Indiantown, January 2:—This community has been enlivened by the home-coming of the college boys and girls for the Xmas holidays. Among them were: Misses Emma Cooper, Winthrop; Jane Ervin and Jho Snowden, Statesville Female College, Statesville, N C; Messrs O'Gillie Rogers and Harold Bridgman, The Citadel; Theo Rogers, Clemson, and Willie Rogers of the State Medical College.

Miss Laura Bridgman, of Chicora College faculty, spent the holidays with the family of her brother, Rev A C Bridgman, at this place.

Mrs James Munnerlyn and her two little girls, of Georgetown county, spent a week with her parents here recently.

Professor George McCutchen and family of Columbia have been visiting the former's brother, Mr D E McCutchen.

A delightful reception, given by Rev A C Bridgman and his family, was enjoyed by quite a number of his congregation Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mrs Wallace Plowden and little daughter of Manning visited Mrs Plowden's mother, Mrs Janette Cooper, for several days last week.

Miss Ellen Britton of Salters spent several days recently with her cousin, Mrs W W Barr.

Tournament at Salters.

Salters Depot, January 3:—An old-fashioned tournament was held here this afternoon, seventeen gallant young knights from the surrounding country taking part. Mr Winston Holliday of Lanes, who rode as Knight of Hope, won the first prize, taking seven out of nine rings. This prize was a fine saddle, and with it went the queen's wreath. The second prize went to Mr J. Dunlop McCollough, who rode as Knight Ben Hur, taking six rings. This prize was a fine riding bridle and the wreath of the first maid of honor. The third prize was won by Mr Elliott McCollough, who rode as Knight Ivanhoe, taking five rings. This prize was a fine pair of spurs and the wreath of the second maid of honor.

Miss Pollie McCollough was crowned "queen of love and beauty" by Mr Winston Holliday. Miss Bessie Swann of Kingstree was crowned first maid of honor by Mr Dunlop McCollough. Miss Frankie Cooke was crowned second maid of honor by Mr Elliott McCollough. A dance was given the knights and ladies at the town hall here tonight, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

COUNTY DELEGATION MEETS

With Citizens to Discuss Measures Affecting Public Welfare.

A meeting of the citizens of Williamsburg county was held Monday in the court house for the purpose of discussing certain measures to be considered by the delegation at the approaching session of the General Assembly.

Mr B B Chandler stated the object of the meeting and asked P H Stoll, Esq., to act as chairman. Mr B Wallace Jones, Jr., was requested to act as secretary.

It was moved that the following recommendation be made to the delegation: That a prohibitive or maximum license under the State law be enacted for this county for the buying of and dealing in seed cotton.

A resolution was carried that the delegation be requested to have the law repealed as to the special whiskey constable for Williamsburg county and that as a substitute a contingent fund of $500 or more be placed in the hands of the Sheriff to be used for the better enforcement of the prohibition law.

A motion prevailed to recommend to the delegation that the law as to the commutation tax for the working of roads be changed so as to make the road tax compulsory, as is the poll tax, and not leave the alternative of working the road in lieu of the payment of the money.

There were about 50 or 75 people present at this meeting, most of them representative citizens from various sections, and all the subjects brought up were discussed, at times in a spirited manner. The consensus of opinion seemed that the present alleged prohibition law is a consummate farce on account of the lack of enforcement that obtains. That more vigorous measures were needed in enforcing the law all were agreed and most of those who expressed an opinion appeared to favor the experiment of a special constable to co-operate with the Sheriff, at his discretion.

The meeting was called immediately after the land sale, about 1 o'clock, and lasted for an hour or longer. There were many things more that might have been properly considered, but at that hour of the day it was hard to hold the crowd together. The call of hunger is harder to resist than the still, small voice of duty, especially when that duty appertains in an abstract way to the public welfare.

However that may be, these meetings are undoubtedly helpful. Nothing for the public good is accomplished save by agitation and sometimes a very small wavelet at the start gains impetus that raises it mountain high and swamps all obstacles before it.

bonds shall be payable in twenty-five years, and shall be paid up in full at maturity."

State officials have declared that it is of no avail to recommend things to the General Assembly, yet this year a number of important matters will be recommended.

Among them are:

- 1. A tax commission, recommended by the department of the Comptroller General.
2. Revision of the school laws by the adoption of the report of the education commission appointed at the last session of the General Assembly.
3. Changes in factory inspection and child labor acts.
4. The adoption of the agricultural commission's report as to the establishment of a school system for agriculture. This recommendation is from the department of Superintendent Swearingen.
5. Changes in the insurance acts to secure better protection. These recommendations have been outlined from time to time in statements by Insurance Commissioner McMaster.
6. A uniform scholarship law, from department of education.
7. The re-establishment of the State summer school.
8. Change in High School act so as to remove the restriction from towns of over 2,500 inhabitants.
9. Increase in pay of State officials. The Governor now gets $3,000, and nearly all other officials $1,900 per year. The bill to this effect was killed in 1909, and the salaries remained as they now are.
10. A compulsory education law.

These are but a few of the matters that are recommended to the Legislature. In addition, good roads bills will be introduced; the Torrens' land system will be advocated; a bill will be introduced as to vital statistics; and a number of other measures of more or less importance. —News & Courier.
