

The Nantucket Dialect.

A family circle in Nantucket was once discussing the use of nautical phrases, when the mother said, "Girls, I never use them." "Yes, thee does, mother." "Well, watch me, and see if I do." Shortly after she said to one of the children, "There, take this and carry it to Cousin Phoebe, and tell her that this squares the yards with us; and thee must scud, for it is almost school time."—Christian Register.

A Professional "Hungry Man" Meets His Match.

The New York traveling man gets a lot of satisfaction out of a practical joke, even when it costs him the price of a good square meal. Here is the latest example.

"Mister, could you give me something to eat? I haven't had anything to eat for two days."

A fat, red-faced person in a seedy suit had approached a well-dressed man on Broadway at 8 o'clock last night. The well-dressed man passed and looked at the beggar. He had been accosted by the same man three nights in succession.

"Why, yes, if you are hungry I will help you to a supper."

"Awful hungry."

"Well, come in here, then," and the man in evening clothes led the way into the cafe of the Morton house, at Broadway and Fourteenth street.

They sat down at a table and the man with money ordered an extra large sirloin steak with French fried potatoes and coffee. When the seedy individual finished with a sigh, he tendered his thanks and led the way to the street. In a minute a well-dressed man returned and joined a party of three. There was a whispered consultation, and one of them rose and went down Broadway. At the corner below was the beggar.

"Haven't eaten anything for twenty-four hours. I am—"

"Yes, yes, I'll give you a supper. Come into the Morton house."

"I could get a good meal for half a dollar," said the beggar, insinuatingly.

"Oh, that's all right. Come along and we'll eat together."

The beggar followed reluctantly. A minute later he was seated at the table he had left a few moments before.

"Give this man an extra sirloin, French fried potatoes, a cup of coffee, and a pie," said the host to the surprised waiter.

The beggar was turning red and white, but he held his nerve. When the steak was brought in he tried to eat, and he did swallow two mouthfuls. Then he suddenly bolted for the door.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your Vegetable Compound cured me of womb trouble from which I had been a great sufferer for nearly three years. You certainly have one grateful friend in Emporia, and I have praised your Vegetable Compound to a large number of my friends. You have my permission to publish my testimonial in connection with my picture. Yours sincerely, MISS MARION CUNNINGHAM, Emporia, Kans."
