"In men whom men condemn as ill,
 I find so much of goodness still;
 In men whom MEN pronounce divine,
 I find so much of sin and blot—
 I hesitate to draw the line
 Between the two—where God has not."

Santa Claus Letters.

The Santa Claus letters are coming in by almost every mail, but we haven't near so many yet as we should like to have. The final limit for these letters to be available is Tuesday noon of next week; so, get to work, children, if you want to write to Santa Claus.

No, "Anxious Inquirer," the crematories to be installed at Lake City and Florence are not wholesale butter-making establishments.

We thought he had retired from politics forever, but the question whether or not former Senator McLaurin will be a candidate for Governor or perchance, Senator, still seems to be a burning one—with McLaurin and a few newspapers.

The heated municipal campaign in Georgetown resulted in the reelection of Mayor Andrews and his ticket last Tuesday. The opposing faction had out a mighty good ticket, but the corporation forces were too many for them. At the same time the outcome of the contest is somewhat surprising to a "looker-on in Vienna."

According to the press reports the presents received by Miss Jessie Wilson, the "White House bride," are valued at $250,000. Had the father of the bride retained his position as president of Princeton College, Miss Jessie would doubtless have rejoiced and been glad to receive presents amounting to $1,000 in value. Is the difference to be credited to patriotism, or debited to toadyism?

We want to get out our Christmas issue next week and, unless our plans miscarry, the paper will be about twice the size of the regular issue. Needless to say, this requires a good amount of extra work and we must have the copy on hand in time. For several weeks past we have delayed issuing the paper trying to accommodate advertising patrons and correspondents, too, whose copy came in after the regular time limit. We want to get the Christmas paper out on time and especially urge our friends to help us to do so by sending in their communications and advertising copy promptly, as we will probably not be able to get it up after Tuesday noon.

MATTERS OF INTEREST AT LAKE CITY.

CHILD BITTEN BY DOG—FINE TO BACCO YEAR PREDICTED—DISPENSARY MUDDLE—PERSONAL.

Lake City, December 2:—The ten-year-old son of Mr and Mrs I N Timmons, who reside near Lake City, was bitten yesterday afternoon on the thumb of his right hand by a stray dog. The wound was immediately cauterized and a physician summoned. In the meantime the dog was killed and his head brought here, from which place it was sent last night to the State board of health in Columbia for an examination. It is hoped that the dog was not infected with rabies, but the risk of there being such infection warranted the parents in taking every precaution possible.

Mr R E Currin, a well-known tobacco buyer, and Mr M K Graveley, owner of the Graveley warehouse, were in town recently with their relatives. Messrs Currin and Graveley predict the best season yet for Lake City, with respect to prices on tobacco. It seems that there is a short season on in both North Carolina and Kentucky, and there will be a greater demand than ever for our tobacco. It goes without saying that Lake City will again strive, and without very much effort, lead the State in both quality and quantity of the golden weed.

Mrs C D Rollins, in her usual charming and pleasant manner, entertained the book club on last Wednesday afternoon. The contest, both original and unique, was enjoyed especially. A 'phone was placed temporarily in the reception room on the mantel and at various intervals the ball 'phone would ring, at which time the hostess would carry on an imaginary conversation with some noted personage, which conversation was supposed to disclose the identity of the individual at the other end. Mesdames D M Epps and John Rollins, guessing the same number correctly, tied for the prize, a miniature 'phone. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her maids.

Times are rather exciting in and around Olanta, a small hamlet situated on the extreme southern boundary of Florence county, at which point three counties practically "corner." Some days ago an element of its citizenry decided on an unprecedented future for this beautiful little town by the establishment of a dispensary within its corporate limits, and accordingly petitioned the county dispensary board of control to establish one there. However, the other element, which constituted the majority of the good citizens in and around the village, realizing the evil influences that would necessarily arise from the establishment of a dispensary in that community, sought injunctive relief through the law firm of Arrowsmith & Baker of this place, and as a result the dispensary, which would have opened last Monday, was enjoined, and the issues are now pending in the court.

We note that the city of Florence has purchased a new crematory like the one recently constructed here. This is indeed flattering in that, it is very probable, that without our recommendation and a full investigation of the commissioners of that city they would not have purchased the plant. We might state that Lake City was the first in this section of the State to establish the crematory, and one can realize its need in a community only after an investigation.

Born, to Mr and Mrs W E Severance, November 29, 1913, a son.

L W Gilland, Esq, of Kingstree was in town last week on professional matters.

Miss Garnet Sue Graham, a last year's graduate of the high school here, passed through Lake City Tuesday morning en route to Hartsville, where she will resume her studies at Coker College, after a pleasant week at home with her parents, Mr and Mrs J J M Graham, who live near Cades.

P H Arrowsmith, Esq, was in Columbia several days last week.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church was entertained by Mrs G C Hasleton last week.

Mr Sam Caldwell of Darlington spent Thanksgiving day at home with his parents here.

Mr J O Fowler has purchased the W T Hickson residence, next to the school house. Mr Hickson is to move next week to his farm near town, at which time Mr Fowler will occupy the house vacated by him.

Mrs Lilly Askins is in Sumter, where she is having her eyes treated. Mrs Askins has been suffering for the past several months with her eyes, but we are glad to learn that they are improving nicely and that she will soon return to her home.
