IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE RECORD.

COTTON AND TOBACCO PESTS.

Some Pointers as to How to Fight These Insects.

Control measures for cotton root louse and suggestions for the use of poisons on tobacco plants are given in a circular letter, which has been sent to all the demonstration agents in the State by A F Conradi, entomologist at Clemson College.

Farmers of the Pee Dee section troubled with cotton root louse should give a rapid shallow cultivation from the time the cotton is up until it has a good start. This is extremely important, as a farm practice, as it demoralizes the ants which attend the lice and care for them.

Attention is called to the use of poison on tobacco. Paris green has generally been unsatisfactory on account of its slow action, though it is safe to use on foliage. During the last two years a new form of arsenate of lead has been developed, which contains not less than 30 per cent arsenic and less than 1 per cent soluble. This is an arsenate of lead which acts rapidly. At the same time, it is safe to use on the plants, in so far as burning is concerned. It can be applied with an ordinary powder gun by mixing it one-half its weight with sifted wood ashes. A gun has been put on the market which will dust pure arsenate of lead. It gives every promise of success.

Easy to Destroy Mosquitoes.

"No one is especially fond of mosquito bites, or at least we have not learned of such a person," writes Professor J E McClintock. "In fact, the irritation from mosquito bites is often intense. The pain may be relieved by wetting the affected area with diluted ammonia, the ordinary household ammonia answering the purpose very well. But why the continued annual torment of mosquitoes?"

"These pests do not fly far from their birthplace, which is some collection of stagnant water. This need not be in a pond or swamp, in fact, it is more often in rain barrels, open cisterns, tin cans, broken crockery, small pools, depressions in eaves, or in any other place where a few wrigglers may exist for a few days. It is far more satisfactory to prevent the mosquitoes from breeding around the home than to be everlastingly fighting mosquitoes and doctoring their bites.

"Fish, if kept in any small ponds about the premises, will keep them free from mosquitoes. Tin cans and other rubbish should be cleaned up, wet, damp places drained, rain barrels and cisterns covered and pools covered with a film of kerosene. A very small quantity of kerosene is sufficient to kill the mosquitoes."—Columbus, O. Dispatch.

Good Work of the Carolinas.

Washington, May 28:—It has become known that the Richmond Federal reserve bank has been placed on a paying basis and has enough funds on hand over and above operating expenses to pay a 3% dividend for the first six months of its existence, which is at the rate of 6% a year.

The Richmond bank is the only one in the whole system which has accomplished this, and the principal explanation is the large amount of profitable business it has done with the banks of the two Carolinas.

GERMANY'S REPLY TO THE UNITED STATES.

London as a basis for a modus vivendi for conducting the maritime warfare between Germany and Great Britain.

The Imperial Government, by its readiness to enter upon a discussion of these proposals, then demonstrated its good intentions in ample fashion. The realization of these proposals was defeated, as is well known, by the declinatory attitude of the British Government.

The undersigned takes occasion, et cetera.

FISHERMEN LOST IN CHARLESTON STORM.

NINE OF MOSQUITO FLEET SAID TO HAVE BEEN DROWNED IN THURSDAY'S GALE.

Charleston, May 28:—The storm that swept over Charleston yesterday played havoc with the mosquito fleet that puts out from here, claiming a toll of several lives and wrecking a number of the little craft. One fisherman reported positively that nine men had been drowned to his personal knowledge, saying that the number may exceed twenty. Various reports were current, placing the number of dead at from five to twelve.

Three of the fishing boats made their way to James Island, three others to Morris Island, two were rescued by the life-saving crew of the coast-guard station on Sullivan's Island and a number of the larger boats made their way to Charleston. It was stated that about twenty-five members of the crew were in six boats that reached James Island and Morris Island. Four men were rescued by the life-saving crew.

The gale of wind, accompanied by a high sea, developed suddenly, catching the fishing fleet from the shore and giving the fishermen little warning that such a severe storm was developing. Not less than five of the smaller craft were capsized by the wind and a large number of the fishermen were swept overboard by the rushing waves.

The amount of damage done and the number of lives lost could not be ascertained with any degree of accuracy last night. It was not known how many of the boats went to sea because of the widely scattered places from which they left. Some sailed from various places on the Cooper river, others from the Ashley river, and still others from Mt Pleasant.

All estimates agree that there were more than twenty of the little vessels that were caught in the squall. One estimate placed the number as seventy-five men.

Items from Salters.

Salters, May 31:—Rain, rain, rain for the past few days and "General Green" is leading the farmers in this section a lively chase.

Mr and Mrs E W Tuttle have moved into their new cottage.

Mrs—Thrower of Ridgeville has moved into her cottage next door to Capt C Fowler's. You see, Mr Editor, our little town is growing despite the hard times.

Mr and Mrs J A Ferrell and daughter, Miss Leila, have returned from Greenville, where they attended the commencement exercises of Chicora college.

Misses Frankie Cook and Wylma McCullough are at home for their vacation.

Miss Emmie Ferrell, who has just graduated from Chicora college, is at home again.

Mr J H L Chandler has returned from Orangeburg, where he went as a delegate to the Grand Lodge K of P, held there last week.

Mrs J H L Chandler, with Misses Emmie and Leila Ferrell, spent Sunday with the family of Hon J C Graham near Gourdin.

Rev W I Sinnott filled his appointment at Central church Sunday.

Some of the Salters folk motored out to the Boyd school house Sunday afternoon to attend services conducted by Rev H D Bull of Kingstree.

Mrs Ernest Shiver, nee Miss Ruth Liffage, of this place, spent Sunday with her parents here.

Mr Frank L Richardson has just come in from Kingstree in his Ford runabout, which he purchased from Mr L T Thompson. Look out, girls, you will get a ride soon.
