A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Mr. T. B. Mimms Drowned in Black River While Going Home from Kingstree.

It is seldom that we are called upon to record a more terrible tragedy than the drowning of Mr. T. B. Mimms, which occurred on Wednesday night, October 2, a few miles from town. The manner of his death is awful to contemplate, and in it is conveyed a solemn warning to every man addicted to the vice of intemperance, be he young or old.

Mr. Mims, who lives five or six miles from here on the Manning road, had come to town to get a doctor for his sick wife. He lingered until about 9 o'clock, leaving town driving in a road cart, and considerably under the influence of liquor. Instead of following the road home, the horse strayed off in the darkness on a path leading to the river, and arriving at the bank, plunged into the water about three feet below, carrying with him the vehicle and its occupant.

Two days passed before the unfortunate man's fate was discovered, and it was not until Wednesday afternoon that the horse was tracked to the river bank. A few hundred feet down the stream body of the horse was seen in the water and towed ashore, still hitched to the cart. The river was then dragged for the body of the missing man, but up to this time nothing has been found except his hat and cushion and storm apron.

Mr. Mims was 50 years old and leaves a wife and one child. He was thrifty and energetic, and a devoted husband and father. His weakness for strong drink was his chief fault and to it he owes his untimely end and the bereaved condition of his wife and child. His fate is universally deplored and great sympathy is felt for his family.

The Jenkinson Dry Goods Store.
Take in the Situation.

Briefly it is just this—the season has advanced to the point where all summer goods must be sold or stand a chance of being carried over to another season. We propose to sell all summer stuff off at a sacrifice, from the 1st to the 20th of August we will have one of the largest clearance sales ever known to the people of Clarendon and Williamsburg. We hope to see many of our Williamsburg friends at this sale, and if they can't come we will be glad to send samples and give their orders the best attention.
