Cunningham-McCutchen.

Kingstree, July 3.—An event of unusual interest was the marriage of Miss Lucile Cunningham, daughter of Dr J S Cunningham of Church and Mr Thos McCutchen of Kingstree at the Indiantown Presbyterian church on Wednesday, June 30, at 7 o'clock p m. The ceremony was performed by the Rev A C Bridgman, pastor of the church, and a large number of friends from all points of the county were gathered to witness the wedding of these popular young people.

The church was artistically decorated with quantities of pink and white roses and trailing festoons of smilax. The rostrum on which the organ stood was shielded from view by a large canvas screen, which was transformed into a bower by quantities of white roses. In front of this beautiful screen were three arches covered with vines and roses. The contour of the arches was outlined with myriads of pink and white candles. Under the central arch the bride and groom stood facing the audience, while the maid of honor took her place under the right arch and the best man under the left. The other attendants were grouped on either side of the arches and the whole effect made a beautiful tableau.

Just as twilight was falling, the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played on the organ by Mr Louis W Gilland. The ushers, Messrs M H Jacobs and L J Stackley of Kingstree, entered first and were followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, who were as follows: Miss Blanche Rose of Timonville, Miss Marie Russell of Augusta, Ga, Miss Marion Gilland of Kingstree, Miss Bessie Orvin of Georgetown, Miss Lila Hammet of Kingstree and Miss Blanche Bell of Indiantown; Messrs A C Hinds, Kingstree; J D Gilland, Kingstree; C D Jacobs, Kingstree; W R Scott, Kingstree; J M Russell, Augusta, Ga, and J H Cunningham, Sumter.

The bridesmaids were daintily gowned in white lingerie costumes and carried lighted pink candles in cut glass candlesticks, tied with long streamers of pink satin ribbon.

After the bridesmaids and groomsmen the maid of honor, Miss Jennie Chandler of Sumter, entered alone, in a beautiful directorie gown of pink satin, en train, and carrying pink roses tied with pink tulle.

The bride was preceded by little Miss Jennie McCutchen in a dainty dress of pink chiffon, and Master David Cunningham, who scattered pink roses in the aisle.

A hush fell over the congregation as the lovely young bride, in a handsome gown of white satin with old point lace trimmings, entered on the arm of her brother, Mr David Cunningham.

The bride's bouquet was formed of bride's roses with graceful streamers of white tulle.

The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Dr W L McCutchen of Anderson.

During the ceremony the soft strains of Schubert's "Serenade" fell with pleasing cadence on the evening air. As the party left the church Mendelssohn's march was played.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Mr D E

McCutchen, who is a brother of the groom, and whose wife is a sister of the bride. Here the many handsome presents received by the young couple were displayed.

Mr and Mrs McCutchen will spend their honeymoon in the mountains, after which they will return to make their home in Kingstree, where the groom is the popular manager of the Williamsburg Live Stock company. The bride is a daughter of Dr J S Cunningham and both young people are held in high esteem throughout the community and have many friends to wish them every happiness.—The State.

Moonlight on the Water.

Last Tuesday evening the young people of Kingstree had the pleasure of participating in one of the most enjoyable events of the season—a boat ride on the "Wanderer". The moonlight and the cool zephyrs on the waters of the Wee Nee lent a certain charm to the occasion. The crowd went down to Brunson's mill and there served delightful refreshments. After leaving there they went up the river several miles, but finally had to come back to the old bridge and bid one another good night. Those present: Misses Floride, Bessie, Louise and Eunice Harper, Annie Rutledge of Summerton, Annie Gregg of Marion, Esther, Martha and Mary Gordon, Mantie Coker, Jimmie Britton, Barbara and Florrie Jacobs; Messrs Joe Alsbrook, Ernest and Peel Epps, Marvin McConnell, J W Cook, Loyse Coker, Dr Kelley, Burrie Brockinton, Benton Montgomery, Theodore Hemingway and Billy Britton. Chaperons, Mr and Mrs W N Jacobs.

Picnic at Mouzons.

The picnic at Mouzon's bridge Monday was a grand success. The crowd gathered at the bridge about 11 o'clock from different parts of the country and all seemed to be having a delightful time, judging from the expressions on their faces. At about 2 o'clock a sumptuous dinner was served and without reflecting on other communities this scribe must acknowledge that the people of the Mouzon neighborhood know what good food is and how to prepare it. The following from Kingstree attended the picnic: Mr and Mrs B W Butler and Misses Mae Wilson and Myrtle Fogarty, Mr and Mrs W H Carr, Misses Althea McKnight, Mattie Epps, Bessie Swann; Messrs Burrie Epps, Bishop Burgess, Luke Young, R D Mills and Samuel Levin. #### A Surprise Party.

The Misses Harper were surprised last Wednesday evening by their friends coming in and announcing that they were going to have a party. The chief amusement was talking, as the hostesses soon managed to get the crowd paired off. At regular intervals a change was made, so that by the close of the evening everyone had spent a few minutes in pleasant conversation with his or her friends.

Beatty-Ross.

On Wednesday, June 30, 1909, at 4 o'clock p m, at Bethel M E church, Charleston, S C, Miss Mary Beatty of Charleston and Mr Marion A Ross of Kingstree were married. After a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mr and Mrs Ross boarded the fast mail for Kingstree, where they arrived at 7:30 o'clock. A goodly number of Mr and Mrs Ross's friends were at the depot to welcome them home. Kingstree welcomes all strangers within her gates, and especially so when they come to become one of us.—Car News & Courier.

His Blunder.

"Have you ever stopped to think?"—he began and then hesitated.
"Well," she urged, "go on. What were you going to say?"
"I beg your pardon," he replied.
"I was about to ask you whether you had ever stopped to think about something, but I might have known that you never did."
"And you mean to insinuate that I never think?" she demanded.
"Oh, no, no, not at all," he made haste to assure her. "I only mean that women don't have to stop talking to think, for we all know that they do think sometimes."
And yet he wonders why she hates him.—Cleveland Leader.

He Accepted the Apology.

A prominent New York lawyer is noted for his ready answers and skill in repartee. When a young practitioner he appeared before a pompous old judge, who took offense at a remark the lawyer made criticising his decision.
"If you do not instantly apologize for that remark, Mr. Blank," said the judge, "I shall commit you for contempt of court."
"Upon reflection, your honor," instantly replied Mr. Blank, "I find that your honor was right and I was wrong, as your honor always is."
The judge looked dubious, but finally said that he would accept the apology.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not neglect the early symptoms. D C Scott.

Work of the Rivers.

The annual rainfall on all the land surface of the globe amounts to 29,000 cubic miles. Only one-fifth of this, or 6,000 cubic miles, drains off through rivers. The rest is absorbed and evaporated. But each cubic mile of river water carries in solution an average 762,000 tons of dissolved foreign matter. By all the rivers 5,000,000,000 tons of solid substance is thus carried annually to the sea. Suspended sediments, or silt, the enormous mechanical load of streams, are not included in these figures. Only the dissolved matter is considered, representing the chemical work on rock and soil which the percolating waters have accomplished. The Mississippi carries past New Orleans each year 98,369,000 tons of dissolved salts, the product of chemical erosion.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Economical.

A lecturer, talking of economy, cited the case of a leading lady as told to him by her manager.
The manager one Monday night entered a leading lady's dressing room with a huge bouquet in his hand.
"The florist just sent this over, with the bill," he murmured confidentially behind his hand. "I'll have it—er—thrown on at the end of the trial scene, eh?"
"No, don't throw it on," said the leading lady. "Let an usher hand it up. I want to use it all this week."

Grasping the Chance.

The pantomime in a provincial town has fallen very flat, and the manager is extremely anxious not to lose an opportunity of infusing energy into his cast.
Comedian—I can't go on for a minute, sir. I feel funny.
Manager—Funny! Great Scott, man! Go on at once and make the most of it while it lasts.—London Mail.
