C. W. WOLFE, Kingstree, S. C.

THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1907

A man is sometimes better known by the company he doesn't keep than by the company he keeps.

It takes a liberal and broad-minded man to condone in another the faults that he recognizes in himself.

We have had the Teddy bear, are we to have the Teddy camel?—Columbia State.

The Kingstree graded school has issued a very creditable invitation to the commencement exercises to take place May 17-20.

Occasionally we have some one to suggest to us that we do not hustle to get news when something occurs in his community.

Trespass Notice.

All persons are notified not to trespass on the Columbus Lee property in Williamsburg county under penalties of the law.

COMMENCEMENT AT BENSON HIGH SCHOOL.

A NOTABLE OCCASION WITH MANY ATTRACTIVE FEATURES—OTHER NEWS ITEMS.

Scarcely had the sun drawn its golden rays behind the western hills on Tuesday evening April 30th before the spectators commenced to assemble from all sides.

Of course there were some mistakes, but they were not noticed by many and not such as to mar the enjoyment of the appreciative audience.

Our board of trustees unanimously re-elected our teachers, which shows their appreciation for their services.

Misses Mamie Nesmith and Maud Sharpe have gone on a visit to Dock and Rome and will take in the entertainment to be given by the Union graded school 10th inst.

Mr and Mrs J B Chandler have been called to the bedside of their daughter, Mrs V W Graham, who is quite sick at her home at Morrisville.

Our farmers are now complaining of too much rain and grass. General Green's army is surely invading our county.

BENSON.

Doings at Dock.

DOCK, May 6:—After a lot of kicking the farmers have gone down to hard work. The "silver lining" can now be seen behind the dark cloud.

Mr H P Tallevast, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs B L Nesmith, visited Kingstree last week.

Mr Jim Eaddy of Lambert was over here Sunday. Jim is a fine fellow and his heart is on the "right side."

Miss Rosa Tallevast, one of our fair maidens, left last week for Georgia, where she will spend the summer with her brother.

Misses Mayme Nesmith and Maude Sharpe of Benson are spending a few days with friends and relatives here.

Miss Rosa Graham, having closed her school at Benson, is home again, to the delight of her many friends.

Miss Meta Hollongren, of Church postoffice, visited friends in this section recently.

Mrs J C Josey of Greelyville is spending some time among her old friends around Dock.

Mr John Cunningham, an old friend of the writer and one of Indiantown's best young men, attended preaching here Sunday.

The writer, along with quite a crowd of young folks from here, attended commencement at Benson Tuesday night. We most heartily congratulate Benson on this school.

The Edison Phonograph In The Home. What one thing is it that sums up one's idea of festivity? It is music. Music draws one to the opera, to the concert hall, to the dance, to the country fair. Where is music, there people gather. Its appeal is universal. The Edison Phonograph brings all this music into the home. It has within itself and produces on demand, most of the amusements which draw people away from home. The Roman name for fireplace was "focus," the spot where the rays of family life were gathered. The Edison Phonograph is the focus of family entertainment. It gathers the members of the household—the family and its guests—together to be entertained. One of its strongest features is its versatility. It is not gauged to any one particular taste. To it music means everything from a brass band to a Wagner orchestra from a comic song to masterful rendition of grand opera selections. It caters to every taste, whim or mood of all who look to it for entertainment and diversion. We Sell Edison Phonographs. THE CABLE COMPANY. EVERYTHING KNOWN IN MUSIC. J. W. WALLACE, Manager.
