

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

Kingstree District to Be Held at Summerton April 11 and 12.

The annual Sunday-school Conference of the Kingstree District Methodist Episcopal church South, will be held in Summerton, April 11 and 12.

A very strong programme has been prepared, and some of the best Sunday-school workers of the district will take part in the discussions.

The good people of Summerton have opened their homes and will royally entertain all accredited delegates.

Characteristic Sarcasm.

After waiting on the Mexican border for three years and never once seeing the active service his heart longed for, a former private of the 13th U S cavalry was last week accepted for enlistment in the United States marine corps.

"I have been waiting down there on the border expecting trouble to break out," he told Sergeant Frank E English, in charge of the Decatur, Ill, marine corps recruiting station.

"Villa wouldn't start anything so long as you were there," English comforted the ex-trooper, "but when he heard that you had been 'paid off' he knew that the psychological moment had arrived and that it was safe to commence hostilities."

Hymeneal.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL.

Starts Your Liver without Making You Sick and Cannot Salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it.

"Ask for your money back." Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel.

AN ORDINANCE

For the Prevention of Fire Waste and Safety of Life, Fixing the Fire Limits, Regulating the Erection and Repairing of Buildings, Providing for Inspections of Buildings and Premises, and Fixing the Punishment for Violation Thereof.

(Concluded from last week.) Sec 20. Foundation of Walls; Openings in Walls; How Doors Protected.—In all buildings mentioned in the preceding section there shall be prepared a proper and substantial foundation, and no foundation shall be less than one foot below the exposed surface of the ground and no foundation shall rest on any filling or made ground, and the breadth of the foundation of the several parts of any building shall be proportioned so that, as near as practicable, the pressure shall be equal on each square foot of the foundation, and cement mortar shall be used in the masonry of all foundations exposed to dampness.

Sec 21. Joists; How Entered in Walls. The ends of joists or beams entering a brick wall shall be cut not less than three inch level so as not to disturb the brickwork by any deflection or breaking of the joists or beams. All such joists or timbers entering a party or division wall from opposite sides shall have at least four inches of solid brickwork between the ends of such timbers or joists.

Sec 22. Wooden Beams Separated from Masonry Chimneys.—No wooden beams or joists shall be placed within two inches of the outside face of a chimney or flue, whether the same be for smoke, air or any other purpose. No woodwork shall be within four inches of the back wall of any fireplace. All spaces between the chimney and the wooden beams shall be solidly filled with mortar, mineral wool or other incombustible material. The header beam, carrying the tail beams of a floor, and supporting the trimmer arch in front of a fireplace, shall be not less than 20 inches from the chimney breast. No wooden furring or studding shall be placed against any chimney; the plastering shall be directly on the masonry, or on metal lathing.

Sec 23. Chimneys and Flues.—All fireplaces and chimneys in stone or brick walls in any building hereafter erected and any chimneys or flues hereafter altered or repaired shall have the joints struck smooth on the inside, and the firebacks of all fireplaces hereafter erected shall be not less than eight inches in thickness of solid masonry, the chimney walls shall be not less than four inches thick, the top of the chimney to extend not less than five feet above the roof for flat roofs and two feet above the ridge of any pitched roof. No woodwork or timber shall be placed under any fireplace or under the brickwork of any chimney. All floor beams, joists and header shall be kept at least two inches clear of any wall enclosing a fire place or chimney breast.

Sec 24. Chimneys Not Built on Wood. No chimney shall be started or built upon a beam of wood or floor, the brickwork in all cases to start from the ground with proper foundation. In no case shall a chimney be corbeled out more than three inches from the wall, and in all cases corbeling shall consist of at least five courses of brick, the corbeling to start at least three feet below the bottom of the flue.

Sec 25. Flues; How Constructed.—All flues shall extend at least three feet above the roof and always above the comb of the roof, and shall be coped with well-burnt terra cotta, stone, cast iron or cement. In all buildings hereafter erected the stone or brickwork of all flues and the chimney shafts of all furnaces, boilers, bakers' ovens, large cooking ranges and laundry stoves and all flues used for similar purposes shall be at least eight inches in thickness, with the exception of smoke flues; which are lined with fire-clay lining or cast iron. These may be four inches in thickness, but this shall not apply to metal stacks of boiler houses where properly constructed and arranged at a safe distance from wood or other inflammable material. All buildings hereafter erected shall have smoke flues constructed either in walls of eight inches thickness or with smoke flues lined with cast iron or fire-clay lining, the walls of which may be four inches in thickness, the lining to commence at the bottom of the flue or at the throat of the fireplace and be carried up continuously the entire height of the flue. All joints shall be closely fitted and the lining shall be built in as the flue or flues are carried up. All chimneys which shall be dangerous in any manner whatever shall be repaired and made safe or taken down.

Sec 26. Hanging Flues.—Hanging flues (that is, for the reception of stovepipes built otherwise than from the ground) shall be allowed only when built according to the following specifications: The flue shall be built four inches thick of the best hard brick laid on flat side, never on edge, extending at least three feet above the roof and always above the comb of the roof, lined on the inside with cement plaster, cast-iron or fire-clay flue lining from the bottom of the flue to the extreme height of the flue, and ends of all such lining pipes being made to fit close together and the lining pipe being built in as the flue is carried up. If the flue starts at the ceiling and receives the stovepipe vertically it shall be hung on iron stirrups, bent to come flush with the bottom of ceiling joints. All flues shall have a proper and sufficient support at their base, and in no case shall they be supported even partially by contact in passing through partitions, ceilings or roofs. Flues not lined as above shall be built from the ground eight inches thick of the best hard brick, with the joints struck smooth on the inside. The flues of every building shall be properly cleaned and all rubbish removed and the flues left smooth on the inside upon the completion of the building.

Sec 27. No Stovepipe to Pass through Wood; Penalty for Violation of this Section.—No stovepipe shall pass through any roof, window or weatherboarding, and no stovepipe in any building with wood or combustible floors, ceilings or partitions shall enter any flue unless such pipe shall be at least twelve inches from such floors, ceilings or partitions, unless same is properly protected by metal shield, in which case the distance shall not be less than six inches. In all cases where stovepipes pass through wooden partitions of any kind or other woodwork, they shall be guarded by either a double collar of metal with at least three inches air space and holes for ventilation or by a soapstone or burnt-clay ring not less than one inch in thickness extending through the partition or other woodwork. If any chimney flue or heating apparatus on any premises shall, in the opinion of the inspector, endanger the premises, the inspector shall at once notify in writing the owner or agent of said premises. If such owner or agent fails for a period of forty-eight hours after the service of said notice upon him to make such chimney, flue or heating apparatus safe, he shall be liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each day that the condition remains uncorrected.

Sec 28. Electrical Wiring of Houses, How Done; Fees for Inspection.—The electrical wiring of houses or buildings for lighting or other purposes shall conform to the regulations prescribed by the organization known as the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation controlling same to allow any electrical current for lighting or other purposes to be turned on in any building without first having had an inspection of the wiring made and a certificate of the same issued by the inspector. Such inspection shall be made to the city electrician, who shall certify the same by the inspector in writing, who may thereupon issue the certificate.

No alterations shall be made in the wiring of any building unless a certificate shall be obtained from the Inspector approving the same.

Sec 29. Roof Covering.—Every building hereafter erected within the fire limits shall have on incombustible roof covering, and no existing wooden shingle roof, if damaged more than 25 per cent, shall be renewed or repaired with other than incombustible roof covering.

Sec 30. Ashes, Oily Rags, Unslaked Lime, etc.; How Carried For.—Ashes shall be removed in metal vessels, and unless moved by city drays, shall be stored in brick, stone or metal receptacle or removed by owner to a place not less than fifteen feet from any wooden building or fence. Oily rags and waste shall be kept in closed metal vessels and shall be removed from building daily. Unslaked lime shall not be left exposed to the weather in or near a building. Stoves or ranges shall not be nearer to unprotected woodwork than two feet, and the floors under them shall be protected by metal or sand box.

Sec 31. Storage of Explosives, Inflammable Liquids and Matches.—Explosives, inflammable liquids and matches may be kept within the incorporate limits only in such quantities and in such manner as shall not cause an increase in the insurance rate on any property affected thereby.

Sec 32. The construction of any or all buildings not provided for in this ordinance shall be in accord with the construction required by some recognized authority approved by the Insurance Commissioner.

Sec 33. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed. Passed and ratified in Council assembled and by the authority of the same this tenth (10th) day of February, A D 1916. W R SCOTT, Mayor.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
