KINGSTREE—THE GATEWAY TO OPPORTUNITY.

THURSDAY, OCT. 5, 1911.

Italy and Turkey are trying to get up a scrap, but the whole affair seems more like opera bouffe than grim-visaged war.

The Government report of more than 13,500,000 bales in sight throws a damper on even the most optimistic believer in higher prices for cotton in the immediate future.

Verily, "the paths of glory lead but to the grave." The hero of Santiago, whose name a decade ago was on every one's tongue, passed away in New York city and no one knew who he was until his identity was disclosed by the papers in his lockets.

The death of Admiral Schley calls to mind the bitter controversy between the partisans of himself and Admiral Sampson, as to who was entitled to the credit of the victory over Cervera's fleet. Now that death has claimed both warriors, what boots it to whom history accords the coveted honor?

In response to a request for an article setting forth the school statistics of our county, how the money is spent, etc, Superintendent of Education McCullough has kindly given us the illuminating statement published elsewhere this week, which should be carefully read by all persons interested in the schools of our county.

Editor Ayer, of the Florence Times, advances the ingenious idea that the "hobble skirt" affected by the fair sex is partially responsible for the low price of cotton. Even if our friend's rather fantastic argument were demonstrable without a flaw, what remedy can be offered for the evil? None, we submit; as well try to change the laws of nature as to attempt to prevent lovely woman from bowing to the arbitrary decrees of Dame Fashion.

STATE and GENERAL TOPICS

Mr Heber S Reynolds, a well known young man of Columbia, was killed Friday night by falling from the ninth floor of the "sky-scraper" building of that city.

Mistaking Rob McCullough, a negro, for another man with whom he had a fight earlier in the afternoon, West McLure, also a negro, Saturday night emptied the contents of a shotgun into McCullough when they met on the public road near Chester.

Miss Ida Stone, a young woman living near Batesburg, died Saturday under peculiar circumstances. It is said that a white man living on the place had put a "spell" on her and gave her some medicine, for which she paid him $7, and after taking the concoction she died.

One hundred and fifty killed and eighty-six missing, supposed to be buried beneath the wreckage, is the result of the bursting of a dam Saturday which supplied water to a pulp and paper mill at Austin, Pennsylvania. The dam was 530 feet long and held back 500,000,000 gallons of water.

The "label" case in which John Bell Towill, L W Boykin and W O Tatum, former directors of the State dispensary, were tried for defrauding the State out of over $20,000, resulted in a mistrial. The trial of this case took almost the whole time of the Richland county court last week.

A boy at the Connie Maxwell orphanage at Greenwood was operated on for appendicitis, and when the appendix had been removed a pin was found imbedded therein. The boy has no recollection of ever swallowing the pin, so that no idea is had as to how long it had been in the appendix. The little fellow is getting on very nicely.

In a hotel bedroom at Gaffney Tuesday morning Henry S Drummond, a traveling representative of a Baltimore grocery house, was found dead in the bed he occupied the night before. The coroner's jury was in doubt as to the cause of death, but an empty bottle of morphine found in the suit case of the dead man seems to indicate suicide.

OLD TESTAMENT TIMES BROWLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES SET AS A WATCHMAN

Ezekiel iii—Oct. 1 "Bear the Word of My mouth and give them warning from Me."—Ezekiel iii, 17.

EZEKIEL ranks amongst the great Prophets. Most realistic were his visions and powerfully described. A portion of his prophecy was written before the final serious troubles upon the kingdom of Judah, which resulted in the overthrow of Zedekiah's kingdom. The remainder of the book was written after the complete overthrow of the kingdom. The entire prophecy was given in Babylon. Ezekiel himself residing there and ministering as a Prophet chiefly to the captives, arousing their hearts to an appreciation of their situation and to a hope of return in God's set time to their own land.

It would be a mistake, however, to suppose that Ezekiel's mission was entirely or even chiefly to the Jews of his time. Rather we are to understand, through St. Peter's statement, that he, with other Prophets of old, spoke and wrote things which they themselves and the people who heard them did not understand—things which God did not wish to have understood until after the giving of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost—things which would be "meat in due season" for the spiritual Israel throughout this Age.

For instance, when Ezekiel tells the people, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die," he was delivering a truth applicable to the Gospel Church during this Age, and a truth which will be applicable to the whole world during the Messianic reign, but which was not applicable to the Jews at the time of the utterance. Why? Because the whole world at that time was lying in the Wicked One; as St. Paul explains, they were all under sentence of death already through Adam's disobedience. Hence they could not be put on trial for life, individually, until first they should be redeemed from the Adamic condemnation.

The blood of bulls and goats could never take away sin from the Jews; the redemption could come only in the Divinely appointed way—through the death of the Saviour; and the Saviour had not yet come, had not yet brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel. And as for Israel's Law Covenant, it was merely typical of the New Covenant of the future.

"Times of Restitution" In the 10th chapter of Ezekiel's prophecy the declaration is clearly set forth that in the Divine Plan a great restitution is sure to come which will affect not only Israel and the living nations of Ezekiel's time, but also the dead of all nations. From the 40th verse onward the Prophet describes the certainty of God's promise to recover Israel, to bring them back into His favor, and that on a better basis than ever in the past. At the same time the Lord declares, through the Prophet, that the Samaritans will be restored and blessed, and that the Sodomites will be restored and blessed. The latter nation had been entirely destroyed by fire from heaven, as the Redeemer declared. It follows that their restoration must be from the tomb, from death, hades, sheol.

The prophecy goes on to declare that the Lord will not do this because of any worthiness of the Israelites or others, but for His own Name's sake—of His own good pleasure. In other words, this is the purpose which God purposed in Himself from before the foundation of the world. This is the purpose which He declared to Enoch, saying that in due time Messiah would "come with myriads of holy ones" to establish justice and righteousness in the earth, to bless the people.

This description is found in verses 40 to 60, the conclusion being that when Israel thus experiences the goodness of God in their restitution they will be ashamed and never open their mouths again by way of boasting or complaint. This will be after God's favor shall have been restored to them and He shall be pacified toward them in respect to all of their idolatrous doings of the past. The pacification of Divine Justice is found in the redemption accomplished by our Lord and Savior.

Not Torment but Death It is worthy of note here that neither the Prophet nor those whom he typified were ever commissioned to say to mankind that the sinner would be eternally roasted, nor suffer eternally in any condition. The extreme penalty for sin presented to us in God's Word is, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." In other words, God declares that He will not give eternal life to the wicked, but only to those who will turn from sin to righteousness. Thus we read, "Turn ye, turn ye, for why will ye die?" And again, "He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son shall not see life (everlasting); but the wrath of God abideth on him"—the sentence of death everlasting.
