

Value of a Bank Account.

A bank account with this strong, conservative institution is worth a great deal to you in convenience and security. It leads to many privileges and broader business relations, to ask and receive advice and to use our facilities.

It is not necessary that you should come to the bank in person if you desire to open an account. Your deposits can be sent by mail with your name and address, or by some other person, and the deposits promptly acknowledged, sending you either a pass book or a statement of the account at the close of each month, as desired.

We make it a point that every business transaction with our patrons shall be satisfactory. We want each one to feel that they are free to come to us in all matters where our experience and advice will be of value and assistance. You can also be sure that every business transaction passing through our hands is held in strict confidence.

If you have had no business with this bank we feel confident that you will appreciate the service we can render.

See his ad in this issue and when in town call on him for a meal.

Quite a number of our townspeople visited Lane Sunday to attend the services at the Baptist church conducted by Messrs Parker, Huthmacher, Sigwald and Westendorf of Charleston. These Christian gentlemen came up from Charleston on train 78 Saturday and their first service was held that evening and three services Sunday, all of which were well attended, and much interest manifested.

Several fields of cotton in the Indiantown section have been found affected and rendered worthless. It was thought possibly the boll weevil was the destructive agent, and Cooper Bros forwarded a specimen plant to Columbia for the inspection of the agricultural department, which has sent word that the trouble is not due to the boll weevil and that further investigation into the cause of the trouble is being made and will be more fully reported on at an early date.

On Monday Governor Bleas named commissioners for State and Federal boxes in several counties of the State, who will have charge of the general elections. There are two sets, one, the State commissioners, who will have charge of the boxes for Governor and other State officers, and the other as Federal commissioners, who will have charge of the boxes for Congress and Presidential electors. The appointments for Williamsburg are: State—E L Hirsch, T B Gourdin, H A Meyer; Federal—P A Alsbrook, L P Kinder, W A Hanks.

The tobacco season, which has been the most profitable ever experienced in Kingstree, is rapidly drawing to a close. About all of the season's crop in this county has been marketed, with the possible exception of a few thousand pounds. Most of the buyers have gone to other fields and others will leave this week. Mr E L Morgan, proprietor of the Central warehouse, left last week, and Mr M R Gass, manager of Gorrell's warehouse, left yesterday for his home at Winston-Salem, N. C. where he will be engaged with the Gorrell Bros, who conduct two warehouses there, one of which is the largest of its kind in the world. Mr Gass has made many friends here, who regret his departure and hope to have him return here next season.

Electric Lights for Kingstree
Elsewhere in this paper will be found a notice of the opening of books of subscription to the capital stock of The Kingstree Electric Light and Ice Co on Saturday next. It will be gratifying to the progressive citizens of Kingstree to know that the prospect of better lights for our beautiful little town, our homes and places of business is at last assuming definite shape. A further source of gratification is the intimation of a local ice manufacturing plant in connection with the lighting plant. At present the ice consumed by our citizens is shipped from Georgetown and Florence, and due to an enormous waste, a natural incident in the transportation of this necessary commodity, it costs us much more than if supplied by a well patronized local plant, hence the project should have the co-operation of our town council and the encouragement of every resident of Kingstree.

The incorporators of these much needed additions to the public welfare are public-spirited gentlemen, and we are quite convinced that the projects will be carried forward to an early and successful completion.

Why not give us a chance to figure on your job printing? We have good printers and one of the best equipped offices in the State, and we guarantee satisfaction, or no charge. We do not send out solicitors, because we have none to send; but we do give you the benefit of what we save by not sending out agents. It stands to reason that if we pay agents 25% commission, the customer has it added to his bill.

CONFIDENCE
in your bank's strength will have the same kind of an effect on your business as the confidence in your doctor has upon your health. Your physician may be a good one, yet if you place no reliance in his method of treatment your health will not be benefited. And vice versa, if the doctor lacks confidence in the patient's willingness to follow instructions his efforts to cure will soon become lax. The bank and its depositors stand in the same relation to each other as doctor and patient. Mutual confidence is necessary to the best interests of both. This feeling of reciprocity is very strong—and justly so—between the depositors and the
