

Value of a Bank Account.

☐ A bank account with this strong, conservative institution is worth a great deal to you in convenience and security. It leads to many privileges and broader business relations, to ask and receive advice and to use our facilities.

☐ It is not necessary that you should come to the bank in person if you desire to open an account. Your deposits can be sent by mail with your name and address, or by some other person, and the deposits promptly acknowledged, sending you either a pass book or a statement of the account at the close of each month, as desired.

☐ We make it a point that every business transaction with our patrons shall be satisfactory. We want each one to feel that they are free to come to us in all matters where our experience and advice will be of value and assistance. You can also be sure that every business transaction passing through our hands is held in strict confidence.

☐ If you have had no business with this bank we feel confident that you will appreciate the service we can render.

There will be a regular meeting of Kingstree lodge A F M at 8 o'clock this evening. All members and visiting brethren are cordially invited to be present for work in the Master's degree.

Mr D E Rodgers of Summerton was a visitor to Kingstree Monday. Both Mr Rodgers and his good wife, Mrs Emma F Rodgers, are well known in Williamsburg, where they have many friends.

Congressman Ragsdale advises us that he has recommended Mr Louis Stackley for postmaster at Kingstree and that the appointment will be made probably within the next ten days or two weeks.

Mr B W Butler has sold his stock of dry goods, clothing, etc. to Peers & Maipass of Orangeburg. Mr Butler, we understand, has accepted a position as general manager of the Hutzler Company of Florence.

Several mad dogs and others bitten by dogs affected with rabies were killed in town last week. An ordinance not to allow any dog on the street without a muzzle might be the means of preventing one or more persons from a horrible death from hydrophobia.

Pete Davis, a young colored man employed by Mr F H Hodge at his saw mill near town, had one of his hands so badly mashed Friday evening last that the amputation of the first and second fingers was necessary, the operation being performed by Dr W G Gamble.

We had the pleasure of a visit last week from Editor H S Cunningham, one of the veteran newspaper men of the State. Mr Cunningham is editor and proprietor of the Bishopville Vindicator. Editor Cunningham is a native of Williamsburg county and says that he keeps in touch with the old county by reading The Record.

The "wild man" from Lanes about whom the late papers have made much ado was taken from the county jail here Tuesday afternoon and sent out to recruit Road Engineer Eaddy's forces as a member of the chain-gang, he being a perfectly tame, able bodied negro and very little removed in appearance from the average male member of the Afro-American persuasion.

We find it necessary to remind our friends that we do not publish obituaries, tributes of respect or other personal notices free. We of course make no charge for printing the death of anyone as news. But there is a vast deal of difference between a news item and an obituary or a tribute of respect. Sometimes the latter are received a year after the death of the person referred to.

It is with pleasure that we call attention to the advertisement of the Florence Dry Goods Co. A J Howard, the president of the company, is our former schoolmate and David Cunningham, the general manager, and the editor were reared together, so to speak, on old Cedar Swamp. Both of these officials are high-toned gentlemen and we can cheerfully vouch for their business integrity. We bespeak for this concern the consideration of our readers.

The machinery for the Kingstree Electric Light and Ice Co has arrived and is now being installed as rapidly as possible. An expert electrician is wiring the houses of patrons, so that all will be in readiness when the "juice" is turned on. The ice machinery is also being installed and it is expected that the plant will be in running order in time for the hot weather. The machinery is new and of the most modern type and first class service is anticipated from this much needed enterprise.

We are pleased to note that Messrs Jenkinson Bros Co are moving back into their old stand on Main street near the depot, where this well-known and popular firm was temporarily put out of business by fire on January 31. Soon afterwards they opened up in Gorrell's warehouse, where they have since conducted most successfully a big fire sale, disposing of all their damaged stock at greatly reduced prices. Messrs Jenkinson Bros Co return to their old stand with a full and complete new stock and with the best wishes of the community for a long and successful business future.

Ladies, write us for samples of Dress Goods, Trimmings, etc. We can please you.

DENOMINATIONS UNITE

In Forming Sunday-School Association.

Delegates from several of the Sunday-schools of Williamsburg county, representing churches of the various denominations, met in the Methodist church here Saturday, March 8, at noon. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises, Prof O M Mitchell presiding. After listening to an earnest address by Mr Cappelman of Charleston on the importance and advantages of an interdenominational association of the Sunday-schools of the county, it was moved and seconded that we effect such an organization. The following delegates reported: O M Mitchell, Union M E church, Rome; Rev F H Wardlaw, Indiantown Presbyterian church, Vox; W E Snowden, Cedar Swamp M E church, Benson; Walter H Tart, L H Johnson, Black Mingo Baptist church, Morrisville; W D Eaddy, Bethesda M E church, Cades; R E McElveen, Bethel Presbyterian church, Cades; T A McCrean, Central Presbyterian church, Benson; Miss Ethel Lifrage, Union Presbyterian church, Salters; J T Frierson, Mt Vernon M E church, Mouzon, and the following ministers: Revs P S McChesney, Williamsburg Presbyterian church; W E Hurt, Kingstree Baptist church; W I Sinot, Union Presbyterian church; R E Sharpe, Union M E church; D A Phillips, Kingstree M E church.

A permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers: Prof O M Mitchell, president; Rev F H Wardlaw, vice president; Mr J G McCullough, secretary; R J Kirk, Esq, treasurer. It was moved and carried that these officers act as an executive committee for the organization.

The following were elected delegates to the State Sunday-school convention, which convenes at Sumter: Miss Agnes M Erckmann, Kingstree; Mrs J H L Chandier, Salters; Mr G Ollie Epps, Benson; Miss Ruth Nettles, Kingstree; Mrs W D Daniel, Vox. Miss Grace Vandiver, who was expected to be present Sunday, did not come. Prof Leonard T Baker, of the University of South Carolina and secretary of the State Teachers' association, delivered an address devoted to practical hints to Sunday-school teachers. The address took the place of the regular sermon, the speaker being presented to the large congregation by Rev D A Phillips. The congregations of the four Kingstree churches united for this occasion. Prof Baker delivered an excellent and helpful address and held the attention of his hearers throughout the same. N D LESENE, Sec pro tem.

Cleaning Up Day.

Through the president of the Civic league we are requested to announce that Friday, March 28, has been designated as a general cleaning up day in Kingstree, and it is hoped that every property owner and resident in town, white and colored, will observe the same by giving their premises a thorough overhauling, and "setting their house in order" for the reception of a glorious spring.

From many sources it has been predicted that, owing to the very mild winter season, general health conditions are going to be bad during the spring and summer, and in view of the information it is the urgent duty of every citizen to join hands with the Civic league next Friday and help put the town in a clean, sanitary condition.

Millinery Openings.

Yesterday was opening day in the millinery departments of Mr S Marcus, the Kingstree Dry Goods Co and at the Kennedy Millinery store. The day was by no means a propitious one for the occasion, it being cloudy and rainy throughout, but notwithstanding the inclement conditions, a large number from town and a few from the country ventured out to see the pretty displays of Easter millinery and note the fetching little Tam-o'-shanters in crash materials of many colors, with a single feather towering up some 10 or 12 inches and forming a perfect interrogation point (?).

Everything in ladies' headwear this season seems to be new except perhaps the large brim hat with a correspondingly large oval crown, and even this must be set off with a Bulgarian ribbon artistically arranged to be in style. The styles are all much smaller than a year ago have a highly tailored appearance.

The display of spring dress goods and embroideries is the most elaborate and beautiful ever shown in Kingstree. The laces are also very dainty and exquisite in design, especially the "shadow" variety.

We will refund your railroad fare from any point within fifty miles of Florence if your purchases with us amount to $25.00 or more.
