Dynamiting Fish.

Recently several persons have complained to us that certain parties are dynamiting fish in Black river and have requested us to warn these violators of the law of the penalty attached to their crime. For the benefit of all concerned we quote Section 8 of the new Game Fish Law, as follows:

It shall be unlawful to throw, place or put dynamite or any explosive in any lake, stream or inland water in Berkeley, Bamberg, Dorchester, Orangeburg, Chesterfield, Colleton, Clarendon and Williamsburg counties for the purpose of taking fish. For the violation of this section, the person so violating shall be fined five hundred ($500) dollars or be imprisoned for one year.

A pretty severe penalty this, and those who are wantonly breaking the law had better be warned ere it is too late.

Governor Blease said last week that he pardoned several convicts "just because he felt good." That is all right, no doubt, from the Governor's stand-point. When he feels bad he would have a few poor wretches hanged, perhaps, to harmonize with his moods.

Dynamite may be all right for ditch-digging and blowing out stumps, but for fishing purposes it is too dangerous. The man who will kill all the fish in the river to get a mess for himself ought to be taught a lesson, and if the bold and flagrant operations reported be kept up, the fisherman, as well as the fish, will be caught. Then, watch some one run around with a petition to have the poor, persecuted martyr of righteousness pardoned, or paroled or pensioned, according to strength of the "pull" with our esteemed Chief Executive.

The first response to our appeal for help to pay for that new press came from an esteemed friend at Salters, who, because he is a modest man who would deprecate his worthy deeds being published abroad, shall be nameless. Our friend in renewing his subscription added an extra dollar, which pays his subscription to 1913. If one-third of the subscribers on our mailing list would do this, we would soon be able to pay for the new press and thus remove a burden of debt that will otherwise hang over us for years to come. It is a perfectly safe investment. Should the paper change hands, or the present editor pass away, The Record will continue to be issued every week, and all paid-in-advance subscribers will be amply protected. The value of the plant is good for every outstanding obligation, including subscriptions unexpired, and by paying a long time ahead you don't have to worry about renewing. How many of our subscribers will follow the example of our big-hearted friend at Salters Depot?

A Pardonable Pun.

Most if not all of the deep sea sounding now done is done with steel wire. Professor Silvanus P. Thompson in his recent "Life of William Thomson," better known as Lord Kelvin, says that that scientist was one of the first to recommend the abandonment of the old hemp rope system.

In connection with this use of steel wire the story is told that Joule, visiting White's shop, found Sir William surrounded by coils of wire which he was inspecting and on inquiring their use was told that they were pianoforte wire for sounding.

"For sounding what note?" inquired Joule.
"The deep C," was Sir William's reply.

One Way to Create Peers.

Peerages have sometimes been acquired in curious ways. When the head of a well known west country family was raised to the upper house a good deal of surprise was expressed at such a distinction being conferred upon him, for he had not rendered any particular service to his party, having lost practically every election he had contested. Lord Beaconsfield furnished me with the key to this enigma. "Well," said he, "we really did not know what to do with him, for he was positively doing us harm. Wherever he stood he was beaten, so at last we thought the best way to get rid of him would be to send him to the upper house."—From "Under Five Reigns."

STATE and GENERAL TOPICS

Mrs Jeannie Seay, aged 110, died Tuesday at her home in Spartanburg county.

H O Smith, a flagman on the Southern railway, was killed near Columbia Tuesday.

Col James Cosgrove, a prominent business man and drainage engineer of Charleston, died at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Saturday.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has named the postoffice at Anderson as a postal savings depository. This is the second postal savings bank in the State, the other being at Newberry.

Governor Blease has remitted the fine of $2,000 imposed on John Black for conspiracy to defraud the State. Black was also sentenced to five years' imprisonment, of which punishment the Governor relieved him some weeks ago.

W O Carpenter, a life-term murderer from Edgefield, has been paroled by Governor Blease after having served seventeen years. Also a parole was granted W H Brigham, a white man sent to the penitentiary from Marion county for beating nearly to death an old negro woman.

Nine persons killed and more than a dozen injured resulted from a fast train, the Atlantic Coast Line's "Dixie Flyer," going over a trestle into the Alpha river near Ocilla, Georgia, Saturday morning. The first and second class passenger coaches and the first Pullman car went into the river, carrying 400 feet of the trestle.

Rufus I Hasell, book-keeper for the well-known firm of Welch & Eason, Charleston, blew out his brains with a pistol Monday morning. He walked out of the store, purchased a revolver, returned a few minutes later and, taking his seat at the desk he had used for eighteen years, fired the fatal shot. Hasell was a graduate of the Citadel Academy.

A ten story shirt-waist factory in New York city caught fire and burned Saturday afternoon, causing the death of 148 employees in the building. There were no fire escapes in the building and the employees were trapped like rats in the burning structure. Many of them jumped from the upper stories and were dashed to death on the flagstones below.

C H Blocker of Petersburg, Florida, was run over and killed Tuesday night at Florence by the Atlantic Coast Line's "Palmetto Limited" fast train. The victim of the accident was a passenger on the train that killed him and had stepped off while it was in motion, after being warned not to do so. He was about 70 years old and was prominently connected, his son being mayor of Petersburg.

Governor Blease has turned down a petition for the pardon of John J Jones, the man who slew Abe Pearlstone at Branchville several months ago and was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. The Governor also declined to consider a petition for pardon presented in behalf of W B Avant, the man who killed Mrs Ruth Crisp Bigham at Murrell's Inlet September 15, 1909, at the instigation of Dr G C Bigham, Mrs Bigham's husband. Both Avant and Dr Bigham are fugitives from justice, having been convicted and sentenced to three years and six months' imprisonment in each case.

Wasted Talent.

"Miss Goldbags—Caroline," began the suitor in nicely modulated tones as he extended his right hand and hitched up his left trousers leg preparatory to assuming the attitude prescribed by the best authorities as most suitable for such occasions, "as I humbly approach the shrine of your dazzling loveliness, like a poor moth beating his quivering wings against the ineffable brightness of—"

"Excuse me, Captain Cashless," gently interrupted the beautiful maiden, "but perhaps I ought to tell you that I accepted my cousin Fred last night."

For a moment the ardent wooer was dumfounded. Then he turned bitterly away.

"Then all I can say," he remarked, "is this: You've missed one of the most eloquent and carefully rehearsed proposals you ever listened to."—St. Paul Dispatch.

Spaniels.

Spaniels, of which there are many breeds, are supposed to have first come from Spain, from which circumstance is derived their distinctive name. Charles I. was an ardent admirer of a small variety of this animal, and from that arose the designation of his pets, known the world over as King Charles. Blenheim or Marlborough spaniels, which greatly resemble the latter in form and general appearance, get their English name from Blenheim palace, in Oxfordshire, where the breed has been preserved since the beginning of the eighteenth century.

Pat's Retort.

A one legged Welsh orator named Jones was pretty successful in bantering an Irishman, when the latter asked him:

"How did you come to lose your leg?"

"Well," said Jones, "on examining my pedigree and looking up my descent I found there was some Irish blood in me and, becoming convinced that it was settled in the left leg, I had it cut off at once."

"By the powers," said Pat, "it would have been a very good thing if it had only settled in your head."

Stuck Either Way.

Mamma—Goodness me! It's half an hour since I sent you round to the store to get those things, and here you are back without them!

Little Dick—It was such a long time before my turn came to be waited on that I forgot what it was you wanted.

Mamma—Then why didn't you come home and find out?

Little Dick—I was afraid if I left I'd lose my turn.—Nottingham Guardian.
