INDIANTOWN SCHOOL'S AUSPICIOUS OPENING.

SPLENDID GROWTH OF SCHOOL --MODERN BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT--WHERE HONOR IS DUE.

Indiantown, September 26 (Special):—The Indiantown Graded school of Williamsburg county opened Monday with a large enrollment of pupils. Many patrons of the district had come with the children to attend the opening exercises of this school, of which they are justly proud and which is becoming such a vital force in this excellent community. The teachers for the opening scholastic year are: Miss Overton Little, principal; Miss Ruby Little and Miss Plaxco, assistants. About 70 children were enrolled the first day, and this enrollment has been materially increased within the past week. The chairman of the board, Mr D E McCutchen, to whose patriotic interest the existence of the school is largely due, presided and delivered a brief address setting forth the aims and purposes of the school board. Short talks were made by Mr J G McCullough and Mr W K Tate, State supervisor of elementary rural schools.

The Indiantown school is one of the very best in Williamsburg county, and in building, equipment and spirit is a good example of the consolidated school which is so largely prevalent in Williamsburg county. The building gives every evidence of having been carefully planned, and it has been finished in every detail. On the first floor are two large classrooms, each provided with a cloak room. The windows are placed to accord with the recognized principles of school hygiene, and the light comes from the rear and over the left shoulder of the pupil. The seats are graduated to meet the needs of the various grades in school. The building is painted within and without, and is well provided with blackboards and other accessories for thorough school work. On the first floor is a library and reading room provided with a reading table and chairs. On the second floor of the building there is an excellent auditorium seated with opera chairs. This auditorium can be easily converted into two classrooms when the need arises. The school has an excellent piano and a teacher of vocal and instrumental music. Since the school was established two years ago, eight pianos have been brought into the community as the result of the musical instruments in the school.

While the school has not yet made application to the State department of education for recognition as a rural high school, seventeen high school pupils were enrolled on the first day and are receiving instruction in high school subjects. A student of this school has just won the Citadel scholarship from Williamsburg county.

The Indiantown school is recognized as perhaps the strongest community force in this section of the county. Since its establishment two years ago, six families have moved into the district in order to enjoy its privileges. The district has voted a special four mill tax, and the people are ready to increase this levy whenever the best interests of the school demand it. The homes of the community and the school children themselves exhibit a culture and refinement which amply justifies the wisdom of those who have given the district its adequate educational facilities. As one of the patrons expressed it: "We do not attempt to conceal the fact that we are very proud of our school."

In the schools consolidated to form the present Indiantown school there were three years ago only thirty pupils. The increase in enrollment to seventy-six pupils last year is typical of the effect which follows consolidation. It arises partly from the fact that new families have moved into the district, but is more largely the result of the stronger incentive to school attendance and the longer period of attendance by the pupils of the school. Superintendent McCullough is proud of the fact that there are now twelve consolidated schools in Williamsburg county. W K T.

PLAINT OF THE COUNTRY EDITOR

Life Not All "Beer and Skittles" to Purveyor of Local News.

The following fugitive excerpt correctly characterizes the degree of versatility demanded of the editor of a typical country newspaper:

"We apologize for all mistakes made in former issues and say they were inexcusable, as all an editor has to do is to hunt news and clean the rollers and set type, sweep the floor and pen short items, and fold papers, and write wrappers, and make the paste, and mail the papers, and talk to visitors, and distribute type, and carry water, and saw wood and read the proofs, hunt the shears to write editorials, and dodge the bills, and dun delinquents, and take cussings from the whole force, and tell our subscribers that we must have money—we say that we've no business to make mistakes while attending to those little matters, and getting our living on hopper-tail soup flavored with imagination, and wearing old shoes and no collar and a patch on our pants, and obliged to turn a smiling countenance to the man who tells us our paper ain't worth the price nohow, and that he could make a better one with his eyes shut."

Hymeneal.

There was a quiet wedding in Sumter last Wednesday evening, September 21, at the home of Mrs L E LeGrand, of North Main street. The contracting parties were Mr Otis C Kibler of Newberry and Miss Mattie Harvin of Manning. The marriage service was performed by Rev J P Marion. The bride is the youngest daughter of the late Edward Harvin. The groom is a school teacher by profession and come from one of the best of Newberry families. The couple left for Newberry Friday.

The foregoing clipping from the Manning Times will be read with interest by many of Mr Kibler's friends and acquaintances here in Kingstree, where he once held a position in the high school.

It Saved His Leg.

COLE RELEASE.

Hon Cole L Blease, mayor of Newberry, has at last sent the "better element" of South Carolina to the grass. The Democratic primaries have spoken. Mr Blease will be the next Governor, a job he has sought many a time and oft.

We are surprised, but not unmitigably pained by this triumph. So far as our imperfect vision could take note of Palmetto thinks, Mr Blease was, and long has been, opposed by everybody, at least everybody of the virtuous. He was a bad example, the son of Belial, the snake under the palmetto tree and now, or formerly, on the dispensary whiskey bottle. He was a local optionist crying out furtively, in a desert of the dries; professors looked askance at him; newspapers sniffed at him; he was a wolf among the tender lambs and as objectionable as Joe Cannon or the original horned devil whom Josephus has succeeded.

Mr Blease's record is black; he has been accused, and we believe found guilty of "plagiarism" of a speech or an essay of course; priggish of the principles of other folks is honorable, illustrious, almost religious.

Personally we shall forgive the Hon Cole Blease's "plagiarism." Where would Shakespeare and the other brethren be if borrowing were to be scrutinized too narrowly? On his looks, too, we might have to vote for Mr Blease. He has the air of a proverbial pirate who is also a felibre and plays the guitar. His foes denounce him for wearing a "jim swinger" coat. Our imperfect acquaintance with the South Carolina dialect prevents us from appreciating this crime to the full extent of its enormity.—New York Sun.

GO RIGHT AT IT.

Friends and Neighbors in Kingstree Will Show You How.

Get at the root of the trouble. Rubbing an aching back may relieve it. But it won't cure it. You must reach the root of it—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it; Reach the cause; relieve the pain. They cure, too, so Kingstree people say.

Mrs E E King, W Main St, Kingstree, S C, says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a valuable remedy. I was afflicted for some time with dull, nagging backaches, often accompanied by pains in my loins and kidneys. I did not rest well and mornings, upon arising, I felt tired and languid and had no ambition to begin the day's work. The kidney secretions were so irregular in passage that I concluded my kidneys were out of order and hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Scott's drug store. I took them as directed and they helped me in every way. I am now free from the pains in my back and my kidneys are normal."
