

Orphan Work-day.

There is a family of 250 orphan children at the Epworth Orphanage, Columbia, S. C., Methodist.

There are 250 orphans at the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, Greenwood, S. C., Baptist.

There are 250 orphans at the Thornwell Orphanage, Clinton, S. C., Presbyterian.

There are 50 orphans at the Church Home, Charleston, S. C., Episcopalian.

The Lutheran Church Home is at Salem, Va.

The Hebrew Home is at Atlanta, Ga.

The Roman Catholic Homes are in Charleston, S. C.

The support and care of all these various denominational institutions, with their large body of fatherless children is a sufficient appeal to every heart.

Some years ago it was suggested by Rev. Howard Crumley of Atlanta, Ga., that on the first Saturday and Sabbath of October, all those who love children set apart those days for gathering funds to relieve the needs of the fatherless. On that Saturday, let everybody old and young, rich and poor, devote the day to the Orphanages, each man sending his gift to the Orphanage he loves the best or that lies nearest his heart.

The Georgia scheme worked well. For several years an effort has been made to rouse an equal interest in South Carolina, and Alabama and Florida have also taken it up. In every community some zealous brother might take up the matter and push it and the day's work from everybody would go to the orphans. This proposition is not in the interest of any one orphanage; it is intended for each one to give to the orphanage nearest his heart. Give Saturday's wages to the orphans. Gather the proceeds on the Sabbath and forward to the institutions above named. It will be sure to reach the right spot, if drafts and checks are made out to the name of the institution itself and provisions shipped to the same. We have no doubt that when an individual community makes special request of the railway authorities, flour and rice and molasses or any other products would find them willing to deliver without charge.

Notice that this is simply a statement. Urgent appeals are not necessary. The orphans need help. The institutions are unable to give it, without the backing of the people. At this season all their treasuries are greatly depleted. Do not overlook the day.

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung trouble. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine. W L Wallace.

Roy Saul Passes Away.

Roy Sauls, aged twenty years, grandson of Mrs Huggins, of the Union hotel, died yesterday afternoon after an illness of only a few days. He was taken sick while at work at Schneck's drug store Tuesday morning and was forced to go home at once. His condition at once became alarming and he gradually grew worse until the end came. He was a bright young man almost at his majority, and would have graduated in pharmacy this year in Atlanta where he had been attending school for the past year.

He leaves a mother, one sister and two brothers to mourn his loss. The announcement of the funeral arrangements will not be made until relatives are heard from.—Sentinel-Record (Hot Springs, Ark.)

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Kingstree People Know How To Save It.

Many Kingstree people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Kingstree citizen's recommendation.

Mrs W H Carr, E Main Street, Kingstree, S. C., says: "My mother speaks very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, having used them with the very best of results. She suffered a great deal from backache and distressing pains across her loins and kidney regions. The remedies she used did not seem to help her much and lately while she was visiting me, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for her at Scott's drug store. She used them as directed and they gave her more relief than anything she had ever tried. Since then she has had no pain of any sort and her kidneys have also been strengthened."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FACTS ABOUT COUNTIES.

Some of Them Are Larger Than Many of the States.

The county is a territorial division from Great Britain, where the counties correspond to the provinces or departments of other European countries and in a limited sense to the states of the American Union. An Englishman addresses a letter to "Parkinton, Hants," as we address a letter to "Columbus, O.," or "Elmira, N. Y."

One state, which derives its usages from French and not from English originals, has no counties at all. In Louisiana these subdivisions of the state are still called parishes, both officially and in ordinary speech, though they are now divided into many real parishes of the church.

There are about 3,000 counties in the Union, with an average size of about 1,000 square miles, but this average is enormously exceeded in many instances and is also frequently fallen below. Leaving out certain great unsettled counties in the west, the average county would be about 500 square miles in extent.

In much of the western part of the country the size of the county is regulated mathematically. It consists of sixteen townships, each composed of thirty-six square miles, making 576 square miles in all. In other words, each township is six miles square and each county twenty-four miles square.

In Iowa there are thirty-nine counties that were formed in this way, each one of which has exactly 576 square miles. Such divisions were possible in the newer west, where these minor political divisions were made in advance of settlement. In the older parts of a country the territorial arrangements were largely accidental.

The largest county in the United States is Yavapai county, Ariz., which has an area of almost 30,000 square miles. Nine states of the Union are each smaller than this county. It is larger than the whole of West Virginia and almost as large as South Carolina.

The sixteen counties of Montana average a greater size than the state of Massachusetts.

Among the other great counties of the Union are San Bernardino and San Diego, in California, which are not only vast regions, but contain a great productive territory; Humboldt and Lincoln counties, in Nevada, which are only sparsely populated, and Lincoln county, N. M., which bids fair in time to have a large population.

Although the New England states are small, the average size of the counties is greater than in most of the middle, western and southern states. Worcester county, in Massachusetts, is an example of an eastern county that is at the same time large in area and very populous. It is larger than the adjoining state of Rhode Island.

The smallest state in the Union has the smallest county as well. Bristol county, R. I., has only twenty-five square miles. At once place it is not more than two miles in breadth.—New York Tribune.

Sun and Earth.

The sun's greatest distance from the earth, about July 1, is nearly 94,000,000 miles; his least, about Jan. 1, rather less than 91,000,000 miles; his mean distance is about 92,333,000 miles. It may serve to give some idea of the vastness of this distance to say that a ball fired from a thirteen inch gun at the sun would require thirteen years to reach its mark, supposing its velocity to remain unchanged throughout the journey. The sun's diameter is 860,000 miles, exceeding the earth's about 109 times. The sun exceeds the earth in surface 11,750 times and in volume 1,260,000 times.

French and English Tastes.

How far does the great "healthy British public" like to see exhibitions of the horrible? Certainly not like the French, for, although Paris has abolished the publicity of the morgue, a French company like the Grand Guignol can go on year after year, and French newspapers will publish pictures of the corpses and all that sort of thing as English newspapers would not dare to do. To call it "morbid" is begging the question. It is simply different from ourselves.—London Tatler.

No Breath, No Sting.

There is said to be a way to fly from a beehive all its honey and yet avoid being stung. All you have to do is to hold your breath. It is simple and easy enough, and the only reason it has not been tried more often is that few people know it. Even the bullet-like hornet cannot injure you, it is asserted, if you refrain from breathing for a moment. In this condition you may even pick him up and watch his stinging apparatus vainly working in the futile attempt to puncture your skin.

NEW EXHIBITS AT THE STATE FAIR

October 26 to 30—Prizes for Successful Farmers.

One of the best attractions at the State Fair this year, which will be held in Columbia beginning Monday, October 26th, and closing Friday, October 30th, will be the Field Crop Department. This new feature will prove of interest to every farmer in the State. It will be under the management of Prof. J. N. Harper, Director of the Clemson Experimental Station, who is one of the best agricultural experts in the South. Professor Harper has personally solicited the exhibits for this department, and will arrange everything to advantage. He will be assisted by his whole corps of expert associates, and it will be worth the trip to the fair just to talk to these expert men and get their ideas on practical farming.

Clemson College will have a big exhibit in this department, but will not be allowed to compete with the individual exhibits. Some fine prizes will be awarded the farmers. For instance, $50 will be given for the largest yield of corn to the acre, $25 for the second best, and cotton will have the same amount awarded for the best yield per acre. Dozens of other interesting contests have been provided.

President Mobley, being a practical stockman himself, is giving much attention to this part of the fair. There will be more thoroughbred sheep than ever before. The stables have all been renovated and the turf water from the city has been connected so that the cattle and stock will be well taken care of. This will be good news to hundreds of breeders who might otherwise have hesitated to come to the fair. The poultry show will be a grand success this year. It seems to be more interest in every department. The management of this will be the largest and best ever held here. Information as to prizes will be cheerfully supplied. President John G. Mobley, or Secretary, A. W. Love, at Columbia, S. C.

Proverbs Parred.

The disconsolate milkman wiped the whitish gray mud from off his clothes and gazed wretchedly after the runaway horse. Then he glanced at the dirty white puddles that represented his whole stock in trade.

A crowd had gathered around to watch the fun. Suddenly he turned upon them.

"Look here," he shouted, rolling up his coat sleeves, "the first ape faced idiot who says a word about its being no use crying over spilt milk I'll punch his head for him!"

"Then, can in hand, he started scooping up the liquid.—London Answers.

A FAMILY MIX.

The Story as It is Recorded on the Tombstones.

In the early part of the last century there lived in an old New England town a Mr. Church, who, in the course of his pilgrimage through this vale of tears, was bereft of four wives, all of whom were buried in the same lot. In his old age it became necessary to remove the bodies to a new cemetery. This melancholy task the much bereaved widower undertook himself, but in the process the bones of the lamented quartet became hopelessly mixed. Priding himself on possession of a New England conscience, Mr. Church would not, under the painful circumstances, permit the use of the original headstones, but procured new ones, one of which bore the following inscription: "Here lies Hannah Church and probably a portion of Emily." Another: "Sacred to the memory of Emily Church, who seems to be mixed with Matilda." Then followed these lines:

Stranger, pause and drop a tear,
For Emily Church lies buried here,
Mixed in some perplexing manner
With Mary, Matilda and probably Hannah.
