On Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock Mr Henry Ferrell, who lives about three miles from to lose his store by fire. It seems that Mr Ferrell had closed up the store a few minutes before to go to supper, his store being near his dwelling and when the fire was discovered the whole top of the building was in flames. It is supposed that the fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp.

Mr Ferrell's loss is estimated at about $2,500, with $1,400 insurance.

who mourn his death. Some time previously to his last illness he had been stricken with paralysis, from the effects of of which he never recovered.
