Our Sunday Rambles-

On Sunday morning we attended the Lutheran Church. It being Easter, the house was most tastefully decorated with flowers and overgreens as an appropri te reminder of the joy which should characterize the day, and the occasion.

Over the pulpit hung in graceful characters of evergreeus, the words, "Christ is Kisen."

Rev. J. F. Kiser, the pastor, preached a very impressive sermon from Acts 18 21, "I must by all means keep this frost," His theme was the Lords Supper, which he represented as a love feast, and urged all Christians to be regular in its observance, and to keep themselves prepared in heart and spirit for i's en joyment.

The music was superior, and the exalting strains of "coronation" struck a responsive chord in every heart.

In the afternoon we attended the Presbyterian Church. Rev. J D. A. Brown preached from the text, "Behold, now is the day of saleation." He first defined salvation and explained its nature. He next showed that the day of salvation, which in a general sense referred to the whole time of Christs reign, in an individual sense meant now, and no other time. That life was like a vapor, short and uncertain, and that now was the day of salvation. In conclusion he urged upon all the necessity of immediato attention to this matter of transcendeut importance.

Evening found us at the Methodist Church There we listened to a most instructive discourse from Rav. O. A Darby, from the text, "If any min will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I spea of myself."

He showed that the truth of any doctrine was established in two ways. viz : By argument and by experiment. That it was much the same with the Christian religion. That while the arguments of commentators and theologians were valuable, they could not be understood by all, but that none are deprived of the experience of the text, if we do the will of God we will know of His doctrine that it is true. We were urged therefore to obey God's commands and do Il is will, and we would be blest with light, and a knowledge of the truth of His doctrine.

Were held all over the County on Saturday. To some of them we were invited, but business prevented our attendance. From all that we can learn they were heartily enjoye l.

Personal-

We had the pleasure, during the past week, of a call at our office from Mr. Earlie L. Jennings, the genial traveling of that enterprising journal the Augusta, Ga. "Chronicle and Constitutionalist.

Methodist Conference-

The Quarterly Conference of this Church takes place in Orangeburg to-day. Prof. Duncan will be in attendance and during the meeting is expected to deliver an address in the interest of Wofford College.

Appreciative-

We hear regrets on every side at the resignation of Mr. Sam'l Dibble as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday s hool at this place. He was beloved by both teachers and schol ars, and the school has been most prosperous under his superintend ence.

The Railroad Store-

Mr. Moseley keeps constantly on hand at this store the best assortment of groceries which he sells at prices to suit the times. Cu-tomers calling will receive the polite attention of the proprietor and his affab e assistant Mr. Geo. S Shirer, and are bound to come away pleased.

Plain Talk-

Such is the heading of Mr. Henry Kohn's advertisement in to-day's issue, and if you read his price list you will find that he not only deals in plain talk, but low prices, as well as number one goods. For hosier /, clothing and fancy goods here's the place to get the value of your money

Floral Fair --

We call attention to the premiu a list of the Floral Fair in another column. The gentlemen of the Com mittee are doing their best t make the Fair a success, and as to the I dies we have no fears as to their part. Let our citizens now do their part and make the effort an honor to our County.

Fine Oil-

In watking through Mr. Pike's store we were attracted by the clear and brilliant oil in his lamps Upon inquiry we ascertained that it was a new spec.men called "red and it and that, although dearer, it possesses the essential quality of double safety in using. e also noticed improvments in the lamps.

Invention-

It was our pleasure to examine, on luesday afternoon, a new universal planter, the result of the ingenuity of Capt. Hasne Wannamaker and his son Lewis Waneamaker. We witnessed its operations and werpleased with the uniformity of the distribution of the seeds and the general simplicity of the mechanism. We wish the designers every success

Feminine Eccentricities-Notico

On Wednesday afternoon, a diversion was caused on Russel street, by the peculiar antics of a member of the gentler sex who had imbibed too freely of the fiery element.

The Puzzle-

In answer to our proposition in our last issue to the boys and girls of the town who would try how many words could be made out of the seven letters in the word "Display," Master J. E. Glover has sent us the greatest number. He has given us 40 words. Since writing the above we have received another response ahead of this. Master Geo. J. Dexter has sent us 67 words. See by next issue who can do better. As a matter of curiosity we may publish the words of the party giving the most.

New Tannery-

Some weeks ago we mentioned the fact that Mr. Harpin Riggs, with Mr. Prusner, his assistant, had taken a trip above Columbia for the purpose of getting full instructions in the new and short process of tanning which has a ready been brought to the attention of our citizens. We are gratified to hear that the thing is an accomplished fact, Mr. Riggs having established the tannery near his spring. Our people will now be able to get their leather in a few weeks after the skins are deposited in the vats.

----The Trees

Around the Court House, which the now putting on their beautiful spring diess, naturally suggest a 'local" in their interest. We have already spoken of the propriety of a neat fence being crected around this square which so costly a building and so beautiful and public a spot richly deserves, but if this can't be done-if the County which was rich enough to spend so many thousands of dollars on this building is not rich enough to put up a simple fonce around it. certainly a few dollarcould be spent in boxing to protect the trees from injury.

The Grand Jury also brong t this matter to the attention of the Court. Why is it is a taitended to?

he committee selected by the 'News and Courier" to examine the stories sent in under the prize offer of that paper have completed the oner ous task and awarded the prize to the story chilled " Ashard ' or " The Days inar ere," which will soon be pubrished in the 'Weekiy news." The name of the autoor is not yet anneunced, and is anxiously looked for . The Committee of Award wis composed of Rev. J. A. Chambriss, Rev. C. S. Vedder and Herbert Sass,

Esq. The greatest lairness and delicacy were observed in the whole matter. The Commutee was not Florida, Our Land of Flowers. A throng of sufferers with coughs and colds, annually go South to en joy the ethereal milliness of the land of flowers. To them we would say the necessity of that expensive trip is obviated by Cussens' compound honey of tar, which speedily cures the coughs and colds incident to this rigorous clime. For public speakers it surpasses the Demostheale regimen of "pebbles and sea shore;" clearing the throat until the voice rings with the silvery cadence of a bell. Use Coussens' Compound Honey of Tar. Price 50 cents a bottle. For sale by Dr. J. G. Wannamaker.

We understand that he takes the evening train with his fair young bride, on a wedding tour. We wish the couple a pleasant trip and a smooth and blis-ful journey through life.

Homeward Bound-

On Tuesday, a citizen of South Carolina, who had emigrated some years back to try his fortune in Nevada, reached Orangeburg on his homeward journey, having, after it's long wanderings, come to the conciu sion that "there is no place like home." He said that he livel near Columbia, and applied to our mayor for the means of transportation wassa was kindly furnished.

The Liberal Offer of One Hundred Dollars in Gold By that enterprising Journal, the 'News and Courier," has been awarded to the author of "Ashurst" or the "Days that are not." The "News and Courier" descrives much credit for this admirable and generous scheme by which an impetus and relish has been given to the literary taste of our people; and, besides this, with so many excelent stories tased upon incidents of Southern life, is stands to reason that'a valuable addition has been made to he fund of Southern literature.
