ANDREWS INNOVATIONS.

Meeting of the "Home Makers' Club"--Linen Shower, etc.

Andrews, June 17:-The ladies of the "Home Makers' club" held their regular meeting last Wednesday and were entertained by Mesdames John and Ben White, who are charming hostesses. Delicious refreshments were served. Everyone enjoyed the evening to its utmost. Readings were given by Mesdames Payne and Porter. This club of composed of matrons who meet every two weeks. It is entertained by two members of the club at each meeting. The next meeting will be at the Rosemary Inn by Mesdames Bell and Porter.

Our domestic science teacher, Miss Clara Gibson of Union, decided she liked Andrews so well that she would stay among us.

Be it said much to our joy, the last day of school was June 10.

Miss Clara Gibson and Mr John Grant were happily married in the little white Methodist church on the hill, with a few of their chosen friends to witness the ceremony. Mr Grant is a popular young man of our town and holds a fine position with the Atlantic Coast Lumber Mayor.

The young ladies of the town gave Miss Etta Isokriet a linen shower last Friday at Mr May's residence, the long, wide porch being especially suited for the entertainment. The presents were dainty and useful, with a word of advice and congratulations in each parcel. Dainty refreshments were served. The evening will long be remembered as one of pleasure.

Some Ancient Trust Offenders.

Why not compare monopoly with itself? Why not study the trusts of J W Cook today in the light of the trusts of vesterday? Step by step the problem will Street Work grow simpler. One by one those Street Work features of trust practice which we have thought so new will be seen to be old, and they will grow less important as we see how our fathers met and dealt with them. A series of interesting parallels will result. We shall find that competition was LeRoy Lee. the uncommon, and monopoly the usual condition of business in the W U Tel Co. past.

Trusts will be found from Hudson Bay to the Bay of Bengal, from the Baltic to the Gulf of Mexico. One trust ruled India and controlled the destinies of millions of people; another made the Baltic an inland sea, making treaties and dethroning monarchs as need arose. Another financed the crusaders who captured Constantinople and set up a Latin kingdom there; another, the London branch of the Virginia Company, first planted permanent English settlements in the new world. These were international monopolies. Of the lesser national or sectional mocorporation. He is a brother of our nopolies there were many. Every guild organized in the Middle Ages included some features which we would call monopolistic, while kings bestowed upon individuals the sole right to sell various luxuries or necessities, which right was sold or leased to the merchant or the producer.

The story of Joseph in Egypt is one of the prettiest examples of cornering the food supply and exacting a monopoly price therefor of J A Harper. which we have record. We are told L P Kinder in Genesis that the Egyptians gave M H Jacobs in exchange for bread their money, their cattle, and finally, their liberty Lane & Huggins and their land, which they afterward Wm L Stack Co. worked as tenants or serfs of their Jail Fee royal master. Aristotle tells us that Street Work an Athenian citizen once cornered Jail Fee.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Etta Isokriet to Mr Chillum Blakely, June 19, at the Methodist church.

If Madam Rumor is correct (and we think she is) we shall have several more weddings before many moons.

Mrs Medlin will, in about a week's time, move into her beautiful new home, which is just being completed.

THE REPAIRING OF A CARRIAGE

requires the utmost skill. Wear and tear and accidents sooner or later bring every vehicle to the repairer. If he knows his craft the carriage is made as good as new at comparatively little expense, but the novice bungles the job, loses time over his own blundering-and charges for it. The job costs a lot and looks patchy. Not so here! We are experts. W. M. VAUSE & SON.
