

IN THE TOWNS

Where people make use of their banks, depositing their money and paying bills by check, you will find a progressive, "Get-there" spirit which stands for the up-building of that town and community.

This is our home and we take an active interest in watching and aiding the material prosperity of both town and surrounding country. We would like to see every man and woman, particularly every farmer and every man working for wages in this community, start a bank account—it would mean a better town, a better market, a better county.

Will you join us in this work? The amount of your first deposit isn't so material as the fact of making a start now—in the

LOCAL GLEANINGS

Dr J G McMaster of Florence was in town Sunday.

Mr O J Hayes visited his home folk in Dillon this week.

Mr Lee Moore visited his home in Durham, N. C. this week.

Mr W R Scott made a business trip to Charleston Friday.

Mr Olin Epps offers a reward for recovery of church record book lost. See ad.

Mrs H C Hanahan has returned from a visit to her parents in Pennsylvania.

Capt Charles Wallace of St Stephens visited his father, Dr Wallace, here this week.

Mr James Allen of Florence has been visiting his son's, Dr M L Allen's, family in town.

Miss Margaret Fleming of Charleston was the guest of Mr Louis Jacobs' family last week.

We had the pleasure of a call from Dr M A Woods, Lake City's popular young dentist, Monday.

Mr John Riser and daughter, Miss Dell, of Greenville are visiting the family of LeRoy Lee, Esq.

Miss Roberta Coker will return this evening from a visit of about ten days in Lake City and elsewhere.

Dr E T Kelley was called to Timmonsville Sunday on account of the illness of his sister, Mrs T M Ingram.

Dr R C McCabe is away on a business trip to Georgia and Florida and will be out of his office several weeks.

Mr J N Sauls of Monck's Corner was here this week with a force of hands moving a house for Dr W L Wallace.

Rev W E Hurt and Mr C M Hinds left Tuesday night for Jacksonville, Fla. to attend the Southern Baptist convention.

Messrs Kelley and Hinds, L W Gilland and E L Hirsch visited the State capital last week on professional business.

Mrs W G Gamble, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs J G McMaster, in Florence, returned on Sunday, Mrs McMaster accompanying her.

We are obligated to Mr O M Mitchell, principal of Union High school, Rome, for an invitation to the eighth annual commencement of the school May 26-30.

Miss Lucile Bryan has returned from the Southern Presbyterian College, Red Springs, N. C. for vacation and is now at the home of her father, Hon W D Bryan of Taft.

Revs W P Meadors and W A Fairy and Messrs B E Clarkson, A M Gordon and N D Lesesne went to Summerton yesterday to attend the Kingstree district conference.

Messrs E D Sallenger and Earl C Page, representing respectively the Charleston News & Courier and the Columbia State, spent Friday in town. This is an unusual occurrence. Newspaper solicitors do not as a rule hunt in couples.

We are indebted to the kindness of Miss Leila Flossie Epps, a member of the graduating class, for an invitation to the eighteenth annual commencement of the Scarrett Bible and Training School, of Kansas City, Missouri, to take place May 12-16.

The local truck growers are as busy as bees gathering their bean crop. Prices are very satisfactory this season, we understand, and if they hold up a handsome profit will be realized by the enterprising truckers who have planted the toothsome esculent.

We acknowledge with appreciative thanks an invitation from Miss Frances Eleanor Epps of Kingstree to the commencement exercises of Columbia College, which take place May 28 to June 1. Miss Epps is a member of the graduating class with the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Among the prominent visitors from a distance to the corner-stone laying was Capt Hartwell M Ayer, the clever and versatile editor of the Florence Times. Our friend paid us a very pleasant call while in town and we "swapped yarns" to our mutual edification almost till train time.

Rev Simon T Russell of Bloomingdale called to see us yesterday. It was a melancholy pleasure to see our old-time friend. His health is so impaired as to necessitate his relinquishing his pastoral work, which is hard indeed for one who has labored so long and earnestly in the vineyard of the Master.

The members of the Junior Missionary society of the Presbyterian church were guests of Miss Rosa Wilkins at a lawn party given at her hospitable home Tuesday afternoon of last week at 5 o'clock. Ice cream, strawberries and cake was served à fresco and all the little ones present enjoyed the occasion most heartily.

So many visitors were here Monday that it is impossible to even attempt to name them. We shook hands with at least a hundred friends, many of whom we had not had the pleasure of greeting since many moons had waxed and waned. We enjoyed this part of the programme more than anything else perhaps.

Mr Cecil Jacobs, who until recently held a responsible position with Louis Cohen & Co of Charleston, is here on a visit to his parents. Mr Jacobs informs us that he and Mr R H Brown of Charleston have leased the Atlantic Beach Hotel for the season and will conduct that popular island resort during the summer months. Mr Jacobs is a young man of exceptional business acumen and is quite popular, both of which qualifications are highly essential in the management of a hotel. All his friends bespeak for him pleasure and profit in his new venture.

If our readers see any way by which our, as well as their, newspaper can be improved and made more helpful and entertaining, the editor is not only willing but eager to hear of it. We are always on the lookout for something better, and by helping us you profit thereby, and by benefiting you we gain thereby.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS

Warming Up for August Primary --Some Prospective Candidates.

While this is an off-year in State and county politics, the political cauldron is by no means undisturbed locally, for the municipal election looms largely in the immediate future and the aforesaid cauldron is beginning to seethe and boil very perceptibly indeed.

The municipal primary—which is tantamount to election—comes off in August, and if curb-stone chat or Dame Rumor's gossip is to be relied on, the out-look for a lively campaign is full of promise. The offices to be filled are a Mayor and six Aldermen, and quite a number of gentlemen have been suggested as prospective or appropriate candidates in both contests. Naturally the chief interest is centered in the Mayor's race. As Mayor Gilland, the incumbent, has announced his intention of not offering for further honors, it lets down the bars for a free-for-all race with no initial advantage or handicap, and this contest promises to be a pretty one indeed, especially if all the candidates suggested should make the race. Up to this time we have heard of four probable or possible candidates, for Mayor, viz: Messrs A M Gordon, L P Kinder, R J Kirk and Thomas McCutchen. Messrs Kinder and McCutchen are now members of the council and we are positively informed that both are in the race to a finish. The other two gentlemen named, so far as we we know, have not yet formally announced their candidacy.

While the office of council-man is not generally considered a bonanza, yet when election time comes around there is usually by no means a dearth of aspirants for the honors and emoluments appertaining thereto, and from present indications, this year will not be an exception. Albeit we have heard no definite announcement from any candidate for Alderman, it would be by no means surprising if the following gentlemen, some if not all of them, should yield to the solicitations of their friends and offer for the office: Messrs M A Ross, Carol Burgess, M H Jacobs, H E Montgomery, P S Courtney, W R Scott, E L Fishburne and Dr Taylor. Out of this number we think a very excellent council could be nominated.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, Chamberlain's Liniment is excellent. This liniment is also highly esteemed for the relief it affords in cases of rheumatism. Sold by all dealers.

TRIO TOWN TOPICS.

What People of a Busy Community Are Saying and Doing.

Trio, May 15:—The same old cry can still be heard: farmers are wanting rain and crops need it.

Mrs W E Graham is visiting friends in and near Lake City; before returning home she will also visit her people in Sumter.

There was a family picnic at Trio landing on Black river last Friday, the families of Messrs F L Morris and J B McCants with Miss Hattie Lewis comprising the crowd.

Mr D Ogburn of Georgia visited his brother, Mr C B Ogburn, near here last week.

Mr Preston Boyd and sister Ethel and Miss U Crooks were among the visitors to Kingstree Saturday.

Rev Mr Langston, the local Baptist minister, failed to meet his appointment Sunday, the 7th inst, but preached here yesterday instead. Rev W T Bedenbaugh also filled his appointment here this Sabbath.

Rev S T Russell, who served as pastor of the local Baptist church for many years, preached his farewell sermon at Spring Gulley Sunday. He stated that his health had failed so in recent years that he is unable to attend to the duties devolving upon him as pastor. All the people of our community wish him speedy recovery from his infirmities. The good wishes of all who know him are with this faithful servant in the Master's cause.

Mr W E Graham has been indisposed for the past few days but is much better at this time.

Mr W T Rowell says that he will be able to make a shipment of beans Monday or Tuesday. The beans here certainly are of good quality.

Mr J A Salters was a visitor to Kingstree and Charleston several days this week.

Mr Roland F Wooten, of Georgetown and Andrews, was a visitor to his old home here last Monday afternoon.

Miss Lucile Bryan has returned to her home at Taft from Red Springs, N. C. where she has been attending school.

Several of our young men went to Santee river fishing one day last week. They were gone all day and didn't catch a fish. Two of them fished for at least four hours and did not get a bite.

Friday and Saturday being pay days for the G & W railroad and A C L Corporation, a good many of our people had a smile on Sunday.

Master Edward Matthews of Georgetown was a visitor at his aunt's, Mrs A W Graham's, last Sunday. THE PRODIGAL.
