Social Functions.

MISS ANNIE REDDICK ENTERTAINS.

One Tuesday evening, June 31, Miss Annie Reddick was at home to her friends from nine until twelve o'clock, Miss Leafy Byrd of Hartsville being the guest of honor. The house was tastefully decorated with nature's green, and the beauty and wit of the ladies present made it an evening long to be remembered by those who were present. The amusements of the evening were many and varied: the first being the reading of the picture telling us of what and where to buy. In this contest Miss Eunice Harper carried off the prize, a box of bon bons. Those present who had made a study of the money question found an opportunity to put the knowledge gained into practical use. Each guest was given a penny, pencil and paper, the paper containing ten questions on the penny which they were requested to answer. At the conclusion of the contest Miss Esther Gordon was found to be the winner of the prize, a beautiful pearl handle gold pen. The money question being amicably settled, the skill of our fair hostess was seen in the dainty refreshments that were served. After lingering around the festive board for quite a while we were informed that the queen of mystery awaited our presence, and Miss Mantie Coker, to whom the occult mysteries of the Persian Magi are an open book, told us of things that shortly must come to pass.

The ladies present were Miss Leafy Byrd, Hartsville, Misses Minnie and Clara Yarbrough and Sarah Moore, Columbia, Esther, Mary, Martha and Emma Gordon, Nita Whitehead, Eunice Harper, Mantie Coker.

The Gentlemen present were Messrs Lois Coker, Arthur Brockington, Benton Montgomery, Bob Whitehead, Dr E T Kelley, and Judge Wallace.

All too soon Chief Anderson and the old reliable town clock announced the hour of twelve and all is well, so bidding our fair hostess a fond good night we dispersed to our homes with pleasant thoughts of a delightfully spent evening.

First Monday Sales.

There were only two land sales scheduled for the First Monday in this month, the first being twenty-three acres of land in the Hope township, belonging to Laurence Keels, was bought in by Mr E B Rhodus for $95.00. The other one was 100 acres in Lee township belonging to the W P Mixson estate, the sale of which was postponed to some future date in order that more information may be obtained as to the propriety of making the sale.

Before His Honor.

On Tuesday morning of this week Lee Rouse and Wm Bradley were brought before the Mayor charged with creating a "rough house" in Mr Thorne's lumber yard. They were found not guilty and departed, wearing a smile that wont come off.

Chief Anderson raided a place on the "Roost" last Monday night and bagged three birds for indulging in the ever fascinating game "skinner," or in other words, just simply gambling. It was Watson Harper's house and he was one of the artists captured. He was ably assisted in the game by Ben O'Neal and Charlie Fulton. They were arraigned before His Honor L W Gilland Tuesday morning and were found guilty. Watson was fined $15 while Ben and Charlie were let off for $10 a piece. They coughed up the dough and meekly went their way sadder at heart, but much wiser.

NORTH AUGUSTA DISPENSARY.

Sales Have Decreased Owing to Blind Tigers in Augusta.

AIKEN, July 5.—The accounts from the North Augusta dispensary for the past month have been gotten in shape, showing the condition of the dispensary to be good.

The average sales for the past month have been 500 gallons of whiskey, which is about 25 per cent less than the average sales during the winter months. The decline is probably due to the fact that the "blind tigers" in Augusta have been without restriction, and have become better able to cope with the local situation, and are supplying the demands to such an extent as to detract from the dispensary sales.

Mr T L Foreman, who is now in charge of the dispensary, has arranged three separate booths, to which the same number of clerks have been assigned, and each clerk is held responsible for the goods assigned to his respective booth.
