

KEEP TO THE RIGHT.—Will not the police make the wagons and other vehicles keep to the right? The streets at this season are a jam, and every one should follow this rule.

Lost, between Orangeburg and the residence of C. G. Dantzier, Esq., a Badge formed with the Greek letters chi and phi on gold, and set with rubies and pearls. The finder will be rewarded by leaving the same at the residence of C. G. Dantzier Esq., or at this office.

ORDINATION.—After the morning service at the Presbyterian Church on last Sabbath an impressive ordination sermon was made by the Rev. J. D. A. Brown, and Capt. John A. Hamilton was ordained a ruling elder, and Capt. B. W. Izlar a deacon of the church.

OUR thanks are due Capt. T. K. Legare, of Fort Motte, for favors conferred while there on Saturday last. Capt. Legare, we learned, is the only Gentle merchant at the Fort, and is competing successfully with the proverbial shrewdness of his Hebrew neighbors.

Miss Barbara Pound, aged 89 years and one of the oldest inhabitant on Bull Swamp, is lying sick with a severe type of fever. We trust the means employed for her recovery may be blessed with success and this worthy octogenarian may yet number her hundredth year.

We call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of Mr. A. F. H. Dukes of Branchville. He has on hand a large stock of fresh and fashionable goods in every department which he proposes to sell as low as they can be bought in any town of the State. Give him a call and examine for yourself.

We had the honor on Tuesday evening last of a serenade by the Edisto Band. The remarkable proficiency and skill of these gentlemen have long been a source of pride to our citizens; we, with others, wish for them still higher attainment in this useful as well as elegant art. As an institution of our town we are proud of it.

It is said by those who heard it that Boliver's speech at Fort Motte last Saturday was the tamest affair possible for a campaign effort. We are glad that the expose made by the Democrat of his blood and thunder proclivities has had such a fine effect. Hereafter the King Radical of Orangeburg will be a wiser if not a better man.

CAMPMEETING time is at hand and our citizens of several sections of the county will pass through a season of rare religious enjoyment. Indian Fields is now in progress; Boiling Spring will begin next Thursday; Union, in Lower St. Matthews, on the Thursday following, and Limestone the week after. We hope to attend some of these, especially Union.

DEATH in the flames is easy compared to the torture of dyspepsia, headache, rheumatic pains, disordered liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, bilious fever, belchings, sleeplessness, nervousness and other distressing complaints that drugs will not cure, but will yield at once to Dr. Flogg's Improved Liver and Stomach Pad.

As will be seen by a notice in another column, the firm of J. Strauss & Co. has been dissolved by mutual consent. Messrs. Strauss and Street will continue the grist and rice milling business at the old stand, and Mr. J. H. Fowles the saw mill business on the Bell Well road three miles from town. These gentlemen are all live, energetic business men, and we hope that success will attend them in their new relations as it did in the old.

Our young friends, Messrs. B. H. Moss, H. S. Wannamaker, Abram Summers and G. C. Summers left during the present week for Spartanburg to attend Wofford College. The first two were prepared at Sheridan's Classical School and are now in the Sophomore Class; the last two, sons of Dr. J. W. Summers, were prepared by Mr. J. B. O'N. Holloway at St. Matthews academy. We bespeak for these young gentlemen a successful College course and an honorable position afterwards in the rank of educated men.

SEED COTTON.—During the past month the cotton house of a citizen in town was broken open and robbed three times of seed cotton. The thieves were easily tracked down to the neighborhood of Russell and Broughton streets, where the many wagon tracks effaced the positive place where it was sold the last time. Seed cotton is an attractive item at this season of the year, and if it will be bought up the police should be on the look out for the dark hour vendors. Base ball and laughing all day, seed cotton at night.

Dots.—Maine is all right. Now for Ohio.

The Greenbackers have nominated a full State ticket.

Song of the clerk, "Can you change a five dollar bill?"

If you want to get fresh crackers of any sort always call at Jos. Eros.

Mr. J. W. Moseley is in his new stables with his splendid stock of horses.

The nights are growing longer and the days shorter as cold weather approaches.

For a really good segar or segar holder, pipes, smokers' articles call at Jos. Eros.

For fresh canned goods, potted meats, jellies, raisins, currants, citrons, dates go to Jos. Eros.

The base ball fever appears to be dying out around here. The boys are too busy now to think about it.

Now is the time to get a nice suit of clothing at Henry Kohn's, his stock being replete with all the novelties.

Cigars and tobacco of all qualities and prices by the box or by small quantities for sale low down at J. I. Sorrentruae.

Genuine goshen butter at 30 cents per pound, and choice hams at 10 cents per pound at J. I. Sorrentruae. Give him a call.

Where else can you get nicer apples, oranges, nuts of all sorts, cabbages, onions, potatoes than at Jos. Eros' fruit store.

The South Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanics will be opened on the 5th of October for the reception of students.

Lost a week or two ago an ebony and gold pen and pencil. The finder will be rewarded by returning it to Rev. O. A. Darby.

We saw two boys on Russel street on last Wednesday night so drunk that they could scarcely navigate. Who is responsible?

The supply of White Machines have arrived at Henry Kohn's, and purchasers will not be delayed if orders are placed early.

Those of our subscribers who promised to settle for their paper as soon as cotton came in are now requested to fulfill their promises.

Friend Danner's doors are thrown open and a large stock of goods is awaiting public inspection. He is in the east store of the Way block.

We understand that P. C. Gerlach is distributing Garfield and Arthur literature over the county. After the October elections this will be useless.

Magnificent lines of dress goods in all the prevailing shades, with satins, brocades, velvets and fringes to match, are displayed at Henry Kohn's Bazaar.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Orangeburg Station will be held in St. Paul's Church this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Some of our exchanges are advising the farmers to hold their cotton until next spring. It may pay them to do so, but we would not venture to advise holding it.

Walker, the irrepressible champion grocer of Orangeburg, invites the public to call and examine his goods and prices. See his advertisement in another column.

Last Friday night's work of the Young America Steam Fire Engine Company ought to convince every croaker in town that the money paid for "Uncle Joe" is well invested.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. A. C. Dibble and Mrs. T. R. Malone, and hope that skillful treatment and the tender care of loved ones may restore them to health.

It is reported that Mr. Abial Lathrop and D. A. Straker are aspirants for the nomination of Solicitor of this Circuit on the Republican ticket. They will both be elected—to stay at home.

Ready for inspection at Jos. Eros' largest and most varied assortment of fine candles, put up in 1-4, 1-2, and 1 pound boxes. The only place to get candies always fresh, pure and at bottom prices.

Mr. A. M. Izlar is now occupying the store next to Messrs. D. E. Sinoak & Co. He is still keeping up his restaurant in nice style, and will be prepared to accommodate his many friends during court. Give him a call.

We congratulate the few "unengaged" young ladies in town that the hot weather has passed without any of them being "courted" to death. Great fears were entertained on this score last summer, but it seems they were groundless.

Those who suffer from nervous irritation, itching, uneasiness, and the discomfort that follows from an enfeebled and disordered state of the system, should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and cleanse the blood. Purge out the lurking distemper that undermines the health, and constitutional vigor will return.

A JOINT DISCUSSION.—It was ascertained by our leaders during last week that the Radicals had planned and prepared to hold a mass meeting at Fort Motte on Saturday following, and that speakers from Charleston and perhaps elsewhere would be present. Arrangements were immediately made to have a creditable representation of Democrats present and speakers to divide the time if allowed by the managers of the meeting to do so. Quite a crowd, therefore, of both white and colored Democrat assembled on the ground from every section of the adjoining country; and, when the hour arrived for speaking, it was found that the Radicals but slightly outnumbered the Democrats. When the down train, which brought Mackey, Taft, E. A. Webster and Boliver arrived, the Radical portion of the crowd repaired to the church one mile distant and the Democrats remained at the depot. After a consultation between the leaders it was determined to send a committee, of which Capt. F. M. Wannamaker was chairman, to request a division of time and to report the result at once. This request was positively refused and in such a manner as to impress the committee with the fact that if the Democrats took any part at all it would be as quiet listeners to Radical slang and slander. Another consultation resulted in a determination to attend and hear what was to be said. According by quite a number of buggies and horsemen took up the line of march and appeared on the ground just as Mackey had well commenced his harangue. That the dusky crowd were displeased and knew not well how to act in the emergency was noticeable on the countenances of speakers and hearers. Taft however was equal to the occasion and came to Col. John Haskell with the statement that there was some mistake in the matter and that if the Democracy wished to be heard an arrangement might be made for an hour. This was accepted by Col. Haskell and himself, Gen. J. F. Izlar and Solicitor Jervey were invited to the stand. After some bluster, occasioned evidently by the relief from their recent awkward position, Mackey proposed to begin over and the speakers were introduced in the following order: Col. John C. Haskell, Mr. Jervey, E. W. M. Mackey, Gen. J. F. Izlar and Taft. Mr. Boliver, we learned, had made a tame talk before the Democratic party arrived.

The difference between these speeches was very marked. On the Democratic side there was an air of truth and honest sincerity with which the most ignorant colored man in the crowd could not fail to be impressed. The tone of the speeches was elevated and never descended to purlyly bombast, or unwarranted ridicule, while on the Radical side there was the same old spread eagle ranting about the Democratic war to break up the government, about the cruelty and great wrong of human slavery, about the great Republican party facing the negro race from bondage, about the Democrats refusing even until this late day to acknowledge the equal rights of the colored people, and about the failure of the Democratic party to make good a single promise made in 1876.

We notice again that out of the two hundred, and this was all including men, women and children, colored persons around the stand, not more than twenty five did the howling, while the others were thoughtful and evidently not satisfied either with the sincerity of Mackey and Taft or the logic of their arguments. The meeting, intended by the projector as a great rally in this center of Radicalism, was a complete failure. Out of a thousand colored people in easy reach of Fort Motte not more than a hundred and fifty were out, the rest were from Lewisville as the crowd in the train that evening proved.

The want of enthusiasm and the lack of interest manifested here are proofs enough that the Radicals party has lost its hold upon the colored people. Boliver's shot gun policy, Webster's pulpit exhibitions, Mackey's ranting and Taft's wholesale abuse fail to draw the crowd or control the action of the mass.

COUNTY CAMPAIGN.—The enthusiasm, begun at Gleaton's store has increased as the campaign party progressed on their appointed round. Since our last report rousing meetings have been held at St. Matthews, Pine Grove, Bull's mill, Ayers shop and Branchville. At each place Hon. M. P. O'Connor made characteristic speeches coming fully up to his former reputation as a stump speaker. Solicitor Jervey, Gen. J. F. Izlar, Hon. S. Dibble, Mr. C. G. Dantzier, Dr. J. W. Summers, Col. M. I. Browning, B. G. Fredrick and Marshall Jones and others contributed largely to the interest and enthusiasm of the campaign by eloquent speeches and appeals to our citizens. Gen. Izlar, Hon. S. Dibble and B. G. Fredrick, colored, spoke at very nearly every appointment and will be prominently connected with the glorious victory to be achieved in November. The good work will go on until the election and then Radicalism will be forever dead and our country completely redeemed.

Why don't you advertise?

FIRE.—About ten o'clock on Friday evening last, the alarm of fire was given and a general rush made by our citizens in the direction of the light. A barn on the lot of Mr. D. Louis was found to be on fire and rapidly spreading to the adjoining building. The Young Americas had their steamer promptly on the spot and sufficient steam generated by the time the hose could be stretched. With Messrs. Strauss and Street at the engine and Mr. Henry Kohn in charge of the firemen the progress of the flames was arrested, and, by well directed efforts, finally conquered. Too much praise cannot be given the entire department, including the Elliotts, who did brave service in pulling down the burning houses and otherwise aiding the Young Americas, and to the colored companies, who did their full duty. It is generally conceded that if it had not been for the steamer several thousand dollars worth of property would have been destroyed by this fire. It broke out in a cluster of old wooden buildings and was rapidly spreading towards the business portion of the town when the Young America began operations, and in fifteen minutes the crisis was past and our town saved. This noble work ought forever to shut the mouths of every one who heretofore doubted the propriety and wisdom of purchasing a steamer. The houses burned were a barn and stables of Mr. Louis, and outbuildings and a stable of Mr. W. Sain. The loss will amount to five or six hundred dollars. No insurance.

COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU, composed of buchu leaves, dandelion root, acetate potash, juniper berries, praeiza brava, and calinlonia root. All of which are highly valued diuretics, kidney stimulants and depurants. The failure of the actions of the kidneys is a source of many distressing diseases. This medicine produces a hearty action of the kidneys, removes from the blood the urea and uric acid, which if allowed to remain and accumulate would induce rheumatism, gouty affections, pains in back and loins. This valuable medicine is for sale by Dr. J. G. Wannamaker. Price 75 cents per bottle.

Don't forget to call on C. D. Kortjohn, and examine his large, and well selected stock of Shoes, Hats, Clothing, White and Colored Shirts, Cheviot Shirts, Under-shirts, Dress Goods, Homespuns, Plaids, Calicos, Hose and Half Hose, Looking Glasses, Notions, &c. All of which he is selling at remarkable low prices to close consignments.

It is said Geo. Boliver is a candidate for Clerk of Court, and his friends claim that he will be elected. May be so. He is right lucky about such things. He came within one vote of being elected to the penitentiary once, and it was reported at the time that the mean fellow who voted against him was bribed to do so.

Sallie Spriggins, one of our rural sisters, had her picture taken the other day, and the likeness was wonderful to behold, but no remedy like Portaine, or Tabler's Vegetable Liver Powder has ever been prepared. It will cure you. Price 50c. For sale by Dr. J. G. Wannamaker.

Cheer had his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell, and every cough and cold in this country will find a conqueror in Coussens' Honey of Tar, the unrivalled cough medicine. Price 50c. For sale by Dr. J. G. Wannamaker.
