ORANGEBURG, S. C., JULY 4, 1879.

The stock of Mr. Fischer will be sold at auction at his brick store to-morrow and succeeding days.

Very nearly every section of the county has had rain during the week but not enough to meet the demands of the fruiting crops.

Considerable hail fell in some portions of the County on Sunday evening. The damage, however, to gardens and crops was slight.

We return our thanks for an invitation to attend the Sunday School Mass Meeting at Union Camp Ground on the 11th instant.

Mr. C. B. Glover has been appointed by the Governor, Judge of Probate for Orangeburg County.

Rev. T. W. Mellichamp failed to serve the Baptist Church at this place on Sunday last because of illness.

Mr. Bell is pushing the brick building of Dr. Dukes rapidly forward. So of Messrs. Smith and Tucker, who has the contract for his wooden buildings.

We are under obligations to Mrs. Dr. J. C. Arant for one of the largest and sweetest heads of cabbage we have ever enjoyed.

Our town is enjoying a season of almost complete exemption from sickness. All the old cases are convalescing and very few new ones recorded.

Our thanks are due to Mr. J. D. Sistrunk for the first watermelon of the season. It was of an average size, fully ripe and well flavored.

Why not give our faithful pastors a summer vacation? This question the churches should answer.

The Newberry News, in speaking of the commencement exercises of Newberry College, says: "The event of Tuesday was the address before the Alumni Association of the College by Mr. J. B. O'Neill Holloway, of Orangeburg."

We learn that a little son of Mr. Rosendorf was bitten on Sunday evening last by what was supposed to be a mad cat. The animal, running in the room, sprang upon the bed and bit the child on the foot.

We notice some very convenient changes made by our Post Master in the interior of the building. The delivery is now on the left of entrance and the back part of the office, which before was open, is now closed and any little caucus between the Post Master and friends is shut out from the view of the vulgar crowd.

It is said that Orangeburg County was the best represented community at Charleston on the 28th of June, very nearly every business interest being fully represented.

John Scott, colored driver of Mr. J. H. Livingston, was sent from the tar-pentine farm by that gentleman to Orangeburg with $25 in cash to purchase some needed articles from Mr. Kortjohn Scott, after collecting other small amounts from his comrades on the farm, thought the opportunity a good one, gave the dodge and has never been heard of since.

Office hours on Sunday at Dr. Wannamaker's Drug Store from 8 to 10 A. M., and from 12 to 3 P. M. In case of emergency access can be had to the Drug Store any time during the day or night.

We are authoritatively informed that there will be another grand excursion on the South Carolina Railroad, to Charleston on the night of the 3d of July and morning of the 4th.

The absence of Mr. Joseph Fros in Charleston to meet his sister accounts for the store being closed on Saturday last, and the failure of our citizens to get the usual supply of ice and confectionaries.

POMONA GRANGE, No. 17.—The next quarterly meeting of the Pomona Grange will be held at the hall of Washington Grange on Saturday, July 5th.

The following officers were elected last Monday night by Orangeburg Division, No. 24, Sons of Temperance, to serve the ensuing quarter: J. L. Sims, W. P.; Dr. T. A. Elliott, W. A.; J. A. Williams, Chaplain; W. B. Thompson, F. S.; Col. J. C. Edwards, T.; W. C. Bull, R. S.; Mrs. W. C. Bull, A. R. S.; Miss Fannie Cannon, C.; Miss Ollie Wannamaker, A. C.; Miss Lillie Williams, I. S.; James McNamara, O. S.

Dr. A. S. Salley is absent from town on a trip to Kingstree in Williamsburg County where his daughter, Mrs. J. S. Heyward, resides. We, in common with all the citizens of our town, express the wish that the good Doctor's visit may be a pleasant one.

We have been pleased to hear of the safe arrival of Misses Mary Eros and Lisette Boylos in our town, two young ladies direct from Kashaw, a city of Hungary. The former, a sister of our fellow-townsmen, Mr. Jos. Eros, will assist her brother in the store and take charge of the ladies' department, the latter will reside with her kinsman, Mr. T. Kohn.

The character of a town—the zeal, success and progressiveness of its citizens—is a pretty fair index of its hotel accommodation, so on the other hand the character of a hotel is a pretty fair index of the progressiveness of a town.

At proper intervals between the sets of speakers the Orangeburg Quintette Club furnished most delightful music which was a very enjoyable variation in the exercises of the evening. Discrimination here is out of order yet we will express our opinion, with no claims to impartiality however, based upon the almost universal judgment of visitors, that the pupils without a single exception acquitted themselves well and reflected much credit on the school at which they were taught during the year.

Sheridan's School.

The closing exercises of this institution of learning took place in the Court House on the evening of June 27th, at half past eight o'clock. One of the largest crowds, ever assembled in that spacious Court room, was present to greet and encourage the young men and boys in their last appearance as pupils in the scholastic year drawing so nearly to its close.

The room was brilliantly illuminated and the decorations upon the wall, railing of the bar and tables presented a most beautiful scene. No wonder success crowned the efforts of the youthful speakers when—who could not succeed amid such a brilliant display of flowers, of affectionate regard of kindred and of such a manifestation of deep concern by an entire community of friends to education.

MARSHALS—E. Scoville, A. H. Williams, P. C. Brunson, C. H. Glover. At proper intervals between the sets of speakers the Orangeburg Quintette Club furnished most delightful music which was a very enjoyable variation in the exercises of the evening.

On Saturday evening last Mr. Jno. Gissendanner left his place of business (a storekeeper), on Little Bull Swamp, without communicating his designs to anyone. Sunday morning young Axom, going to church, heard the neighing of a horse and, proceeding in the direction, found Mr. Gissendanner's horse tied and his clothing in a bundle near by.

A Virginia lady writes: "And now a few words to the girls who may read this.—Be careful to whom you write and what you write. Many a loving, trusting letter is sent by a true-hearted girl, and is read by the receiver to a laughing crowd of men, and various remarks are passed about the silly girl. I can conscientiously say, on the other hand, that I have never seen nor heard of a girl showing letters promiscuously, even from a man she did not care for, though they are often shown to the one 'dear friend' in strict confidence."

The merchants of Orangeburg are determined to meet every demand possible to our citizens. With this spirit that enterprising and successful merchant Mr. J. C. Pike has added a furniture department to his already extensive stock of general merchandise, and is now able to supply the wants of the county at astonishingly low prices.
