

Just for Convenience.

Entirely apart from the many other advantages of a Personal Checking Account at the Bank, the convenience of it is no small consideration. The ability to make purchases and pay bills after banking hours without the necessity of always having a pocketful of money is worth a great deal. With a Check Book in your pocket, you are taking no risks of losing money and yet you always have all of your money on hand and ready for use. One is as liable to need money before nine in the morning or after three as between those hours. The Personal Check Book settles the matter.

Mr W E Davis of Trio sent a number of fine cotton blossoms to our office this week. Indications are that there is a large quantity of unusually well advanced cotton in this county, considering the early season.

Mrs William Evans and children of Wade, North Carolina, who have been visiting the former's brother, Dr Chas R May, went to Salters, Williamsburg county, Thursday to visit Mrs Evans' sisters.—Bennettsville Advocate.

It is with a sense of deep regret that we announce the departure of Editor Wolfe for Florence this morning, where he goes to again enter the McLeod infirmary. We hope, however, that it will not be necessary for him to remain there more than a few days.

Saturday morning we received two cotton blooms, the first of the season. Both were mailed Friday, June 20, one from Messrs Register & Rowell of Trio and the other from Mr H J Barfield of Ones. Both blooms were well formed and fully developed. Several others have reported blooms but these are the only ones "from Missouri", thus far.

D L Fulton, principal of the colored school, contributed a nice cotton blossom to our desk this week. He has three acres in Kingstree, which he says he never had a chance to cultivate until his school closed near the end of May. It is gratifying to know that in Williamsburg county there are a number of progressive, industrious colored planters.

Saturday, June 21, we received a cotton bloom taken from a field of seventy acres now under cultivation by Mr J H Covington, Jr, at Salters. Mr Covington had on June 10 cured a barn of tobacco lugs from his ten-acre crop. While his cotton, in point of first bloom, is a little in arrears of some of our live farmers, we believe he leads the county in the first curing of tobacco. Mr W A Pope, also of Salters, contributed a fine cotton blossom to our desk this week.

Two Brothers Assault Conductor

What seems to have been an outrageous affair took place last Saturday afternoon on the local passenger train 47, between Florence and Denmark, in charge of Capt C K Gillespie. When the train left Lake City two young white men, A W and G W Ward, brothers, refused, it is said, to pay the additional cash fare required because they did not have tickets. Capt Gillespie finally persuaded them to do so, but it seems that they grew very angry with the conductor.

When the train stopped at Cades, and while Capt Gillespie was assisting some lady passengers from the steps of the coach, the two men stepped up behind him and, it is alleged, struck him several severe blows on the head and about the face. Capt Gillespie at once realized his position and grappled with one of the men, throwing him to the ground, and began pounding him with his ticket punch and otherwise disfiguring him as best he could. The other brother, it is said, then flew into the conductor and the two men came near doing considerable damage to the popular young trainman, but assistance reached him and but for the bruises about his head, face and body and his clothing terribly torn, the conductor came out top side up.

Picnic at Hemingway.

Hemingway, June 25:—The Hon Mendel L Smith of Camden, who for many years has been the Speaker of the House of Representatives, will speak at Hemingway on Wednesday, July 2.

In addition to the speaking there will be a basket picnic and refreshments of every sort will be served in the tobacco warehouses. The town of Hemingway will welcome its visitors and will do all that can be done for the comfort and amusement of all present.

There will be a match game of baseball between Andrews and Hemingway teams, which bid fair to excite much interest, as both teams expect to win.

A special train will be run on that day for the occasion. This train will leave Georgetown at 9:00 o'clock a m and go to Poston, returning in the afternoon for the convenience of the visitors.

Every time a politician lands a job for one of his constituents, he becomes a Statesman in the opinion of one more man at least.

Death of a Little Boy.

Samuel Keels Brockinton, the infant son of Mr and Mrs S K Brockinton of Florence, and grandson of Mr and Mrs A M Gordon of Kingstree, passed away at the home of his parents in Florence Friday, June 20, at 11:30 a. m. The remains of the little boy were brought to Kingstree the afternoon of the same day, where the body lay in state at the home of Mr and Mrs A M Gordon until noon Saturday. Then they were tenderly laid away in the Williamsburg cemetery. Rev R W Speigner performed the funeral obsequies at the grave.

The floral tributes were beautiful, many of which came from Florence, the home of the little boy, sent by friends and acquaintances there.

Little "S K" was a bright and vivacious child, having an appearance of strength and vigor not usually seen in one of his tender years; he was a great favorite with all who knew him, both in Kingstree and Florence. When he made his visits to Kingstree to see his grandparents, many took a delight in seeing him here, and his coming was looked forward to with much pleasure, not only by the family, but by his friends here. His sad and untimely death, as viewed by human eyes, casts a gloom over the community. His little place cannot be filled and his memory will be a solace to his father and mother which they will so sadly need when they think of his brief life with them.

Mr and Mrs Brockinton returned to Florence Tuesday morning, accompanied by Miss Mary Gordon, who has gone to spend a few days with them.

"S K" was the only child of his parents, and, had he lived until the 13th day of September, would have been two years of age. The entire community sympathizes with the bereaved parents and grandparents in their loss.

Grand Jury Presedment.

At the summer term of the court of general sessions, the grand jury made the following report to the court:

To the Honorable George W Gage, Presiding Judge at the June term of court of Williamsburg county, 1913.

We, the grand jury, herewith make our report.

First, we thank the court for its patient and courteous treatment of the jury.

We, the grand jury, wish to call your Honor's attention to the fact that, in our opinion, the cell accommodation in the county jail is far from adequate for the needs and for that reason the two races have to mingle together when exercising, and we recommend that our Sheriff and County Commissioners take measurements in the jail and see how many additional cells can be added and also the cost of same, to be in a position to report to the grand jury at the fall term of court.

The committee appointed to make an investigation of the county offices will be in a position to report in full at the fall term of court.

It has been called to the attention of the grand jury that the fish law pertaining to Black river is being daily violated, and we recommend that the rural police, in their respective districts, be instructed to use all possible efforts to bring the guilty parties to justice.

We have passed all bills submitted to us and are pleased to report that none of the cases were of a very grave nature, and that the conditions in the county seem to be above average.

Respectfully submitted,
J J M GRAHAM, Foreman.

PROSPERITY

Advertisements Are the Guideposts Showing Way

By HOLLAND.

WOULD you travel the road that leads to Prosperity? Then read the advertisements. They are the guideposts pointing the way. Disregard the advertisements and you are likely to go wrong, and even if you finally reach your destination you do so only after needless delays and unnecessary traveling.

The traveler who would disregard guideposts, who would not examine them at every opportunity, would be called foolish. He would get little sympathy when he complained of time lost going the wrong direction.

The man who neglects to read the advertisements is disregarding guideposts and is taking unnecessary chances and is delaying his own progress.

FORD MOTOR CO. AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURERS
DETROIT, MICH., U. S. A., June 3, 1913.
To Dealers, Sub-Dealers, Limited Dealers and Branch Managers:
For fear that you have not noticed Page 353 of the Ford Times of May, wherein an emphatic denial is made of certain silly rumors concerning a change of ownership in the Ford Motor Company and a consequent reduction in the price of Ford Cars, we call to your attention the following plain statement of facts:
1st The Standard Oil Company or any other company has not bought the Ford business or even a single share of our company's stock, as we have no interest to sell.
2nd We have no connection whatever with any other automobile concern.
3rd We will not sell three cars for one thousand dollars.
4th We will not market our product through mail-order houses or direct to the retail buyers, or through any other channels except our regularly licensed dealers.
We expect and want everyone connected with the Ford organization to deny rumors of this character, resting assured that when any changes are made in Ford Policy our organization will be the first to know of it.
A dealer need only read his contract and do business accordingly, as his contract furnishes him ample guarantee that such rumors are without foundation.
