MATTERS AT MOUZON.

The Death Angel Claims Two Victims—Social and Personal.

MOUZON, May 8.—We are having some very unfavorable weather; it has rained nearly every day for a week and Black river and Padding swamp are booming.

There were two deaths in our community last week. Mrs Jennie Duke, an aged and estimable lady, was laid to rest at Midway church on Thursday afternoon. Her husband and several children and grand-children survive her.

On Friday, Mrs Sarah Johnson was interred at the McElveen burying ground. Mrs Johnson had been an invalid for some time. She formerly lived in Kingtree, but on the death of her daughter, Miss Rebecca Johnson, moved to the home of her brother, Mr Elliot Adams, near Hebron church.

A small crowd enjoyed a very pleasant day's outing at Mouzon's bridge on Saturday, May 6. We were expecting a large picnic, but somehow there was a misunderstanding about it and consequently only a few were present.

Quite a large crowd of young people assembled at the residence of Mr D B Young on Saturday night, where a pleasant evening was spent in games, music, etc. Among those present were: Mr Beasley Gamble and little brother Carl of Turbeville, Clarendon county.

Mr W D McClam, who has been spending some time with his parents here, has returned to Darlington, where he is employed as salesman for B H Rucker.

Miss Fannie Epps' school at Bethel will close Friday May 12. They are going to have a basket picnic for the children on Saturday. Miss Epps is a very competent teacher and is liked by all the patrons, as well as by the pupils. We hope they will be able to secure her another term.

We always complain of the tasks we are able to postpone.

Letter to J J B Montgomery.

KINGSTREE, S. C.
 Dear Sir: The way to buy paint is to go by the name. There is a name never seen on sham paint or weak paint or short-measure paint: Devoe.

There are a hundred different names in paint. Some are sham; some weak; some short-measure; and some all three.

If there is another such paint as Devoe lead-and-zinc, we don't know it. There are a few fairly good paints; a few, only one Devoe. A gallon Devoe is worth a gallon-and-a-half of those few.

Mr Aaron Higgins, of Plainfield, N J, always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last spring he bought 15 gallons of Devoe and 4 gallons left.

Yours truly
 F W Devoe & Co.
 Dr D C Scott sells our paint.

"If I could only be like them!" we all secretly cry away down in our heart, as we behold the successful. But even the world's successful have their heartaches and unsatisfied ambitions.

CHEATED DEATH.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E H Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had kidney trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, as I find, they have no equal." Dr W V Brockington, druggist, guarantees them at 50c.

His Reward.

A cyclist touring in southern France was pushing his machine up a steep hill when he overtook a peasant with a donkey cart. The poor beast was doing his best, but with all its efforts made little progress. The humane cyclist, putting his left hand on the back of the cart, guiding his wheel with the right, pushed so hard that the donkey took fresh courage and pulled up his load bravely to the top. When the summit was reached the peasant gratefully thanked his benefactor. "It was good of you, monsieur," he said. "I should never have managed that climb with only one donkey."—Birmingham Post.

F RIGHTFUL SUFFE RING R LIEVED.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of indigestible food, C G Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at Dr W V Brockington's drug store, guaranteed.

Had Sold Both Ends of the Bolt.

A Columbus shopper tells this somewhat amusing story, giving the incident as an actual happening. "I was making some purchases," she said, "in a downtown store and was directed by the floorwalker to the muslin counter. A young man was in charge and I noticed at first that he was slightly affected by liquor. After sorting over a number of bolts on the shelf he finally threw down what I wanted. He looked at the cloth for a minute, meanwhile fumbling for the end. Finally he said disgustedly: 'Dick must have sold both ends of this. Yes, I'm sure he did.' And with that he pushed his shears across the piece, and from the end thus made he sold the remaining half."—Columbus Dispatch.
