Deaths
Mr. Abram Dukes, an old and respected citizen, died at his residence near Branchville of dropsy of the chest, on the 5th inst. The deceased was a Mason in good standing, a useful member of the Church, and a valued and loved citizen, and many there are to regret the extinguishment of his lamp of life. Our oldest citizens are generally our best, and it is a melancholy thing to see them thus passing away. Mr. Dukes had more than half completed his three-score of years. Request in pace.

We regret to learn of the death of a little child of Mr. Fred. Livingston. Our sympathies are with the bereaved parents.
Mr. Ed. unison, living near Santee river, died last Saturday of pneumonia, leaving a wife and child.
Mr. William Way, an old citizen of St. Matthews, was buried last Sunday.
Mr. Jacob Harmon, an old and esteemed citizen of St. Matthews, died last week.

Also Mr. Joseph Kraft, one among the first to take up arms and to battle for the Lost Cause. He leaves a wife and five children. We sympathize with his relatives and friends.
Thus one by one the reaper gathers in his harvest, one generation passing away to make room for the next, which is steadily marching onward to take its place.

To the Editor Orangeburg Times:
"Fiat Justitia Ruat Caelum" says he had waited for some one to give a truthful statement of the election here on the 3rd February, but as no one seemed disposed to do so he "would give a brief statement in justice to all parties." He leads off with the statement, "we had no political party struggle, but tickets of a local nature," which is not true. A Democratic straight-out ticket was put in the field on Saturday morning against a ticket which got up by Democrats was supported by the Republicans en masse, and who declared for E. T. R. Smoak on political grounds. The supporters of the Smoak ticket were notified of it, but they claim it was an electing ticket, and further to extricate themselves from an unpleasant dilemma claim in the face of the whole Democracy of the County, that E. T. R. Smoak is a Democrat—where he renounced his allegiance to the Republican party, is known only to your correspondent who has given a truthful statement of the matter. He says, "all the ticket being Democratic except E. Green." It is surprising he had not put him down also a Democrat—everybody recollects his (Green's) Peter Yons, notoriety.

Others on the ticket have never joined the Democratic party. J. D. Rhoad has never joined the party, and Mr. A. F. H. Dukes who seems so sensitive in regard to being called a Republican or Independent was waited upon by several Committees to know where he stood in the campaign of 1876 and was elected in 1878 on the same score by the Democracy. In the rainy days of Republicanism he gave aid and support by going to the official bond of E. T. R. Smoak. Now they supported this ticket with all their energy and influence previous to and on the day of election—guarded the box by a man in front of it, and one in the rear—being defeated, claim the managers acted unfairly, and that the box was stuffed by their opponents.

The Democrats on the Reeves ticket never asked any true Republicans to go on their ticket to strengthen it; they felt able to take care of themselves without forming any such miscegeation with them. Your correspondent says, "but they refused to run." I would ask why? Because he must acknowledge they were determined to elect E. T. R. Smoak and E. Green Republicans, and they had the aid and support of the "true Democrats" on the ticket.
When the votes were counted the leaders of the Smoak ticket were very much excited and proposed forming a line to count their followers which so excited the colored Republicans that it precipitated a row, and if it had not been for the efforts of a few Democrats, we would have had a bloody affair. After the election was declared, the crowd of Republicans massed in the street, being harangued by their leaders, while the Democrats had retired to their homes peacefully. The negroes in the presence of some of these parties commenced calling out "where is the white man" which brought them out and was the cause of the second affray. To stop these actions of the Republicans, Mr. J. W. Fair and R. Lewis Berry went on the street—after stopping it in one direction they proceeded down the street in front of where a negro was calling for the "white man," and while speaking to him the fracas between Mr. Fair and Dukes commenced, which I will not here speak of further as it will undergo legal investigation, only to say it did not occur inside of Mr. Dukes' house.

Editor Times:
Knowing that you take great interest in all that pertains to the advancement and prosperity of Agriculture in our County, and that you are always ready to aid with your valuable paper every object that is calculated to add to its material prosperity, I hand you the enclosed letter for publication if you think proper. The letter speaks for itself. Much has been said by our farmers about the low price of cotton. The question continually arising can we make cotton at 8 cents per pound? What can we plant that will pay us better? These are important questions to be answered, and each farmer will answer them according to his own individual stand-point. I hold that we can make cotton at 8 cents per pound, provided, we do not make it an exclusive crop. Mr. Legare tells us he thinks Jute will pay better than cotton. With our climate, soil and seasons we can produce nearly every thing we need for home consumption, and the farmer, if he is prudent, economical and not in debt, can live with but little cash outlay during the year. Then let us diversify our crops—make every thing as far as we can for home consumption. Let us use economy—avoid debt, never buy on credit, if we can avoid it. Credit means paying from 20 to 50 per cent. above cash prices. It makes the farmer a slave to his creditor—it binds him hand and foot, and will, if he continues it certainly end in his ruin. Pay as you go should be the motto of every farmer. Let them carry it out fully, and with frugality and industry. I hold they will soon become the happiest and most independent people as a class on God's green earth.
Respectfully,
W. F. BARTON.

FORT MOTTE, S. C., Feb. 22nd 1879.
DEAR SIR:

I see in your last meeting of the Agr'l Society a discussion in regard to planting Jute, and as I tried it last year, I will give you my experience with it, if it is of any use to any of my farmer friends.
I planted when putting in cotton from 10th April to 1st May—on ordinary cotton land. The seed seems to be very delicate, and I find it hard to get a stand—should be planted when the land is damp, and covered lightly—a first planting may grow slowly, not as fast as the cotton, but I do not think we can plant broad cast on ordinary lands. The seed will not grow in a dry place, but will grow in a wet place, but one of two plants to a bush and one will probably die. The plants by middle of September grow 5 or 6 feet high and from 1 to 1 1/2 inch thick (the proper size for fibre) and should then be cut while in bloom.

The frost caught them before maturing the seed well however, so I did not save any seed, nor did I steep any of them as I left all I had to go to seed. However, if we would devote half the attention we do to cotton to an acre of Jute, I am satisfied it would pay twice as much with less work; for cotton at 8 cents will not pay its expenses on ordinary land. I see it stated you will have some seed to dispose of. If so I would like to get one or two pounds to plant again this spring more carefully.
Yours very truly,
THOS. K. LEGARE.

THE GENUINE DR. C. McLANE'S Celebrated American WORM SPECIFIC OR VERMIFUGE.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.
THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach; at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy; not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hicough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist, DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure. IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant. The genuine DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrapper.
DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS
are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.
AGUE AND FEVER.
No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. As a simple purgative they are unequalled.
Beware of Imitations.
The genuine are never sugar coated. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS. Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.
