THINGS THAT ARE DOING IN LIVE LAKE CITY.

NEW BUILDINGS UNDER WAY--REVIVAL SERVICES--AN ANCIENT TOMB--STONE--LOCAL ITEMS.

Lake City, October 19:--Mr and Mrs J A Green went to Latta Sunday to visit Mr and Mrs J B McCutchen.

Mr J M Matthews is building a dwelling on Acline avenue, south of Thomas street, and when completed he and family will make their home there.

Mr H H Singletary is putting the materials on the ground for quite a building. The structure will be a brick block on Main street, the front extending from Mr Singletary's brick store to the corner of Acline avenue and Main street to the store house of Mr W T Askins. It will be about seventy-three feet wide and will contain three stores and a broker's office. The rear will be on a line with the southeast corner of the corner structure. The materials will be brick with glass fronts. Messrs Wilson, Sompayrac & Uquhardt of Columbia are the architects and the plans, which have been completed by them, give one a good idea of what the handsome block will look like when completed.

Revival services are being held at the Methodist church this week, having begun Sunday night. There are two services each day, one in the afternoon and one at night.

Mr Louis Moore of Moultrie, Ga., spent the early part of the week in town at Mr G F Stalvey's.

Mr and Mrs A P Hatchell came down from Elim Sunday and spent that day and Monday in town.

Col J P Epps was here Monday from Cades and went to Sumter Tuesday, where he spent the day on business.

Recently Mr D W Floyd presented the writer with a jar of syrup made from ribbon cane rock candy. It is well known that rock candy crystals collect thickly against the sides and on the bottom of a barrel containing cane syrup. Now, Mr Floyd dissolves this candy in water and boils the mass, producing a delicious table syrup. It is really superior to the cane syrup.

Some few months ago a negro ploughed up in a field near Old Black Mingo church a stone bearing an inscription and appearing to be a gravestone. Concluding that this stone originally stood over a grave belonging to the cemetery which is around the church, it has been placed in the church. A few days ago Mr E W Yates stopped at the old church and examined the stone and copied all of the inscription that is now legible. It is of sandstone and in size and shape appears to be a tombstone. The lower part, which stood in the earth, has decayed somewhat, but the upper part is very well preserved. The following is the inscription as copied by Mr Yates:

"John Woo
 Aged 34 Mo
 Died October 1168"

Something more was engraved upon the stone but it could not be made out. The strangest part of this inscription is the date of death, "1168." It was suggested that perhaps the correct date is "1768." Mr Yates, however, says that the two first figures are exactly alike on the stone and both appear to be 1's. Can any one give any light on this matter? The writer would appreciate any information that may tend to explain the matter. Who was John Woo? When did he die? This old church was built by Cleland Belin, who was born in 1792 and died in 1869.

Both Boys Saved.

Louis Boon, a leading merchant of Norway, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy, who was so ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Nothing else is as safe and sure in results.
