

Forget-Me-Not.
There grew in some neglected spot
A tiny blue Forget-me not,
So lone and fair.
I chid'd the flower with mute caress
More fit for angel-hand to press,
And in my care
It bloomed awhile, and gaye me joy,
The pure, and fair-eyed tender toy—
Then slumbered deep.
To trail within the Master's hand
My tender flower shall still expand,
And I will keep Within my heart of hearts for aye
The name, and but a name to-day,
Which here I press.

Clippings.
—Every man throws on to his surroundings the sunshine or the shadow that exists in his own soul.
—Don't remark that there's nothing new under the sun. There are sixty new styles of bonnets.
—A recent poet says: "As she sighed he sighed." If they were sitting side by side, it might have been a great sighed woe.
—Emma: the only point of resemblance between flowers and women, that we are aware of, is that they both shut up when they sleep.
—Worldly friendship is like our shadows; while we walk in sunshine it sticks close to us, but the moment we enter the shade it deserts us.
—Baton Rouge has lately increased her police force to three men and a dog. The dog is depended on to stand over the officers while they sleep.

—Oh, fashion!—It was about 11 a. m., and she was plowing an old one-horned ox. She was barefooted and bareheaded, but had on a "pin-back" dress.

—It is said that a coon can be caught by leaving whiskey in its vicinity, but the average hunter would rather drink the whiskey and take chances on the coon.

—The Democratic State Convention of Maryland did not instruct its delegates to Cincinnati, but expressed confidence in the distinguished ability of Thos. F. Bayard.

—Hasty words rankle a wound, soft ones dress. Forgiveness cures it, and forgetfulness removes the scar. It is more noble to avoid an injury by silence than to overcome it by argument.

—A young Western lady, who is partly deaf, is in the habit of answering "yes" to everything when a gentleman is talking to her, for fear he might propose to her and she not hear it.

—When you see a man take off his hat to you it is a sign that he respects you. But when he is seen divesting himself of his coat you can make up your mind that he intends that you shall respect him.

—At a recent Philadelphia picnic, when it was discovered that the croquet articles had been forgotten, a wicked girl suggested supplying their places with the two bow-legged young men present.

—Tastes differ. Some men would like nothing better than to go to war, become heroes and return home a colonel, while the ambition of others is to sit on a dry goods box circus day, chewing ginger-bread while the parade passes.

—The latest yarn about fast time is to the effect that on a certain road a youngster put his head out of the car window to kiss his girl good by when the train pulled out so rapidly that he kissed an old African female at the next station.

—The Northern Methodist General Conference refused pointedly to elect a colored man bishop, notwithstanding the body was strongly importuned to do so by the colored members of the church, on the ground that one of their race could more heartily sympathize with them.

—An item of the World's Chicago correspondence reads thus: "It is something novel and rather refreshing to see coal black negroes in hotels smoking, drinking and swinging chairs. They are here en masse, and drive about the streets in open carriages 'happy as the day is long.'"

—What is friendship good for that only blossoms in sunshine, and shuts up at night and in stormy days? What is a friendship good for that stands in stead when you do not want or need it? Then, when a man would be ribbed up in strength, is the time when friendship will show itself.

—Arizona sends a walling cry to the East for 15,000 women, but we can't spare them. If all our women are to be dragged West, we'd like to know what provision is going to be made for the support of the men who sit on the grocery counters and tell what tremendous men their grandfathers were.

—The Rochester Democrat says: "An ordinance could be introduced in the Common Council making it a misdemeanor for a young man to drive a horse in the evening with one hand. This one arm business endangers the life and limb of other citizens who have outgrown that sort of nonsense."

—To classical student—You ask, "If Atlas supported the world, what support of Atlas?" The question, sir, has often been asked, but never, so far as we are aware, satisfactorily answered. We have always been of the opinion that Atlas must have married a rich wife, and got his support from her father.

LIGHTNING SEWER
THE NEW WILSON
Oscillating Shuttle
SEWING MACHINE
is wonderful in its conception, unprecedented for doing a large range of sewing in textile fabrics and leather. Its motions are continuous, admitting of an extraordinary rate of speed, either by steam or foot power. Every motion of the treadle makes six stitches, thus producing about one-third more work in a day than other Sewing Machines. It has no stop motions, and tightens the stitch with the needle out of the fabric. It uses the well-known Wilson Compound Feed on both sides of the needle. It has two-thirds less parts than any other first-class Sewing Machine.
Its arm is fully eight and one-half inches long and one-half inches high, and the whole Machine is very compactly and scientifically constructed in proportions, elegance, design and appearance. Its simple, powerful and perfect mechanism places it as far in advance of all other Sewing Machines as the telephone is superior to the tin speaking tube. The WILSON MENDING ATTACHMENT, for repairing all kinds of textile fabrics WITHOUT PATCHING, furnishes FREE with all WILSON SEWING MACHINES, together with a Tuckor, Ruffler, Governor, Set of Hemmers, Binder, etc.

These Machines are on exhibition and for sale by
