regret to learn from them that the discontinuance of these columns, as well as the failure of agricultural journals in this State is owing to the lack of support, and the want of a disposition for agricultural reading on the part of our farmers. If there is any employment which need's union, it is that of the farmer, and how can union be better promoted than by these vehicles of intelligence, which cannot fail to enlighten, elevate and harmonize. All classes are more united than the farmers, and yet the farmers support all. They have the power, and will not use it.
 How long will these things be?
Bayard for President.
 There is no doubt that the man who is looming up most prominently as the Democratic candidate for President is Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware. There is a consistency, independence, and soundness of statesmanship which has won for him the respect of the nation. While others have been led away with financial heresies he has remained consistent, and never wavers from his honest convictions. He draws men to him by his solidity and honesty of his character. He is certainly the choice of the South for the chief magistracy of the nation. We are fully aware that the South must sacrifice personal preferences for the success of the Democracy, but, unless some unseen policy orders otherwise, we hope to see Bayard as our honored standard bearer. It is time that the Presidential chair should be filled again by an able and upright christian statesman.

Higher Education.
 A letter in the News and Courier from the able pen of Benj. R. Stuart, a practical teacher, written at the request of Attorney General Youmans, we trust will awaken a proper zeal in this important matter. The writer shows from a careful examination of statistics that not half the number of youths are taking a course of higher instruction in the State as formerly, and that, unless a remedy be provided, we are in danger, and in fact in absolute certainty of falling behind other civilized communities in scientific and literary culture. It is to be hoped that our State pride will be aroused on this subject, and that definite speedy and practicable arrangements may be made for the re-establishment of the South Carolina College. We cannot underate the value that this institution has been to us in the past in giving influence and power to our State, and, with the establishment of Democratic government, its revival should be our first concern. The Bill for the purpose, establishing two institutions of higher education, one for the whites, and one for the colored people, has passed, and we are glad to hear that some progress is being made in the direction of the latter, but we need both institutions to shed their influence upon our future history. Nothing tends more to the elevation of the character of a people or a State than the light which beams from her classic walls.

Raleigh, N. C., January 15.—The Democratic caucus of the Legislature to-night nominated Governor Vance for United States Senator by acclamation. He addressed the caucus, speaking in favor of party harmony and organization.

Rev. A. Flynn Dickson.
 The sad intelligence of the demise of this estimable divine will be received with deep sorrow by his numerous friends in Orangeburg.
 Mr. Dickson was an accomplished scholar, a faithful minister, and a benevolent citizen, and wherever he moved exercised a potent influence for good.
 His christian work commenced as a missionary in the Sabbath school cause on our islands. In this capacity his superior talents were soon attained, and he was called to the Presbyterian church in Orangeburg to succeed the Rev. B. M. Palmer.
 As a pastor at this place he remained for eight or nine years, where he worked faithfully in the cause of his master, and made many warm and lasting friends.
 From this place he was called to a large and influential church in New Orleans where he labored successfully for several years. He then moved to North Carolina from which State he was called to a chair in the colored State Theological College of Alabama, which position he filled with marked satisfaction.
 About six months ago the Prichard prize was offered by a Northern College for the best essay on some classical subject, and the palm of victory $500, was borne off by Mr. Dickson against competition open to the country at large, an honor in which not only the victor, but the South of which he was a representative, is a just pride.
 During the war he entered the service as chaplain, where he remained true and faithful to his trust, flinching from the dangers of sword or pestilence in the discharge of his duty.
 At Fort Sumter and Battery Wagner he was on duty in the stormiest period, and shared the dangers and privations of the private soldier on all occasions.
 In his death a good man has passed away, and we cannot do less than point to his life and record for the emulation of the living.

 COLUMBIA, January 15.—The Governor continues to improve, and to-day has evidenced his increased strength by taking a luggy ride some distance into the country. Attorney General Youmans and Capt. W. E. Earle leave tonight for Washington, whither they go to attend the United States Supreme Court to argue the question of the liability of the Air-Line Railroad to taxation. The case comes up on Friday.

An old fashioned duel took place at Dubois Bridge in Darlington County on Monday between Capt. C. B. Cash of Chesterfield, and James Cauty Esq., of Camden. Shots were exchanged and neither party was injured. The matter was then adjusted and the belligerents returned from the field as friends.
 Gov. Hampton is expected to participate in the celebration of Washington's Birthday in Charleston next month. The W. L. I. have invited him, and it is said that he has accepted.
 Considerable preparation is being made, and a glorious day is anticipated.
 An earthquake was felt in Florida on Sunday night which gave the people of that State a considerable scare and shake.

45 Years Before the Public.
 THE GENUINE
DR. C. McLANE'S
 CELEBRATED
 FOR THE CURE OF
 Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint.
 REGISTERED AND SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.
PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.
 DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL. For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequalled.

Beware of Imitations.
 The genuine are never sugar coated. Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.
 The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.
 Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.
