FARMERS OF WILLIAMSBURG:

Dear Sirs:

Don't you know that hay was worth nearly $40 per ton this summer? Don't you know that the forage crop is very short this year and hay will be still higher next spring? Don't you know it will be to your interest to cut and save every pound of forage that you can this fall? Don't you know that you cannot be an independent farmer as long as you buy Western hay? Therefore, Mr Farmer, let us sell you a mower and rake so that you can save forage for your own use and for sale at a good price.

We handle the McCormick Mowers and Rakes, the best on the market.

YOURS TO PLEASE,

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Cures Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Women!

If weak, you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from gentle herbs, acts in a natural manner, and has no bad results, as some of the strong drugs sometimes used. As a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has been a popular success for over 50 years.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Lula Walden, of Gramlin, S. C., followed this advice. Read her letter: "I was so weak, when I first began to take Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Now, I can do all the general housework, for a family of 9." Try Cardui for your troubles. It may be the very remedy you need.

The reason some women know so much about raising children is because they haven't any.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H W Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by all dealers.

A woman's idea of a model husband is one who lets his wife do as she pleases.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz, Mrs P H Brogan of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other." For sale by all dealers.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

Editor County Record:—

There was never a time in the history of our county when the needs and possibilities for the school—the greatest factor in civilization—were greater than they are today. There are forces in the field today teaching by precept and example this great truth. One of these great forces is the School Improvement Association. It has blazed the way, fired the mind, stimulated the interest at heart; in fact, the ultimate aim of the association is to reach every home of every child that is in school, and should be there. One of our greatest workers once said:

"The association has gladly welcomed into the field every force that promised aid in building up the country schools, the country homes, and that promised in any wise way to enrich rural life. With a community once fired with the right kind of enthusiasm, we have welcomed and encouraged local initiative. Some of the best ideas that have helped rural communities were, in a sense, spontaneous outbursts of a popular enthusiasm that became dynamic and effective under the wise leadership of some local teacher or citizen who kindled in the neighborhood a light nobody before had dreamed could shine so brightly in the rural districts. Such leadership has developed interior decoration, school libraries, better teachers, better pav with longer terms, consolidated schools, local taxation and, above all, made the school more thoroughly the center of intellectual and social life of the community by wise co-operation of farmer and his family with the teacher."

Again, the object of every association, whether county or local, should be to inspire a higher standard in home life, church life and school life,—the three factors of civilization. "The fields are ripe, the harvest great, and the laborers are few." Such is the condition now existing in our county of Williamsburg. I shall discuss briefly the work in the county under the following divisions:

First, the present condition in educational affairs in our county. In the past this county was classed with those counties making the least progress; but since then her reputation has been changed somewhat. Yet we find deplorable conditions existing throughout the county. Namely, schools that run from three to four months, with from two to thirty pupils. Very often you find three or four of these schools, being poorly taught on account of uncomfortable, unfurnished, unprepared teachers, non-interested trustees and patrons, where there should be one well organized, thoroughly equipped school taught by three or four competent teachers as the need may demand. There are school grounds that look more like the back lot of some careless store keeper than anything else. Others have stumps, brushes, bushes, weeds, etc., where there should be shrubbery, flowers and lawn grass to attract not only the children to school but the "grown ups" as well.

The above named conditions are due to the secondary place that school matters have been forced to occupy; the lack of public interest and enthusiasm; the lack of love and heartfelt sympathy for mankind; the great indifference manifested by a large majority of teachers and trustees, the former spending a great part of their time either thinking about or participating in selfish pleasures, while the latter is engrossed in his private business and has not the work at heart.

The present condition of our schools today is alarming, to say the least of it. Take, for instance, some of the little one-room school houses, built on the "shoe box" fashion, with the scant furnishings, making them very uncomfortable, with more than the necessary ventilation—but often with less than needed warmth. Do you know of one of these examples? If so, you have the conditions far better than I can portray them.

Are they ideal? But please don't misunderstand me. I do not mean to throw off on the one-teacher school, but on the condition that is found there and which could so easily be corrected. In like manner, we find undesirable conditions in every school in the county. The ideal of perfection has not been attained by any one school, but success tending to the perfection that is aimed at has been made by various schools through the wise leadership of some broad-minded and sympathetic teacher, trustee or patron. I thank heaven that we have some noble examples of patriots in our county in each of the above classes. To them the honor for the already forward movement is largely due. I know of no county, of no people, as a whole, that are more liberal minded, and at heart have more pride, than you people of Williamsburg.

But you need to unite in this vast undertaking. Learn the conditions, for you do not know them, and then go to work and in the course of a few years Williamsburg will stand out as the banner county in the State. But we cannot stop where the money stops. Spend your school money as wisely as you can, then let love for the noble cause carry it on to the goal of success. Teachers, do not become educated above this love. You can never have so much knowledge that you do not need the love. In fact, I would rather have the right kind of love than mere knowledge.

As organizer of this county, I would like to say that without your sympathetic co-operation I can do nothing, but with your aid we can do great things. There is a great sacrifice to be made, for all this work is done outside of my regular school work. The only compensation that any organizer has is the consciousness of knowing that she did all she could for the schools—the boys and girls—of her county.

May I have an expression of your co-operation in this work of ours? I have discussed it already with some of our most prominent people. Their encouragement and pledges of support have stimulated my courage very much. I would like to hear a t once from all the trustees, also any of the patrons of each district in the county. Write me at Rome. I am teaching in the Union High school.

An educational rally will be held in Kingstree in the school auditorium on Saturday, October 19, at 12 o'clock to organize the county association and make such plans that will seem wise and possible for the ensuing year. We hope to have with us some able speaker to make an address. Arrangements will be made to have lunch served at the school building after the exercises. Every teacher, every trustee and all the patrons that can possibly attend are urged to attend this meeting.

County Organizer S I Association of Williamsburg.

A Log on the Track of the fast express means serious trouble ahead if not removed, so does loss of appetite. It means lack of vitality, loss of strength and nerve weakness. If appetite fails, take Electric Bitters quickly to overcome the cause by toning the stomach and curing the indigestion. Michael Hesseheimer of Lincoln, Neb., had been sick over three years, but six bottles of Electric Bitters put him right on his feet again. They have helped thousands. They give pure blood, strong nerves, good digestion. Only 50 cents at M L Allen's.

It takes a genuine diplomat to get into trouble and back out again without getting a single spot on his reputation.

If you have young children you have perhaps noticed that disorders of the stomach are their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by all dealers.
