

...the President's better nature asserted itself and the name was sent in. But there came two protesting telegrams from Charleston Republicans, Mr. Hayes speedily recovered himself, and the mischief was at once undone. Maj. Hammond may be a cultivated gentleman and an honest man, but he must learn to denounce his people as "corrupt secession traitors" before he can do anything with the Administration.—Chronicle.

We fully endorse the following from the Columbia Register:
The Republicans are beginning to dot the South with bloody shirt organs to serve their purposes in the ensuing general election. They have already established the Lebber in New Orleans, which the telegraph announced a few days ago had made its debut with a liberal advertising patronage from "Democrats." Save the mark! Last night's dispatches proclaim the advent at Little Rock of the Ashansas Republican, and it is rumored that an organ of the party is to be established in Columbia at an early day. We trust if it does the citizens will force it to rely entirely on the contributions of the party it means to foist upon us, if possible, to our irremediable ruin.

There are 278 lawyers members of Congress—in the Senate 59, and in the House 219. Besides, Hayes and Wheeler are both lawyers—and the heads of Departments are all lawyers. This is pretty heavy on the profession. But we of the South can stand it, as very few lawyers from this section have got office yet. We understand, however, that there are a few, here and there, scattered around—especially in Georgia—where Grant was so well entertained, who would like to burn coal in Washington.—Ec.

What is education? Many answers have been given to this question, nor do we hope to throw much light upon the subject, but we deem a true education to be a training of the whole of a man—intellectually, morally and physically. To train the intellect alone makes man a mental giant, and puts in his hands the instrument for accomplishing great evil. To train the heart alone makes him a fanatic, and to train the body alone makes him a well developed brute.—Ec.

Executions.

Dr. Thomas in the New York Herald advocates drowning as a substitute for hanging. He says it is pleasanter and less liable to hangings. He thinks if the change is not made each State ought to appoint an expert to do the hanging, as none but the experienced ought to take life.

A couple of young men staying unconsciously late one night with their sweethearts, were surprised to see the "old man" looking about the hall and finally the parlor as though in search of something. "What are you looking for, pa?" at last asked one of the girls. "The missing papers!" growled the old man, and the young men took a hasty leave.

You can always tell whether an editor is a single or married man by his selection of poetry for the paper: The single one always clips verses on "Love," and "My Darling," and that kind; while the married one selects some cheapest way of keeping house, or on the foolishness of fashion as displayed in dress.

Arthur Jordan, a married negro who had induced a respectable white girl, the daughter of Nathan Corder to elope with him, had been caught and lodged in the county jail at Warrenton, Ga., was taken by a masked party from the jail on Sunday morning and hanged on a tree in a neighboring cemetery.

...the President's better nature asserted itself and the name was sent in. But there came two protesting telegrams from Charleston Republicans, Mr. Hayes speedily recovered himself, and the mischief was at once undone. Maj. Hammond may be a cultivated gentleman and an honest man, but he must learn to denounce his people as "corrupt secession traitors" before he can do anything with the Administration.—Chronicle.

You meet in this world with false mirth as often as with false gravity; the grinning hypocrite is not a more uncommon character than the groaning one. As much light discourse comes from a heavy heart as from a hollow one, and from a full mind as from an empty head.

The Committee of Investigation on the reported cruelty to the Penitentiary convicts used on the Greenwood railroad met on Monday, and will earnestly to work to ascertain who are the guilty parties, and have them punished.
