

Getting On in the World is a matter of vast personal interest to each and every one of us. There is a wholesome joy in making headway in the world of dollars; in feeling one's horizon of poverty being pushed back—pushed farther and farther away. Getting on in the world means growth, material growth; a broader grasp of affairs and a larger confidence in one's ability to do the things which count; the things which make for the up-building of our community—certainly a matter of personal interest to every property owner, every tax-payer, every young man and every young woman in our town and the surrounding country.

Do YOU wish to join the ranks of those who are getting on in the world? It's not so hard as you may imagine—just a little practical application of the virtue of thrift, a cutting out of your unnecessary expenses, the saving of your money and the starting of an account with

See new ad Farmers' Warehouse.

Note change of ad Kennedy Millinery Co.

Mr David Scott was in Florence yesterday.

Mr O J Hayes is visiting his home folk in Dillon.

LeRoy Lee, Esq. made a business trip to Florence Tuesday.

In the wake of Gen. Rain look out for Gen. Green and his cohorts.

Today is the day for the tobacco "breaks" all over the State.

Mr John S Jennings visited his parents in Bamberg last week.

Sheriff Burch of Florence had business in Kingstree Monday.

Mr S R Pipkin of Bloomingvale paid us a pleasant call Monday.

A very pleasant dance was given in the opera house Tuesday night.

Miss Mary Ervin of Darlington is visiting her uncle, Rev E E Ervin.

Mr T J Spring has been elected Chief of Police, vice S C Anderson.

Mayor W H Andrews of Georgetown had business in Kingstree Monday.

Miss Barbara Jacobs is the guest of Mrs T A Blakeley at Hendersonville.

The Banner Warehouse invites your patronage in their ad this week.

Mr and Mrs Wm N Jacobs are spending two weeks at the Isle of Palms.

Mr P G Gourdin has returned from a week's outing on Sullivan's Island.

Miss Theo Gregg of Sumter has been visiting the family of T M Gilliland, Esq.

Thanks to our friend, Mr D E McCutchen, for a very fine-melon this morning.

Rev E P Hutson, of Johnsonville circuit, while here Monday, paid us a pleasant call.

The rain-fall here Sunday, as reported by the weather observatory, was 2.20 inches.

Dr A M Snider is making preparations to rebuild his residence, which was burned on June 16.

Misses Emma Nettles of Hartsville and Louise Bass of Lanes have been visiting the family of Mr B W Butler.

The Farmers' Supply Co's big building has recently been repainted, making a vast improvement in its appearance.

Stephen Thomas & Brother, the old reliable Charleston jewelers, have an interesting new ad in this issue of The Record.

Mr and Mrs P O Arrowsmith and children have been spending some days on Sullivan's Island for rest and recuperation.

Mr Farmer, if you are in reach of Kingstree market, you will be doing yourself an injustice not to bring your tobacco here.

Mayor L W Gilland has been for the past week or two on Sullivan's Island recuperating from an attack of chills and fever.

It is hard to gauge the depths of moral depravity of a man able to work who will beat a poor widow out of a board bill.

Misses Jennie and Marjorie Russell of Lumberton, North Carolina, are guests of the family of their uncle, Mr Hugh McCutchen.

Mr R H Kellahan is building a neat cottage in North Kingstree, to be occupied by Mr J W Swittenberg and family, we understand.

Mr Marion Stutts of Clinton is visiting his home-folk in town. Mr Stutts is now foreman of the Thornwell Orphanage printing plant.

Dr and Mrs A M Snider, with their daughter, Mrs E C Epps, and her children, left for Myrtle Beach last week to spend several weeks.

Effective July 8, Pullman buffet cars were put on trains Nos 52 and 53 on the Atlantic Coast Line, operating between Charleston and Greenville.

Children's day will be observed for the Methodist Sunday-school at the school auditorium next Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Everybody is invited.

Tobacco is coming in regularly now and the warehouse-men are much encouraged at the outlook. Prices, too, are fine, almost anything bearing the name of tobacco being readily salable a good price.

We regret to hear that our friend, Mr V A Sedgwick, and family contemplate in the near future changing their place of residence to the thriving town of Andrews. Our best wishes attend them in their new home.

We are paying two dollars a month for Phone No 83 to accommodate our readers. Yet they very seldom give us a news item, even those closely connected with the telephone company. Ring us up when you have a visitor!

Porter Fulton, one of our colored subscribers, who has a farm on Mr H E Montgomery's place near town, brought to town a specimen of his fine cotton Saturday. Porter says that he has 35 acres of cotton that will average a bale to the acre.

We were pleased to shake hands Tuesday with "Uncle" George Mitchum of Central. "Uncle" George is still cheerful and is holding his own pretty well against age and infirmities. Such men as "Uncle" George Mitchum really never grow old.

Mr and Mrs W P Hawkins, who have been conducting a boarding establishment at the "Epps House" since last year, left yesterday for Leesville, Lexington county, to engage in a similar avocation. These were good neighbors and we feel in their departure a personal loss. May their lines be cast in pleasant places.

A petition is being circulated praying the Atlantic Coast Line railroad to put in a crossing where the road comes out from Mr J S Fulton's place. Such a crossing would fill a long-felt need and it is to be hoped that sufficient signers and the other conditions required by the railroad will be promptly met and the crossing established.

Mr A Slide Coker leaves this week for Georgia, "prospecting" with a view to finding a suitable dwelling place. As soon as he decides upon a location his wife and children will join him there. We hate very much to lose these good people as citizens of our community, albeit we wish them happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Our job department is turning out some very pretty work these days. Don't you need something in the way of letter heads, bill heads, statements, circulars, cards, envelopes? We have a $1,200 stock of stationery to select from, our type faces are the latest and we guarantee prices as low as the lowest, quality as high as the highest.

Last Sunday's rain was the biggest we have had here in a year, at least—some say in two years. The water fell in solid sheets for about three hours and for the first time since last winter the earth was thoroughly wet. The drought has been relieved pretty well over the county now and advices from most sections indicate that crops are the best ever.

We thank Cashier Fraser, of the Bank of Olanta, for a souvenir puzzle advertising his bank, which, by the way, is one of the best managed and most prosperous financial institutions in this section of the State. We also return appreciative thanks to our friend for a cordial invitation to the big annual picnic at Olanta on the 22nd inst. Wish it were so that we could attend.

It seems that our time limit for receiving communications is either overlooked or we are expected to set type by electricity. This week we have five letters and three advertisements too late to go in the current issue without delaying the paper. To get the paper printed on time we must have all advertising copy and articles of length not later than Tuesday morning. Bear this in mind. We make no exceptions.

Dr L V Bell, the proprietor of Florida Herbal Remedies, is giving free open air concerts every night at the corner of Main and Academy streets. The Doctor has a couple of clever negro minstrels, whose singing, dancing and funny stories never fail to amuse. Dr Bell may be seen at any time during the day at Allen's drug store and will be glad to talk with any one sick or afflicted.

Mr E F Prosser of Vox was in town Monday making final arrangements to hold the election on the question of the annexation of another slice of Williamsburg to Florence county, Mr Prosser being one of the commissioners of election. This is an area of about 24 square miles, including Leo postoffice, which has been pending for some months. The election will soon be ordered now, we are informed.

Mr S E Evans is spending several weeks with his parents, Mr and Mrs J S Evans, near Workman postoffice. Mr Evans was graduated last year at Clemson College and since then he has been in charge of an agricultural high school and experiment station at Eros, Louisiana. It is gratifying to hear that Mr Evans is "making good" in his adopted home, but we hate to see our State lose the services of such a promising young man.

We are sorry to note by our Salters correspondence that Mr E W Dabbs had but a slim attendance at his first meeting at that place. Mr Dabbs is vice president of the State Farmers' Union and he has a message for the farmers of the county that will amply repay them for their time and attention. As our Andrews correspondent puts it: "We think we are graduates in farming, when as a matter of fact, we know only the elementary principles."

5 or 6 doses "666" will cure any case of Chills and Fever. Price, 25c

If you are sick, deaf or lame, or broke down in ill health, it will pay you to call at Allen's Drug store and see the Doctor and get further information as to his wonderful Florida Herbal Discoveries, all of which are for sale at Allen's Drug store.

The Doctor will be at Allen's Drug store until further notice given through the columns of this paper.

IN SOCIAL KINGSTREE

One of the most delightful affairs of last week was the reception given by Mr and Mrs L J Stackley, Wednesday evening, at their lovely home in Hampton street in honor of Miss Alma Chapman of Johnsonville. The house was beautifully decorated, the piazza being brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns, presenting a picture of Fairyland. The color scheme in the reception hall was pink and green, while the parlors were decorated with pot plants and a profusion of cut flowers.

The guests were received by Miss Dell Van Keuren and Dr Theodore Hemingway, the entire receiving line consisting of Mr and Mrs L J Stackley, Misses Chapman, Mai Stoll, Barbara Jacobs, Mary James Britton and Annie Stackley.

Punch was served from a green bower in the porch, the bowl being gracefully presided over by Misses Marguerite Van Keuren and Alice Stackley.

Those invited to meet Mrs Stackley's guest were: Misses Barbara Jacobs, Dell Van Keuren, Hazel Gewinner, Annie Stackley, Mai Stoll, Florrie Jacobs, Margaret Ross, Marianne Gilland, Selma Thorn, Marie Thorn, Martha Gordon, Lula Brockington, Pearle Montgomery, Clara Montgomery, Ada Brockington, Flossie Harper, Daisy Stackley, Mary James Britton, Odessa Montgomery, Sadie Meyer, Agnes Jones of Batesburg; Messrs W R Scott, Theodore Hemingway, P G Gourdin, J B Alsbrook, R N Speigner, W C Rogers, P H Arrowsmith, R C McCabe, J P Davis, J L Brockinton, A L McElveen, D A Brockinton, Alex Gordon, D C Scott, Pou Meadors, Geo McElveen, Benton Montgomery, John Britton, W B Brockinton and many others.

Mrs W V Brockington gave an informal but most delightful luncheon Thursday morning in honor of her mother, Mrs C I Rush of Blacksville. Salad and ice courses were served. Mrs L W Gilland and Miss Ada Brockington delighted the guests with music during the luncheon. Those invited were: Mesdames B W Butler, Louis Jacobs, R J Kirk, W N Jacobs, T M Gilland and L W Gilland.

The younger set were given a most enjoyable chicken supper at the home of Mr J R Pendergrass in honor of Miss Andrea Schroder of Camden. Mr Pendergrass's country home was a scene of much merriment when a host of young people, chaperoned by Mr and Mrs W H Carr, gathered on the lawn and played ed old-fashioned games. Those present were: Mr and Mrs Carr, Misses Andrea Schroder, Lila Pendergrass, Lizzie Fulton, Marian McFadden, Emma Gordon, Alma Chapman, Florrie Jacobs, Hazel Gewinner and Daisy, Alice, Katie and Jennie Lee Stackley; Messrs Sam Stackley, Virgil Kinder, Clarence Alsbrook, Dick Frierson, Robert Kirk, Jr, Pou Meadors, Alex Gordon, Mott McGill and John and Wm Britton.

On Tuesday evening the Sand Hills were again the scene of merriment when a number of the younger set gave a chicken supper. The moonlight was ideal and the chicken was not too material to go well with it. The occasion altogether was a thoroughly enjoyable one to all those who were in the happy party, among whom were: Mr and Mrs W H Carr, Misses Annie Stackley, Florrie Jacobs, Alice and Katie Stackley, Hazel Gewinner of Macon, Ga, Emma Gordon, Lizzie Fulton, Daisy Stackley and Alma Chapman of Johnsonville; Messrs Sam Stackley, Virgil Kinder, Dickey Frierson of Charleston, Robert Kirk, Alex Gordon, John Britton of Cooper, Mott McGill and Clarence Alsbrook.

The Misses Gordon entertained on Thursday evening in honor of their guests, Misses Clara Yarborough of Columbia and Marguerite Simpson of Laurens. The piazza of the Gordon house was attractively lighted with Japanese lanterns, and inside the house was artistically decorated. Mesdames B W Butler and W G Gamble assisted the Misses Gordon in receiving, while punch was served by Miss Emma Gordon and Messrs Sam Stackley and Scriven Brockington. A dainty ice course was served by little Misses Martha Gamble, May Reddick, Pauline and Margaret Gordon.

The house party of which Miss Britton has been the hostess has broken up, to the genuine regret of the many friends made by the popular visitors during their stay. Among Miss Britton's guests were: Miss Clara Jordon of Bennettsville, who left on Tuesday for Jacksonville, Fla; Misses Freda Rutland and Agnes Jones of Batesburg, who returned home on Thursday. Miss Zuline Anderson of Florence is still in town as the guest of Mrs B W Butler and Camden. Mr Pendergrass's country home was a scene of much merriment when a host of young people, chaperoned by Mr and Mrs W H Carr, gathered on the lawn and played Times may be hard and prospects gloomy, but we notice that more people than ever before are going to springs and mountain resorts, which denotes very clearly that there is a plenty of spare cash in the country.

Kingstree is going to be a bigger factor in the tobacco business this season than ever before. With three warehouses, all pulling for business, competition is as keen as in any other market in South Carolina.
