Assist Your Stomach

To Get Rid of the Poisonous Gases and Fermenting Food.

A good long fast will do this sometimes. A trip to the mountains. Tramping. Roughing it. Yes, very good remedies.

But are you going to avail yourself of either one of these remedies. No? Then the next best thing is to try a bottle of Peruna. Take it according to directions. You will have a natural appetite. All gas and fermentation in the stomach will disappear.

Read what Mrs. Emma Bell, Box 204, Fort Pierce, Florida, says: "I was taken suddenly with swelling of the stomach and bowels, and great distress. Very painful. Three doctors gave me no relief. Could not eat anything. Everything soured. I was starving to death. I began taking Peruna and was soon strong enough to do work. After taking five bottles I can truthfully say I am well. I gained twenty pounds."

The Poets Sing High and Dry.

Since South Carolina went dry there is more pathos in the rhymes of her poets. One sings in The Pickens Sentinel:

"Hang the corkscrew high above us,
Put away the shaker, too;
Plant the old mint-bed in onions—
We have met our Waterloo.

"Jugs will now be used for cider,
Keas and barrels for preserves;
Soda mint will cure our snake bites,
Bromo-seltzer fix our nerves.

"Put away your old umbrellas—
Lay the mackintoshes by;
What's the earthly use of rubber,
When the darned old State's so dry?"

"When our arid throats are parching
For the good old cups that cheer
We can go to bed and dream of
Switzer cheese and ice-cold beer."

Notice to School Trustees.

We want one big meeting of the trustees this fall. October 8 is the time set; the court house the place. Every trustee in the county is desired to be present, as matters of vital interest will be discussed. We realize that you are busy men, but we believe that you will lay aside other matters for this one day. Your presence will be appreciated; your absence will be noticed. Mr Swearingen will be with us and we shall have an afternoon session. We thank you for the interest you have already shown in your schools, and in advance for your presence at the meeting. Yours sincerely,
J G McCULLOUGH,
County Supt of Education.

Biliousness and Constipation.

It is certainly surprising that any woman will endure the miserable feelings caused by biliousness and constipation, when relief is so easily had and at so little expense. Mrs Chas Peck, Gates, N Y, writes: "About a year ago I used two bottles of Chamberlains Tablets and they cured me of biliousness and constipation." Obtainable everywhere.

CHEW YOUR FOOD WELL

This Will Aid Digestion and Help to Banish Dyspepsia.

"Chew your food well," is a motto which should be written large on the walls of dining rooms, restaurants and every other place where human beings eat. The reason is that in order to digest food in the shortest possible time and with the least possible effort it must first be dissolved, and this can be accomplished only by adequate chewing.

Just how much thorough chewing lessens the strain on the digestive apparatus can be seen by a very simple experiment.

Take a one inch cube of hard, solid, nonporous sugar candy and drop it into a pint of water. It will take at least half an hour and perhaps much longer to dissolve because a cube of this size has only six square inches of surface exposed to the solvent action of the water.

If, however, a similar cube of candy is broken into 100 smaller pieces before being placed in the water it will dissolve 10,000 times as quickly, because there is now 10,000 times as much surface area exposed.

In digestion we have to deal not merely with simple solution, but with the chemical conversion of insoluble into soluble substances—a much more difficult process. For this reason a one inch cube of solid food would take much more than 10,000 times as long to digest as the same quantity which had first been reduced to fine bits by the action of the teeth and the saliva glands.

Science now believes that much modern dyspepsia arises from our having lost the habit of living on hard, dry foods. When all our food was so hard and dry that it had to be well-chewed before we could swallow it our salivary glands were kept more active and our teeth cleaner.—New York American.

Odd Signs.

A tinman in the south of England has a sign which reads, "Quart Measures of All Shapes and Sizes Sold Here."

At a market town in the midlands the following placard was affixed to the shutters of a watchmaker who had decamped, leaving his confiding creditors mourning, "Wound Up and the Mainspring Broke."

In one of the principal streets of another small town the same shop was occupied by a doctor and a shoemaker, the man of medicine having the front and he of the leather working in the rear. Over the door hung the sign, "We Repair Both Body and Sole."

On the window of a coffee room there one day appeared the notice "This Coffee Room Removed Up stairs Till Repaired." — London Mail.

The Fulmar Petrel.

The fulmar petrel somewhat resembles a common gull at a distance, but has a much more graceful flight, skimming the waves or hovering by the cliffs without perceptible motion of the wings. It makes its nest upon the grassy ledges and cliffs of St. Kilda and is caught with a rod in the same way as a puffin, only as it is found on the precipices it is more difficult to secure. It was greatly valued formerly for its oil, of which each bird has about half a pint and which it uses as a means of defense and ejects with great force at an enemy. It is the purest animal oil in existence and is still used for various purposes and also medicinally by the natives for sprains and bruises. —London Mail.

Why Turkish Women Go Veiled.

Turkish women do not wear veils because of their religion, as many suppose. It is merely the survival of an old custom. When the Turks still lived in Tartary, before the time of Mohammed, it was the habit of the men to steal such women for wives as attracted them. This led to so much fighting that about the second century after Christ the Turks came together and decided that henceforth the women should go veiled and should not meet men, but dwell in harems, as soon as they arrived at womanhood, which was at about eleven years of age.

Unconscious Self Criticism.

Mr. X., the subeditor, was asked to write an article on superstition and imbecility.

When the article was printed the opening sentence was found to be as follows: "That imbecility is not on the wane perusal of the following lines will amply demonstrate." —Paris Figaro.

Their Natural Place.

"The waves of laughter in the audience"—

"What about them?"

"Naturally, they passed over a sea of faces."—Baltimore American.
