GREAT PAINTING

To Be a Feature of Fifth National A Night to the Jungles of Central Africa

to authentic statements, will form a striking feature of the decorations immense painting will be nearly a around the big steel building which will house the exhibits from the department of agriculture and the thirty or more States which will enter the exposition. The canvass will of various colors will be necessary in the execution of the task.

The artist who will transform this art is Mr E E Sprague of Columbus, Ohio. Mr Sprague executed a somewhat similiar, though smaller, piece of work for the Fourth National Corn exposition held at Columbus last year. The high artistic quality of the work and the wide variety of subjects and scenes, attracted instant attention and aroused wide comment, Mr Sprague is now a resident of Columbia, and is at present superintending the erection of the framework for the support of this enormous stretch of canvas. Within the next few days he will begin with his brush and paints upon the titanic task. Mr Sprague will be assisted in this work by his sqn, Mr S B

The canvas will be divided into thirty or more spaces, into which will be painted landscape scenes typical of the various States whose exhibits, educational and competitive, will be arranged below.

in a Minority of Popular Vote.

President-elect Wilson is not alone among his predecessors in failing of a majority in the popular vote while commanding an enormous plurality and most of the electoral college.

Within the time when electors have been chosen directly by the people, John Quincy Adams in 1824 gained the Presidency without a majority either of the popular or electoral vote, James K Polk in 1844 had nearly two-thirds of the electoral college but a minority in the popular vote. Zachary Taylor in 1848 was outvoted by the Democrats and Free-Soilers.

Franklin Pierce had nearly threefourths of the college in the great Democratic sweep of 1852, but a popular majority of only 63,000, minority.

Abraham Lincoln in 1860 was heavily in a popular minority. Hayes in 1876 lacked both a popular plurality and majority. Garfield in 1880 had a plurality of about 7,000 and was in a minority of over 300,-000. Cleveland in 1884 was in a small minority, though barely elected; and in 1892 was in a minority of nearly 1,000,000 when the Demo-erats swept the country. Harrison Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was GEO J GRAHAM, in a terrible plight when I began to 11-14-3t Sheriff Williamsburg county. in 1888 was elected by a minority of use them," he writes, "my stomach, the total popular vote.

The present situation is more exactly comparable with that of 1852 when the Whig party went to pieces, and that of 1860 when the Democratic party went to pieces. It is the Republican party which now breaks up, and it is largely for the Democracy again in power to say how long that party is to remain a divided majority or a united minority under that or another name.-New York World.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

To hear the thunderous roars of Columbia, November 12:-The the man-eating kings of the forest, longest painting ever executed in to feel their hot breath wafted the estate of J G Pipkin, Sr, deceased, this country or abroad, according through the barred windows of a tiny cabin in the jungles is certainly thrilling.

Fritz Brunner, the famous animal for the educational building at the trainer with the John H Sparks Fifth National Corn exposition here Shows, which are to exhibit here next next January. The canvass for this Saturday, November 16, was raised in a cabin in the wilds of equatorial Africa. His father was an agent of sixth of a mile in length, by nine the Royal Zoological Society of Gerfeet wide. It will extend entirely many, and spent many years securing specimens for that institution. Hence from childhood Mr Brunner was accustomed to hear nightly the roar of monster lions, the hideous tiger's growls and the snarling leopards and hyenas, which would engage cover about 7,500 square feet of in deadly combats around the cabin, space, and 533 pounds of dry paints often hurling their huge weights during the legal hours of sale, the folagainst its frail walls and scampering over its roof. As he grew up in these surroundings he became a of land lying, being and situate in the fearless hunter, meeting the wild county of Williamsburg, State of South material into a mammoth work of denizens of the forest face to face and engaging in fierce struggles with the infuriated beasts. He afterwards became a trainer, and his Ervin Gregg; on the South by lands of absolute mastery over the brute creation is not equaled by any living

A large steel enclosure will be erected in the center of the exhibition tent, into which the ferocious animals will be turned loose. Mr Brunner will then enter the enclosure, unarmed, and put them through a remarkable series of performances that will vividly illustrate their tremendous strength and agility. It is a thrilling, hair-raising sight and one that you will never forget. The programme of the John H Sparks Shows is entirely composed of marvelous, expensive and carefully selected features, which make it so vastly superior to all similar exhibitions.

A Dispensary For Andrews.

The county dispensay board met at their office on Thursday last for the purpose of considering the advisability of establishing a dispensary in the town of Andrews.

Two petitions were presented to the board, one asking for the establishment and another praying that it be not established.

We have been reliably informed that those who opposed the opening of the dispensary asked that they be given a hearing before the board took final action on the matter; that F if they were allowed the privilege of appearing before the board they could show good and sufficient reasons why the dispensary should not be established, but it seems their request was ignored and the rum shop will be opened at Andrews. - Georgetown Times.
