THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1912.

To our esteemed contemporary The Charleston News and Courier The County Record extends thanks for the election bulletins sent us from day to day during the session of the great Democratic convention at Baltimore, and we assure the management of that able newspaper of the deep appreciation of the people of Kingstree, who were eager throughout the great meeting to hear "the latest from Baltimore."

LYNCHING IN PICKENS COUNTY.

Negro Put to Death for Crime Against Farmer's Wife.

Greenville, July 1:—Charged with having attempted to ravish the wife of a farmer of Pickens county, and with shooting her twice in the back with a single barreled shotgun, as she ran through the field to her husband Brooks Gordon, a young negro, was taken from the custody of the Sheriff by a determined mob late Saturday afternoon and lynched.

According to reports from Easley Gordon attacked the woman as she was at work in the field at 10 o'clock Saturday. She broke loose from him and ran through the fields toward her husband, who was about a half mile away.

The negro carried a single barreled shotgun and demanded to know of the woman if she intended to report the matter to her husband. She replied as she ran that she would tell her husband, and then the negro leveled the gun at her and fired. The wound did not deter the woman in her purpose. The woman is expected to recover.

Dear Boys:—The Farmers' Institute for the county will take place at Kingstree on July 18, and I am asked to urge you to attend this meeting. You will get instruction that you could not otherwise get, and I believe you will not consider the day lost if you come.

I sincerely hope you all have the very best of corn, and are keeping a complete record of the crop, so you can write a good story of "How I made my corn," when the time comes.

With best wishes,
Yours sincerely,

CANDIDATES AT GEORGETOWN

Big Crowd Attended Campaign Meeting Saturday.

Andrews, July 1:—Your scribe attended the campaign meeting of the State candidates at Georgetown Saturday, June 29. The candidates for Railroad Commissioner spoke first, each presenting his claims for the office, especially old Mr Cansler of Tirzah. If it's to be given to the longest winded man Mr Cansler will win this time. He has been in the race since Wade Hampton's time.

The candidates for Attorney General spoke next—Lyon, Earl, Evans and Peoples. Mr B B Evans accused the State of great graft in the old dispensary. He said her officers had stolen hundreds of thousands of dollars. It seems that to put an honest man's hands on dispensary money starts him to stealing at once. All four candidates for Attorney General made strong pleas for the office.

The next candidates in order were McLaurin and Carter for State Treasurer. Mr Carter is a bright and ambitious young man and made a strong plea to the 1,500 voters present and was given great applause at the end of his speech. Mr McLaurin also made a good speech.

The unopposed candidates were not present. Hon J E Ellerbe, Congressman from the Sixth district, was present but did not speak.

Gov Cole L Blease was the next speaker. He arose under a thunder of applause and handclaps. The Governor made his usual fiery speech and told his hearers that his opponent, Ira B Jones, voted with the negro Anderson, then in the Legislature from Georgetown, and a negro from Beaufort, five different times against the Jim Crow law, and said to the Georgetown people: "He tried by this act to make your wives and daughters ride in the same seat with the big buck negro men and negro wenches." He also said Mr Jones voted for a divorce law. Some one said he (Jones) wanted two wives. Gov Blease then referred to some of the people in Georgetown not being satisfied with his appointment of Mr J B Johnson and Mr Munnerlyn as Road Engineer and Mr J Walter Doar as Superintendent of Education, but he said if they did not like it, to help themselves. He was glad to have a chance to ram it down their throats. He said his opponent had got mad in the House and resigned as Speaker. He also got mad with him (Blease) because he would not appoint a special Judge to hold court at Columbia and resigned his office as Chief Justice. He has now become an honorary ex-Chief Justice and has lost his calling. The Governor was presented by the ladies of Georgetown with a box of flowers as large as he could carry, and was met at West Andrews on the afternoon train and given flowers and loudly cheered by the ladies and little girls.

Hon Ira B Jones also attempted to have his say but was howled down by the yells for Blease. Judge Jones referred to the Blease badges that the crowd wore as guano tags. The crowd was fully marked with Blease badges. Mr Jones was not given fair play. While the report of this meeting in the Sunday News was misleading and untrue, there were about 1,500 voters present, about 75% of whom were Blease men.

After all had their say, Mr Duncan made a very creditable speech, but only a small number of voters stayed to hear him.

On the train from Georgetown to Andrews in the afternoon there were several fights, and a Mr Cannon of Andrews was badly cut with a knife and some other men otherwise hurt, all over the politics of the day.

WOODROW WILSON

FOR PRESIDENT

GOV. THOS. R. MARSHALL OF INDIANA CHOSEN FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Baltimore, July 3:—For President—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey.

This was the ticket completed by the Democratic National Convention at 1:56 a. m. today.

The nomination of Governor Marshall, for Vice President, came as something of a surprise, for, when the night's balloting for Vice President began it seemed that the Bryan-Wilson contingent in the Convention had definitely settled upon Governor John E Burke, of North Dakota.

There was not much of a fight however, and when two ballots disclosed Marshall easily in the lead, Governor Burke's name was withdrawn and Marshall was proclaimed the nominee by acclamation. A minute later the Convention had adjourned sine die.

Governor Wilson was nominated at the afternoon session on the forty-sixth ballot, and his nomination, like that of Governor Marshall tonight, was quickly made unanimous. The best of feeling pervaded both sessions.

Mr Bryan had announced his intention of introducing a resolution in effect discharging the national committee from the conduct of the coming campaign and allow Governor Wilson to appoint his own campaign committee. He was dissuaded from this course, and, instead of making a move that might have stirred up strife, he made a little speech which he termed his "valedictory" and in happy mood turned over the mantle of his former leadership as a presidential candidate to Governor Wilson.

He pledged his faithful support to the presidential nominee and ended by urging that Governor Burke or Senator George Chamberlain, of Oregon be nominated Vice President. The Nebraskan was understood particularly to favor Governor Burke as a type of the modern progressive.

When, after the first ballot, some one moved to make the nomination of Marshall unanimous, Mr Bryan started for the stage to make a statement. The motion was withdrawn before he could speak. When the motion was resumed after the second ballot, Mr Bryan did not protest.

The platform, hewed out in committee several days ago, and warmly praised by Mr Bryan, was adopted with a whoop.

Stimulate Children?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a strong and safe tonic for the young. Not a drop of alcohol in it.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Pills in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick-headache. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them. Made by the J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Negroes Pleased with Blease.

The following letter in the Columbia State has attracted a great deal of attention, and the Times has been asked by some of the people of this community to give it publicity as one of the pieces of evidence in the campaign:

To the Editor of the State:—I noticed in Sunday's State where Gov Blease said in his campaign speech at Chesterfield that he did not tell a negro audience in Columbia that he favored letting them have their share of privilege tax.

This statement may be correct, but the good Governor did say he favored letting them have all their tax money for their schools.

Furthermore he advised the negroes not to be cowards and if a white man comes to his house and acts somewhat indecorous, shoot hell out of him, and if the courts send you to the penitentiary, I will pardon every one. He urges the negroes to take no backward step in the right.

The negroes of South Carolina are well pleased with the administration of Gov Blease, as he is not sincere in all his statements. As the president of Allen University puts it "Those few negroes who can vote will surely cast their ballots for Cole Blease."

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.

Insurance Commissioner Warns Farmers of Storing Uncured Hay

Spontaneous combustion in hay is causing a number of fires throughout the State, according to Insurance Commissioner McMaster. He gives the following instances:

A small store was recently burned in Columbia, and it has been satisfactorily established that it was due to spontaneous combustion in several bales of hay which the store-keeper had purchased the day before. The store-keeper on a Saturday morning had purchased from a country wagon several bales of hay which had been recently gathered. It was piled in the back part of the store and the evening sun beating on the rear end of the store caused that part of the house to be considerably heated. This seems to have set the hay on fire, and about 4 o'clock next morning the flames were discovered. The building was consumed.

Mr Boozer, who lives near Cross Hill, hauled several loads of uncured hay into his barn. A hand who went to feed the stock found that the hay was heated, but paid no attention to it. At mid-day, when there was no one about the barn, which was in a field, the hay burst into flames and the barn was consumed.

Mr Lewis Cook, who lives near Bishopville, on the day before this fire, had hauled into his barn some uncured oats in bundles. The next morning, at feed time, the oats were found to be quite heated, but no attention was paid to it, and before 12 o'clock in the day, flames had started in the oats and the barn was consumed.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unnatural looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.
